Congress Is in No Hurry About Johnson Proposals

$33.4 Million More State Need in 1964

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Approval of $33.4 million in additional spending for the current year will be among the first steps by the Legislature when it begins regular working sessions on Monday.

Gov. Rockefeller has submitted the annual deficiency budget asking that amount for needs not forseen or not fully estimated when the main budget was passed 10 months ago.

The biggest appropriation sought is $13 million to cover welfare expenses running ahead of estimates.

Rockefeller said in submitting the deficiency budget Wednesday that economies in some programs in recent months would offset higher spending in others.

As a result, he said the state budget for the fiscal year ending March 31 is expected to fall below the original estimate of $2,830,000,000 (b). He did not predict the final total.

The Legislature convened Wednesday for its 1964 session. Rockefeller's sixth annual message was the chief order of business.

These were other developments at the capitol:

—Rockefeller prepared to turn again from state concerns to his campaign for the Republican nomination for president. He will speak in Manchester, N.H., tonight, then fly to Washington, D.C. to speak at the National Press Club Friday.

— The Legislature approved unanimously a resolution giving official standing to a citizens' committee that will draft proposals for strengthening the legislative code of ethics, which is intended to prevent conflicts between the public and private interests of lawmakers.

— Assemblyman A. Bruce Manley of Chautauqua County, a leader in the rank-and-file revolt against Rockefeller's budget last year, was appointed to the new post of Assembly majority whip.

— Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino called GOP majority assemblymen to a closed-door conference today to discuss, among other things, how to speed the work of the session.

—As expected, the State AFL-CIO announced opposition to Rockefeller's proposal for repeal of the state's full-crew laws, which mandate the size of railroad-train crews and frequently are criticized as a source of "featherbedding."

In addition to the extra funds sought for public relief, Rockefeller's deficiency budget contained these other significant requests:

—$6 million to complete purchase of land in downtown Albany, where the state will build a complex of official buildings and cultural facilities.

—A $4.8-million loan to The State University Construction Fund, to allow it to continue financing designs of new college buildings.

—$4.6 million to complete construction of the New York State building at the World's Fair, raising the total cost to $12.6 million. A spokesman for Rockefeller said it had been hoped the original $5-million appropriation would have covered

Posts Are Proposed For Watch

Would Be Guard Against Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is drafting a proposal for a system of international military observation posts to be set up on both sides of the Iron Curtain in Europe as a safeguard against surprise attack.

It is understood officials are thinking about proposing 20 to 30 posts on each side at key transportation centers where unusual military activity by either Soviet or U.S. forces might be detected.

President Johnson announced in his State of the Union message Wednesday that "we shall make new proposals" on disarament issues when the 17-nation disarmament conference reopens negotiations at Geneva in two weeks.

Work Going Forward

Work is going forward on the proposals in the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency under the immediate direction of William C. Foster, agency director. He is expected to head the U.S. delegation in the new round of negotiations beginning Jan. 21.

Officials have said the U.S. proposals will deal with familiar issues in new ways which they hope will enlarge the possibility of agreement with the Soviet Union.

Meanwhile, disarmament experts of the United States, Britain, Canada, and Italy are undertaking consultations aimed at coordinating their policies. France, whose chair in the conference is empty because President Charles de Gaulle decided not to participate, is an observer in the consultations.

Three Blocs

The Western Allies form one bloc in the Geneva conference, Eastern European Communist countries another and a group of smaller nations the third.

The observation posts idea has been talked about by both Russia and the United States for several years. U.S. policymakers consider it one of the most hopeful possibilities and

Kennedy Is Continuing In His Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy says he will stay on as attorney general and do whatever President Johnson and the Democratic party ask him to in the presidential campaign.

Beyond that, the future of the 38-year-old brother of slain President John F. Kennedy remains uncharted.

"I'll certainly stay on through the election," he said in an interview. "I don't know what I'm going to do when that's over."

Kennedy deftly engineered his brother's successful campaign in 1960. Would he do as much for Johnson, who fought John Kennedy for the Democratic nomination that year?

Available for Campaign

"I'll be available to work in the campaign," he replied instantly. "Nobody's said anything to me about it yet, but I'll do whatever anybody—the President or the Democratic National Committee — feels will be helpful."

Kennedy, until today, had made no statements for publication about his plans since an assassin took his brother's life in Dallas Nov. 22.

He looks tanned, healthy and more relaxed than he has since that fateful day. He has had time to rest, ski, be with his family and collect his thoughts.

The man who settled into the high-backed red leather chair in the fifth-floor chambers of the Justice Department had a quiet, subdued manner. But he was quick to smile, ready to laugh at a quip as he answered questions.

He was noncommittal when asked about a recent Associated Press survey which showed him second favorite—behind Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota—for the vice presidential nomination.

Pleased With Poll

"My one interest now is being attorney general," he said. However, he was obviously pleased that the Democratic county chairmen canvassed in the poll thought so well of him.

He was more outgoing about recent reports that President Johnson has his eye on Kennedy's brother-in-law, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver,

Programs Rough if Cuts Made

March 1 Best Bet On Tax Cut Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congress pressed by President Johnson to cut taxes, enact civil rights legislation and war on poverty is unlimbering slowly.

In a 41-minute State of the Union speech interrupted a record 80 times by applause, Johnson told the legislators Wednesday the nation can move forward under a new $97.9 billion budget to provide the greatest federal impetus to social welfare in history.

Some Skepticism

Reaction to the President's pledge of less spending and fewer federal employes was generally favorable. But it was tinged with bipartisan skepticism that the series of health, education, housing and job training programs he proposed could be carried out under a reduced budget.

Several Republicans predicted there would be a wide "performance gap" between what the President asked and Congress produces.

Urged by Johnson to move expeditiously, the Senate Finance Committee stepped up slightly the ponderous pace of its consideration of the House-passed $11 billion tax cut the President said is needed now "to keep the country moving."

2 Provisions Approved

It approved two provisions: a reduction in corporate rates from the current top of 52 per cent to 50 per cent for 1964 and to 48 per cent in 1965; a minimum standard deduction of $200 for the taxpayer plus $100 for each exemption including himself.

But March 1 appears a better bet for completion of congressional action than the Feb. 1 date he spoke of.

The House Rules Committee already had scheduled a start of hearings today on the civil rights bill Johnson said poses a "moral issue."

The measure probably will reach the House floor early next month. Passage there would send it to the Senate, where it would have to await disposition of the tax bill.

Promises Fight

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., an old political ally, put Johnson on notice that he will face an all-out fight from Southerners determined to try to filibuster the measure to death in the Senate.

Johnson's call for action on health care for the elderly, financed through Social Security, will get the attention of the House Ways and Means Committed beginning Jan. 20. But the cards presently are stacked against the administration on this isssue and 1964 approval is regarded as highly doubtful.

The President got some assurances of support for his decision to cut back by 25 per cent production of enriched uranium, used in nuclear weapons. Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said he regards the action as "both practical and wise."

Icy Highways Snarl Area, Schools Close

A combination of rain and snow and freezing rain covering most of Ulster County early this morning resulted in the closing of all schools and created traffic tie-ups in all parts of the county.

Police authorities reported minor traffic accidents in many areas in what was described as one of the worst traffic snarls on main arteries in many years.

Sanders Out

A spokesman at Ulster County Highway Department said sanding crews were out at 7:30 a. m. covering hills and intersections on county and state highways. The county department is responsible for all state highways except Route 28 and Route 9W south of Kingston.

Thomas Mayone of Ulster County Sheriff's Department said traffic on Route 9W between Saugerties and Kingston was backed up for miles from the PVI and Glenerie hills. East Chester Street by-pass from Albany Avenue and 209-9W intersection to the city line was blocked by cars halted in both lanes. One car was off the road in a snowbank.

Saugerties Village streets were icy but passable. Hill Street leaving the village at the south was well sanded at 7 a. m. and no tie-up was reported there.

County Investigator Mayone also reported traffic tie-ups on Route 28 near Rudi's Gas Station and on a hill along Route 32 at Flatbush.

3-Car Crash

A minor mishap involving three cars was reported by the Sheriff's Office at the intersection of Zanhook Road and Hurley Avenue. No one was reported injured.

Town of Saugerties Highway Department reported this morning that sanding operations started at 7 a. m. and by 10 o'clock seven loads of sand had been dispersed on the town highways.

A traffic jam was reported on Route 212 bridge over the Thruway with cars unable to navigate a slight incline.

Saugerties Central School buses complicated traffic conditions when they started to pick up school children and then were ordered to return them to their homes. Saugerties was one of the last to close its schools with the anouncements coming after 7 a. m.

Schools Are Closed

Kingston, Onteora, Rondout and Columbia County schools had already announced school closings before 7 o'clock.

State highways coming into the city from the west—Route 28 and Route 375 from Woodstock were reported in hazardous condition during the heavy traffic periods between 7 and 9 a. m.

Business establishments along Route 375 reported sanding crews started operations through West Hurley at 8:40 a. m.

Weather forecasts Wednesday night predicted extreme weather conditions in the Hudson Valley. The Albany Weather Bureau's early report said moderating temperatures would break the ice

GEORGE E. YERRY

Homes Authority Elects Yerry as Leader 10th Time

Local labor leader, George E. Yerry Jr., was elected for his tenth term as chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority during the annual meeting Wednesday. Other officers elected were Max Mones, vice - chairman; former Supervisor Benjamin A. Storms, treasurer; John A. DeGasperis, secretary; Robert Slover, assistant secretary. All these members serve without pay.

Former Mayor Frederick H. Stang was reappointed as counsel to the Authority. Alexander Yosman has been serving as executive director of the Authority since 1953 when Colonial Gardens was first opened.

Report of Yosman

Yosman reported that 15 families moved in 1963 of which eight purchased homes. Total moveouts since the project opened in August 1953 is 183. Of this total 93 purchased homes. Since 1953 there have been no rent or vacancy losses. Yosman reported that as of December 31, 1963, "not one cent of uncollected rents or charges are outstanding."

It was reported that $15,898.00 has been earned on reserve investments since the fund was set up in September of 1953. Presently the Authority has invested in governmental securities and local banks $77,000.00. These funds are used to keep the premises in good condition so that they will remain so when the development is turned over to the city at the end of its contract period.

Yosman reported that $238,775

Ulster Sewer Job Target Date Feb. 5

Engineer reports to the town board of the Town of Ulster at the regular monthly meeting Wednesday night, indicated that work on the Whittier Sewer District is rapidly nearing completion and that there is a target date of February 5, for completion.

The report indicated Era Electric Construction Corporation has completed 99 per cent of its contract and has a target date of February 1, for completion of its contract. Only remaining work to be done is installation of two sewage pumps, chlorination pump and installation of a chlorination heater. As a result of the report the board authorized a third payment on the contract of $879.75.

Anthony Costanzi Corporation reported 88 per cent of its contract on the sewer plant has been completed. Remaining to be done in some outside work such as ground work, seeding, fences, etc., which cannot be completed until warmer weather. As a result of this report a fourth payment of $11,789.50 was authorized.

Winchell Gets Job

Work has progressed sufficiently on the job so that with arrival of certain small mechanical equipment which will be then installed the contract will be completed by the middle of February.

Abram Winchell, who has qualified under a state examination, was appointed superintendent of the sewage plant.

An application was received from the Planning Board containing a motion passed by that board at a recent meeting, suggesting the change in the names of certain portions of streets in the town.

Names Suggested

Among the suggestions was that the southern portion of the Neighborhood Road running from 9-W which was cut off by the arterial route, be named Old Neighborhood Road.

It was also suggested that the

Would Allow Bars To Serve Drinks, Cut Food Ruling

NEW YORK (AP) — New York State should issue tavern licenses to allow bars and grills to serve liquor without also being required to serve food on a large scale, a state commission recommended today.

The Moreland Commission on the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law, in its second report to Gov. Rockefeller, proposed two types of on-premises liquor licenses.

One—the only such license now issued—would be for restaurants that are regular eating places. The other would be for bars and grills, which could be required to serve only simple food items such as sandwiches, soups and coffee.

Other Proposals

Bowling alleys and legitimate theaters would be permitted to obtain tavern licenses under the commission's recommendations.

The commission concluded that the present requirement of the State Liquor Authority that all premises serving liquor by the drink be "bona fide restaurants" has been largely disregarded. The 24-page report stated that the law:

". . .Has failed to serve any constructive purpose, has led to deceptive practices by licensees, and offers an unnecessary opportunity for shakedowns and petty corruptions."

Would Clarify All

"The creation of two separate licenses to replace the present restaurant license would clarify for all concerned the exact nature of the business," the commission concluded.

Elimination of the food requirement, the commission said, "is unlikely to lead to intemperance or a return to the so-called evils of the old - time saloon." Paying of lip service to the requirement has created an atmosphere of hypocrisy, it stated, that "must be cleared away."

The commission said it heard no evidence to indicate the mere service of food had any relation to the orderliness of drinking patrons.

Under present law, the Liquor Authority grants restaurant licenses only when the applicant submits an affidavit that receipts from the sale of food will "clearly exceed" receipts from the sale of alcoholic beverages. This leads to cheating and padded food operations, the commission found.

Nixon Is Willing To Help GOP Get Best Candidate

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, apparently detecting growing sentiment that he should run again for president, says he is "willing to do everything necessary" to see to it the Republicans nominate their most popular and best qualified man this fall.

He insists there has been no change in his position that he is not a candidate, but it was his first indication that events might put him in this year's race.

Must Name Strongest

"I will make any decisions in the future," he said in an interview, "based on my primary conviction that it is vital to get new leadership for this country and that the Republican party must nominate its strongest man.

"I will say this—and I haven't said it before—I will make any sacrifice to see that that is done."

The former vice president, who is 51 years old today, became a partner Jan. 1 in a New York law firm now named Nixon, Mudge, Rose, Guthrie & Alexander.

He'd Take Risk

"It is a lucrative position for me," he said, "and some believe I wouldn't take any more risks. That's bunk."

Interviewed in his office, Nixon said:

"I believe that any man who has become a public figure belongs to the public and as long as they want him to lead, to lead. But leadership doesn't always involve being a candidate.

His Feelings

"I feel that having been the (Republican) candidate in 1960 and having received the votes of more than 34 million people, I have a responsibility to them. I have to judge what that responsibility is and how to meet it.

"I also feel the Republican

Johnson Outliberalized All Liberals Since 1932: Barry

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, courting Republicans in the nation's first primary state, says President Johnson "outliberaled every liberal since 1932" in his State of the Union messsage to Congress.

"I didn't think he could do it but he did," said Goldwater, campaigning in New Hampshire for the Republican presidential nomination.

Today, Goldwater completes the opening stint of what he says will be at least a 19-day campaign for the state's March 10 presidential primary. He starts the third day of this campaign trip with a morning news conference, and has promised a detailed statement on Johnson's message.

After listening to part of the speech while parked on a snowy road in Amherst, Goldwater said:

"I would say that he's suddenly become all things to all people. It was my impression that he out-Roosevelted Roosevelt, out-Kennedyed Kennedy and even made Truman look like some kind of piker."

Goldwater said Johnson wants the government to move into almost every field of American life, and added that he is running for president to put a stop to that.

Goldwater took his conservative crusade into living rooms, church halls and into a school gymnasium Wednesday.

Police Ask Help as Drug Price Hike Breeds Crime

Recent arrests here on narcotics charges indicate a sizable traffic, and conditions elsewhere indicate addicts are now paying high prices.

It is known that heroin, cocaine and marijuana have been sold locally, and probably continue to be.

Authorities ask cooperation of parents and the public in supplying information, which could assist them in their continued investigation. Anyone with helpful information is asked to contact the district attorney's office or local police.

12 Arrests Made

Months of investigation have brought 12 arrests to date, and more are expected.

One writer with knowledge of traffic in drugs, Jimmy Breslin, of the New York Herald Tribune, in his Wednesday column noted that large grabs of narcotics in shipment, has resulted in a hike in prices, especially in New York, and alert police action, as has happened here, puts on more pressure.

Prices Breed Crime

"To begin with," Breslin wrote "the price of heroin is now astronomical. A kilo (about two pounds) which usually costs $12,000 now is being sold for anywhere from $18,000 to $20,000. A $3 bag now cost a user $8. A $5 bag costs him $10. Since nearly all dope addicts are incapable of holding a job, they are going to have to do a staggering amount of stealing to meet these premium prices."

Breslin cited a grab by French authorities and U.S. Treasury agents of 64 kilos of heroin due to be shipped to New York last October, and another grab about a month later of 66 kilos at the Mexican border.

These catches, he said, brought trouble for users and pushers, and the situation brings new and gruesome crime.

Estimate Saving On Nuclear Goods Of $50 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration calculates that its cutback in production of nuclear weapon raw material will save about $50 million in the next fiscal year, more later — and eventually end several thousand jobs.

The cutback was announced Wednesday by President Johnson in his State of the Union message and explained to newsmen later by Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Liberals Pressing For More State Action on Needs

NEW YORK (AP) — "In a year of expanding urgent public needs we cannot accept shrinking state effort or mere satisfaction with state efforts," the Liberal Party says.

This was its comment on Gov. Rockefeller's "state of the state" message to the Legislature Wednesday.

The party described the Republican governor's speech as a "more accurate projection of a desired national image than a reflection of the real problems of New York State."

". . .Making no tax raise an ultimate goal in itself, prevents action on the most urgent social questions," the Liberal Party statement said.

Rockefeller, who is a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, has pledged no state tax increase in the next year.

A minor mishap involving three cars was reported by the Sheriff's Office at the intersection of Zanhook Road and Hurley Avenue. No one was reported injured.

Town of Saugerties Highway Department reported this morning that sanding operations started at 7 a. m. and by 10 o'clock seven loads of sand had been dispersed on the town highways.

A traffic jam was reported on Route 212 bridge over the Thruway with cars unable to navigate a slight incline.

Saugerties Central School buses complicated traffic conditions when they started to pick up school children and then were ordered to return them to their homes. Saugerties was one of the last to close its schools with the anouncements coming after 7 a. m.

Schools Are Closed

Kingston, Onteora, Rondout and Columbia County schools had already announced school closings before 7 o'clock.

State highways coming into the city from the west- Route 28 and Route 375 from Woodstock were reported in hazardous condition during the heavy traffic periods between 7 and 9 a. m.

Business establishments along Route 375 reported sanding crews started operations through West Hurley at 8:40 a. m.

GEORGE E. YERRY

Local labor leader, George E. Yerry Jr., was elected for his tenth term as chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority during the annual meeting Wednesday. Other officers elected were Max Mones, vice - chairman; former Supervisor Benjamin A. Storms, treasurer; John A. DeGasperis, secretary; Robert Slover, assistant secretary. All these members serve without pay.

Former Mayor Frederick H. Stang was reappointed as counsel to the Authority. Alexander Yosman has been serving as executive director of the Authority since 1953 when Colonial Gardens was first opened.

Yosman reported that 15 families moved in 1963 of which eight purchased homes. Total moveouts since the project opened in August 1953 is 183. Of this total 93 purchased homes. Since 1953 there have been no rent or vacancy losses. Yosman reported that as of December 31, 1963, "not one cent of uncollected rents or charges are outstanding."

It was reported that $15,898.00 has been earned on reserve investments since the fund was set up in September of 1953. Presently the Authority has invested in governmental securities and local banks $77,000.00. These funds are used to keep the premises in good condition so that they will remain so when the development is turned over to the city at the end of its contract period.

Yosman reported that $238,775

Ulster Sewer Job Target Date Feb. 5

Engineer reports to the town board of the Town of Ulster at the regular monthly meeting Wednesday night, indicated that work on the Whittier Sewer District is rapidly nearing completion and that there is a target date of February 5, for completion.

The report indicated Era Electric Construction Corporation has completed 99 per cent of its contract and has a target date of February 1, for completion of its contract. Only remaining work to be done is installation of two sewage pumps, chlorination pump and installation of a chlorination heater. As a result of the report the board authorized a third payment on the contract of $879.75.

Anthony Costanzi Corporation reported 88 per cent of its contract on the sewer plant has been completed. Remaining to be done in some outside work such as ground work, seeding, fences, etc., which cannot be completed until warmer weather. As a result of this report a fourth payment of $11,789.50 was authorized.

Winchell Gets Job

Work has progressed sufficiently on the job so that with arrival of certain small mechanical equipment which will be then installed the contract will be completed by the middle of February.

Abram Winchell, who has qualified under a state examination, was appointed superintendent of the sewage plant.

An application was received from the Planning Board containing a motion passed by that board at a recent meeting, suggesting the change in the names of certain portions of streets in the town.

Names Suggested

Among the suggestions was that the southern portion of the Neighborhood Road running from 9-W which was cut off by the arterial route, be named Old Neighborhood Road.

It was also suggested that the

Would Allow Bars To Serve Drinks, Cut Food Ruling

NEW YORK (AP) — New York State should issue tavern licenses to allow bars and grills to serve liquor without also being required to serve food on a large scale, a state commission recommended today.

The Moreland Commission on the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law, in its second report to Gov. Rockefeller, proposed two types of on-premises liquor licenses.

One—the only such license now issued—would be for restaurants that are regular eating places. The other would be for bars and grills, which could be required to serve only simple food items such as sandwiches, soups and coffee.

Other Proposals

Bowling alleys and legitimate theaters would be permitted to obtain tavern licenses under the commission's recommendations.

The commission concluded that the present requirement of the State Liquor Authority that all premises serving liquor by the drink be "bona fide restaurants" has been largely disregarded. The 24-page report stated that the law:

". . .Has failed to serve any constructive purpose, has led to deceptive practices by licensees, and offers an unnecessary opportunity for shakedowns and petty corruptions."

Would Clarify All

"The creation of two separate licenses to replace the present restaurant license would clarify for all concerned the exact nature of the business," the commission concluded.

Elimination of the food requirement, the commission said, "is unlikely to lead to intemperance or a return to the so-called evils of the old - time saloon." Paying of lip service to the requirement has created an atmosphere of hypocrisy, it stated, that "must be cleared away."

The commission said it heard no evidence to indicate the mere service of food had any relation to the orderliness of drinking patrons.

Under present law, the Liquor Authority grants restaurant licenses only when the applicant submits an affidavit that receipts from the sale of food will "clearly exceed" receipts from the sale of alcoholic beverages.

This leads to cheating and padded food operations, the commission found.

Nixon Is Willing To Help GOP Get Best Candidate

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, apparently detecting growing sentiment that he should run again for president, says he is "willing to do everything necessary" to see to it the Republicans nominate their most popular and best qualified man this fall.

He insists there has been no change in his position that he is not a candidate, but it was his first indication that events might put him in this year's race.

Must Name Strongest

"I will make any decisions in the future," he said in an interview, "based on my primary conviction that it is vital to get new leadership for this country and that the Republican party must nominate its strongest man.

"I will say this—and I haven't said it before—I will make any sacrifice to see that that is done."

The former vice president, who is 51 years old today, became a partner Jan. 1 in a New York law firm now named Nixon, Mudge, Rose, Guthrie & Alexander.

He'd Take Risk

"It is a lucrative position for me," he said, "and some believe I wouldn't take any more risks. That's bunk."

Interviewed in his office, Nixon said:

"I believe that any man who has become a public figure belongs to the public and as long as they want him to lead, to lead. But leadership doesn't always involve being a candidate.

His Feelings

"I feel that having been the (Republican) candidate in 1960 and having received the votes of more than 34 million people, I have a responsibility to them. I have to judge what that responsibility is and how to meet it.

"I also feel the Republican

Johnson Outliberalized All Liberals Since 1932: Barry

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, courting Republicans in the nation's first primary state, says President Johnson "outliberaled every liberal since 1932" in his State of the Union messsage to Congress.

"I didn't think he could do it but he did," said Goldwater, campaigning in New Hampshire for the Republican presidential nomination.

Today, Goldwater completes the opening stint of what he says will be at least a 19-day campaign for the state's March 10 presidential primary. He starts the third day of this campaign trip with a morning news conference, and has promised a detailed statement on Johnson's message.

After listening to part of the speech while parked on a snowy road in Amherst, Goldwater said:

"I would say that he's suddenly become all things to all people. It was my impression that he out-Roosevelted Roosevelt, out-Kennedyed Kennedy and even made Truman look like some kind of piker."

Goldwater said Johnson wants the government to move into almost every field of American life, and added that he is running for president to put a stop to that.

Goldwater took his conservative crusade into living rooms, church halls and into a school gymnasium Wednesday.

Police Ask Help as Drug Price Hike Breeds Crime

Recent arrests here on narcotics charges indicate a sizable traffic, and conditions elsewhere indicate addicts are now paying high prices.

It is known that heroin, cocaine and marijuana have been sold locally, and probably continue to be.

Authorities ask cooperation of parents and the public in supplying information, which could assist them in their continued investigation. Anyone with helpful information is asked to contact the district attorney's office or local police.

12 Arrests Made

Months of investigation have brought 12 arrests to date, and more are expected.

One writer with knowledge of traffic in drugs, Jimmy Breslin, of the New York Herald Tribune, in his Wednesday column noted that large grabs of narcotics in shipment, has resulted in a hike in prices, especially in New York, and alert police action, as has happened here, puts on more pressure.

Prices Breed Crime

"To begin with," Breslin wrote "the price of heroin is now astronomical. A kilo (about two pounds) which usually costs $12,000 now is being sold for anywhere from $18,000 to $20,000. A $3 bag now cost a user $8. A $5 bag costs him $10. Since nearly all dope addicts are incapable of holding a job, they are going to have to do a staggering amount of stealing to meet these premium prices."

Breslin cited a grab by French authorities and U.S. Treasury agents of 64 kilos of heroin due to be shipped to New York last October, and another grab about a month later of 66 kilos at the Mexican border.

These catches, he said, brought trouble for users and pushers, and the situation brings new and gruesome crime.

Estimate Saving On Nuclear Goods Of $50 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration calculates that its cutback in production of nuclear weapon raw material will save about $50 million in the next fiscal year, more later — and eventually end several thousand jobs.

The cutback was announced Wednesday by President Johnson in his State of the Union message and explained to newsmen later by Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The United States may soon have to choose between watching the Communists win in South Viet Nam or sending in major U.S. combat units.

A possible middle ground is that Saigon's new military government will recover the initiative from the enemy guerrilla army.

Liberals Pressing For More State Action on Needs

NEW YORK (AP) — "In a year of expanding urgent public needs we cannot accept shrinking state effort or mere satisfaction with state efforts," the Liberal Party says.

This was its comment on Gov. Rockefeller's "state of the state" message to the Legislature Wednesday.

The party described the Republican governor's speech as a "more accurate projection of a desired national image than a reflection of the real problems of New York State."

". . .Making no tax raise an ultimate goal in itself, prevents action on the most urgent social questions," the Liberal Party statement said.

Produce at County Farm to Supply Local Institutions

Residents of the Ulster County Home at New Paltz and other county institutions will be supplied with a considerable amount of produce raised in the County Farm at New Paltz as a result of a good year at the farm.

Approximately $14,325.11 worth of farm produce was raised at the farm during the 1963 season and in addition there was some $577.90 worth of produce sold from the farm.

Recently Inspected

An inspection of the County Farm made on November 26, last, by Walter Kahabka, farm advisor in the State Department of Agriculture and Markets reveals that the 280-acre County Farm, of which 200 acres are tillable, is well kept and has produced a wide variety of produce.

During 1963 a four-acre garden was maintained, 52 acres were in corn, 4 acres in potatoes, 5½ acres in wheat, 50 acres of hay and the balance in pasture for the herd of 49 head of Herefords.

The report states that crops were generally good but that an irrigation system would materially help in garden and potato productions and it recommended that such a system be installed and that soil tests be made to determine the required amount of fertilizers.

The report states that the inmates were well kept, that the premises was found to be clean and in good order and all animals were clean and apparently in good health.

Has Swine Herd

There were 28 head of swine on the farm, none of which are fed garbage. The main feed is derived from farm grown produce. The farm has a flock of 300 laying birds, housed in a well-lighted, ventilated building.

Considerable of the garden vegetables raised on the farm are stored for winter and others were canned at Wallkill Prison for Ulster County Home and institution use.

It was recommended that a good used blower for filling the silo be acquired. All buildings were reported well painted and in good repair.

The report states that Farm Manager, Louis Ackert, on the job for 19 years, "takes pride in doing a good job and is interested in suggestions."

A copy of the report has been filed with the Board of Supervisors and with Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons.

Auto Repairmen Find Women Are Shrewd About Jobs

CHICAGO (AP)—If the family car needs fixing, better let the wife bargain for the repair job.

An $80,000 survey released Wednesday apparently confirmed what automobile repairmen have suspected all along: Women drivers are harder to deal with than men.

And, says the survey, it's all because women don't understand things mechanical. But most of them freely discuss the repair job and auto parts.

The study was conducted by the Automobile Service Industry Association and the Automotive Advertiser's Council to determine why people buy auto parts and how they respond to specific advertising, said Al Joseph, study committee chairman.

"Many women do not feel any shame at their ignorance of things mechanical," explained Joseph. "They, therefore, have no reluctance to question their repair outlet on price, work done, the reason for a repair and the like."

But men, who are supposedly mechanically inclined, "are ashamed of their lack of knowledge and try to hide it," Joseph said.

It's because of this, said Joseph, that men are easier to do businesss with.

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A few years ago the idea of a third-term governor seemed preposterous in Arkansas, which had a 50-year tradition of "two terms and out."

Now Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a mountaineer whose name once was a symbol of resistance to school desegregation, talks like a man who will seek a sixth term. He says he will announce his plans next month.

Hinges on Poll

His decision apparently will hinge on a private poll, a device he uses frequently to sound public opinion.

Sensing possible public distaste for desegregation, Faubus used National Guard troops to block integration of Central High School in Little Rock in 1957. Arkansas responded by breaking its third-term tradition and gave him 70 per cent of the vote in the 1958 Democratic primary. In Arkansas, the primary usually decides the governor's race.

Now he has held the office nine years and the hard core of his opposition is weary from fruitless battles to oust him in 1960 and 1962. His foes are wondering not so much about whether he will run as where a worthy opponent can be found.

So far only State Rep. Hardy Croxton of Rogers, a proponent of government reform, has demonstrated a desire to oppose Faubus.

But the names of former Gov. Sid McMath and former U.S. Rep. Dale Alford, two of his five opponents in 1962, are mentioned often enough to make Faubus take critical stabs at them.

Projects Road Work

Faubus has talked, for the first time since 1958, of what he will do if he is re-elected. His main platform, he said, will be a rural road construction program.

His last promise was negative—that he would fight school integration. He kept his word by closing Little Rock schools during the 1958-59 term and by proposing the school closing amendment through the legislature.

By 1960 he had all but dropped integration as a campaign topic and he ignored it in 1962. Both years he campaigned mainly on government efficiency and economic advancement of the state.

Most observers believe voters are sufficiently satisfied to elect him again this year — under a rural road banner or not banner at all.

Plane Misses House

SPENCER, N.Y. (AP) — A single-engined airplane narrowly missed an occupied house, clipped a utility pole and crashed in a field Tuesday near this Tioga County community south of Ithaca. The pilot escaped with facial cuts.

Thomas Gifft, 27, of Redondo, Calif., was treated at Tompkins County Hospital. His parents' home is in Ithaca.

State Police said the plane, enroute from Washington, D.C., to Ithaca, apparently ran out of gasoline.

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A few years ago the idea of a third-term governor seemed preposterous in Arkansas, which had a 50-year tradition of "two terms and out."

Now Gov. Orval E. Faubus, a mountaineer whose name once was a symbol of resistance to school desegregation, talks like a man who will seek a sixth term. He says he will announce his plans next month.

Hinges on Poll

His decision apparently will hinge on a private poll, a device he uses frequently to sound public opinion.

Sensing possible public distaste for desegregation, Faubus used National Guard troops to block integration of Central High School in Little Rock in 1957. Arkansas responded by breaking its third-term tradition and gave him 70 per cent of the vote in the 1958 Democratic primary. In Arkansas, the primary usually decides the governor's race.

Now he has held the office nine years and the hard core of his opposition is weary from fruitless battles to oust him in 1960 and 1962. His foes are wondering not so much about whether he will run as where a worthy opponent can be found.

So far only State Rep. Hardy Croxton of Rogers, a proponent of government reform, has demonstrated a desire to oppose Faubus.

But the names of former Gov. Sid McMath and former U.S. Rep. Dale Alford, two of his five opponents in 1962, are mentioned often enough to make Faubus take critical stabs at them.

Projects Road Work

Faubus has talked, for the first time since 1958, of what he will do if he is re-elected. His main platform, he said, will be a rural road construction program.

His last promise was negative—that he would fight school integration. He kept his word by closing Little Rock schools during the 1958-59 term and by proposing the school closing amendment through the legislature.

By 1960 he had all but dropped integration as a campaign topic and he ignored it in 1962. Both years he campaigned mainly on government efficiency and economic advancement of the state.

Most observers believe voters are sufficiently satisfied to elect him again this year — under a rural road banner or not banner at all.

Plane Misses House

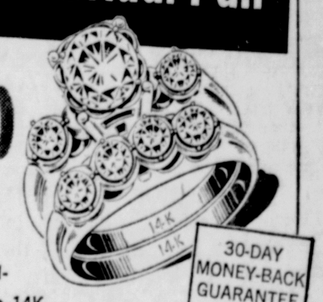

SPENCER, N.Y. (AP) — A single-engined airplane narrowly missed an occupied house, clipped a utility pole and crashed in a field Tuesday near this Tioga County community south of Ithaca. The pilot escaped with facial cuts.

Thomas Gifft, 27, of Redondo, Calif., was treated at Tompkins County Hospital. His parents' home is in Ithaca.

MORE HOPE FOR PEACE

Both President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev have kicked off the new year with calls for intensified effort to achieve world peace. Such talk is expected of heads of state at this season. The tone of what is now being said does appear to offer slightly more hope than usual of making some progress away from the prophet Jeremiah's cry of "peace, peace; when there is no peace."

Khrushchev's proposal of a treaty agreement not to use force to settle territorial disputes does not offer much promise of the sort of peace breakthrough that President Johnson says he will strive for. Situations in various parts of the world differ so widely that no blanket pledge of this kind could sensibly be accepted; any pact would have to take such differences into account. As the State Department has said, the Khrushchev statement is disappointing.

There is merit in such a proposal, however, as a kind of springboard for more detailed and substantive discussion of means of easing tensions and building on the foundation of the nuclear test ban treaty. There is an element of hope in the very fact that Khrushchev did not merely utter the usual platitudes about the need for world peace, but made a proposal that can now be gone into.

The key to improvement in international relations is to be found in Mr. Johnson's declaration that "the time for simply talking about peace . . . has passed," and that further steps should be taken in 1964. To this end, it is encouraging that the President has pledged himself to vigorous effort and has renounced any idea of pussyfooting on this touchy issue because of the coming election. If he follows through on that pledge, and keeps prodding at Khrushchev to get down to specifics on this most important world problem, some measure of progress can be hoped for.

400TH BIRTHDAY ....

The year 1964 will be notable for at least one thing in addition to the presidential election. It will mark the 400th birthday of a certain rather widely known playwright and poet, one William Shakespeare.

The anniversary will occasion a great outpouring of dramatic tributes to Shakespeare. His plays will be performed all over the world to do him honor. In Britain, especially, there will be an abundance of Shakespearean festivals.

There is another way of paying homage to this greatest of all literary giants. That is to read his works—the plays and the sonnets and other poems. In a sense this falls well short of seeing the dramas on the stage, yet there is a special excitement about letting the brilliant world of Shakespeare spring from the page.

These days, too, the plays are available on records, so that the ringing words of Macbeth and Hamlet, of Henry V and Falstaff and the rest, may be heard in one's living room. Lovers of Shakespeare have a memorable year ahead.

COMPRESSED HISTORY

Someone has compressed the estimated 50,000 years of the history of Homo sapiens into 50 years and come up with the following chronology:

7 years ago writing was developed.

2 years ago Christianity appeared.

6 months ago Gutenberg invented the printing press.

1 month ago Edison demonstrated the light bulb.

Less than three weeks ago, the Wrights flew.

1 week ago the atomic bomb and the first jet appeared, followed closely by commercial television.

Last night, the first manned space capsule.

Ever have the feeling that life was just racing past you faster and faster?

You're right. It is.

NIKITA IS NOT A NICE TABBY CAT

It's hard to find fault with President Lyndon Johnson for wanting to "wage peace." Or with the U. S. State Department for wanting "detentes" with a subdued bunch of Soviet Communists. But, before we go overboard in pushing an "American peace offensive," we should warn ourselves that we are dealing with a man, Nikita Khrushchev, who is a strange combination of characteristics.

Unlike his predecessor Stalin, Khrushchev is not a vindictive man. But he is a cool and unfeeling cat whose wish to appear "liberal" is wholly opportunistic. Moreover, he is a person of certain deep-grained prejudices, which cause him to flare out disconcertingly at people who have truly humane instincts.

There is the question of Khrushchev's attitude toward the Jews in Soviet Russia, for example. No less a person than the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who knows discrimination when he sees it, is convinced that the Soviet government has tried to "liquidate the Jewish people in Russia." Stalin conducted a purge of Jewish writers which reached a climax just before he died. As for Khrushchev, he tries to steer clear of Stalin's blatancy and open malignance in the way he does things. But the Russian poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko, in a verbal exchange with Khrushchev which is printed in the December, 1963 issue of "Commentary," a publication sponsored by the American Jewish Committee, virtually accuses Khrushchev of failing to do anything to mitigate the mistreatment of Jews in the Soviet Union.

Yevtushenko began his conversation with Khrushchev by reading from his poem, "Babi Yar," which harks back to the time when the Nazis slaughtered Jews in a ravine near Kiev. Then he alluded to Stalin's own Judophobia. Addressing himself to "anti-Semitism" as "one problem" which "yet remains" from the Stalin era. Yevtushenko said it "has not yet been resolved."

"That is not a problem," retorted Khrushchev in what is perhaps the shortest speech ever attributed to the Soviet dictator. But Yevtushenko pressed the point. "It is a problem," he said; "It cannot be denied and it cannot be suppressed. It is necessary to come to grips with it . . . I myself was a witness to such things. Moreover, it came from people who occupy official posts, and thus it assumed an official character. We cannot go forward to Communism with such a heavy load as Judophobia . . . "

Moshe Decter, the Director of Jewish Minorities Research who annotated the Yevtushenko-Khrushchev exchange for "Commentary," is convinced of its authenticity, although some doubt must remain that the whole body of Khrushchev's response to Yevtushenko was committed to paper by recorders. Certainly Khrushchev is not given to monosyllabic speech when he feels that he is being needled.

A considerably more voluble Khrushchev appears in a book by Leon Leneman called "The Tragedy of the Jews in the USSR," which has been circulated in France. According to Mr. Leneman, Khrushchev, speaking in Poland on two separate occasions, blurted out some remarks that were taken by Polish Communist leaders as indicating that he did not wish to see Jews rewarded with jobs in the Polish government apparatus.

Leneman, quoting a "reliable" report, says that Khrushchev told the Polish Central Committee that "an Abramovitch always remains an Abramovitch, and you have too many Abramovitches in your leading cadres."

"Look," so Leneman quotes Khrushchev as saying in elaboration, "look what we did about it. How many Jews did we have in the USSR? Let's say two or even three million . . . And what was the percentage of Jews among our high functionaries? There was a time when the percentage was considerable. Well, we have put things in order. The percentage of Jewish high functionaries has become negligible, two or three per thousand."

According to Leneman, Khrushchev said much more and much worse on the subject of curtailing Jewish influence and opportunities. I have no desire to retail it. Perhaps Khrushchev is a man in evolution who would really like to rid himself of prejudices. But the need for skepticism in dealing with Comrade Nikita remains. Make him prove by significant concessions both at home and abroad that he really wants peace.

Deaf? Don't Ignore Lip-Reading Benefits

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My doctor says I have nerve deafness. I have had it for more than a year. I've been told that a hearing aid will not benefit this kind of deafness. Is that correct?

A—The hearing aid works well in persons with conduction deafness, but if the auditory nerve is damaged it will do no good. A new type of hearing aid that may help persons with nerve deafness is being tried. It is an electronic device designed to replace the lost sound receptors in the ear, but it is still strictly an experimental gadget and not commercially available.

Because these things take time, rather than fold your hands and wait, you should busy yourself learning lip reading. It can be remarkably effective.

Q—Is there such a thing as an operation to restore hearing so that I won't need a hearing aid?

A—Several operations have been used to restore hearing. Whether or not one of them would help you could be easily determined by an ear specialist.

Q—What is otitis media? Does it ever cause brain abscess?

A—Otitis Media is an infection of the middle ear or that portion of the ear between the eardrum and the Eustachian tube which opens into throat. It is a common complication of measles, whooping cough, pneumonia and other respiratory infections. About 40 per cent of all brain abscesses can be traced to otitis media.

Fortunately, otitis media is not as common as it was in the days before penicillin, and early treatment usually results in prompt cure without complications.

Q—In 1929 I contracted syphilis. I took treatments and was pronounced cured. Four years later I had a normal, healthy baby daughter. She now has a son who has something wrong with his blood. Can this in any way be due to my syphilis?

A—Congenital syphilis does not skip a generation. Therefore, your grandson's disease is not related to yours which was cured. You do not say what blood disease he has, but Rh incompatibility between your daughter and her husband is a possibility.

Q—My mother has cancer of the esophagus. I recently read about a drug called Laetrile. Would it help her?

A—No one can blame you for wanting to clutch at a straw, but Laetrile is not the answer to your problem. Whenever a new drug is tried on cancer patients, a certain number of patients show a marked improvement, even though the drug itself may be worthless. This is a tribute to the hopefulness of the human spirit. It is also a boon to the peddler of quack cancer cures.

Federal Food and Drug Administration researchers have found no evidence that Laetrile is of any real value in the treatment of cancer. The drug may not be legally manufactured or distributed in this country.

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — You get a different picture of President Johnson when you talk in private with those who have worked for him at one time or another.

Here are the very personal stories present or former colleagues tell:

"I had worked with him for years trying to deal with him on an intellectual level. Then a friend told me I was going about it in the wrong way.

" 'You've got to deal with him in a glandular way,' he said. 'You've got to work with him in a total relationship—brains, glands, the lowest and the highest levels.'

"After that, I openly expressed anger when I felt anger, annoyance when I felt annoved and enthusiasm when I felt enthusiastic.

"From that day on our relationship was very good."

"LYNDON STRETCHES ME. He thinks I'm smarter than I am. So I kill myself trying to live up to it.

"I have put in a week researching a problem, reasearching it as thoroughly as I could, reading, talking to a lot of people, thinking it through. Then I presented it to him. He asked the one question which I should have seen, that I didn't know the answer to."

"PRESIDENT KENNDY'S STAFF members already have a feeling he wants them around. If they stay around, they'll be excited by him. His mind is as firstrate as any they will ever encounter. If they can adjust their esthetics to his Texas mannerisms and speech, I think they'll have quite a ride."

"HE NEVER SLEEPS. On a diplomatic trip, if the day went well, he keeps his staff members up to 4:30 a. m. telling them how wonderful they were. If the day went wrong, he keeps them up to 4:30 a. m. trying to analyze what went wrong and why. Then he'll be up early in the morning and away by 8."

"A GIRL IN HIS OFFICE was getting married. When it was time for her to take her young man back to Texas to introduce him to the folks, Lyndon sent a telegram to her parents saying: 'We've been so proud of this girl. We like this boy. He's done great things. He's from a different part of the country, but we know you'll like him.' He wanted to pave the way at a time he knew the girl would be nervous. In some ways he's as sensitive as a woman."

"ON ONE OCCASION when he was vice president, Mr. Johnson and some friends had been out hunting. As a surprise, he was going to have a party for them and present them with mounted trophies of what they had killed.

"But just before the party, he learned that one of the group had his boss visiting him. So Mr. Johnson packed the trophy in the back of his car, rushed out and delivered it in person while the man's boss was there. Lyndon thought it might help the man if his boss saw the vice president come personally to deliver something."

"YOU DON'T DARE MENTION you're not feeling up to snuff. He'll have a battery of doctors at your door."

"WHEN HE CAME OVER to the State Department to talk to the staff, President Johnson mentioned with appreciation the top five men of the department. But then he went on, in front of the whole group, to single out three of us department junior men he had worked with."

.."JUST BEFORE LEAVING on his trip to northern Europe, Mr. Johnson learned that one his former office staff had lost her husband and would be lonely. He immediately signed her up as a secretary and took her along. She had to work, but she wasn't lonely."

"WHEN JOHNSON has quarreled with you, if he has blown up or has done something else to make you unhappy, he finds it difficult or impossible to come around and apologize. Instead, he does something nice for you, sends you a little gift, something he thinks you would like."

Johnson's Many Proposals Couched in General Terms

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has just delivered to Congress not so much a message on the "State of the Union" as an alluring description of a utopian state.

The President spoke of the "unprecedented progress of our free-enterprise economy over the last three years," and said that wages, profits and family income are "at their highest level in history." He nevertheless thought it necessary to declare "unconditional war on poverty in America."

Though speaking of the United States as "the richest nation on earth," Mr. Johnson, even more than his predecessor, emphasized poverty as a national problem. He did not define this explicitly, but in general terms. He said his purpose was "to help that one-fifth of all American families with incomes too small even to meet their basic needs."

The question remains, however, as to what are really the "basic needs" and what persons can accurately be described as poverty-stricken. The President seems to think that the cause of the poverty is "in a lack of education and training, in a lack of medical care and housing, in a lack of decent communities in which to live and bring up their children." But, surprisingly enough, the President made no mention of weakness in individual character and, in many cases, an inherited incapacity to equal the achievements of one's average fellow man.

No doubt there are communities in which poverty occurs, just as there are "distressed areas" where some unemployment prevails, and relief should be provided. But it is regrettable that not enough emphasis has been placed upon individual responsibility and also on the most effective way to create jobs. The President rightly said.

"For the war against poverty will not be won here in Washington. It must be won in the field—in every private home, in every public office, from the courthouse to the White House."

But there was one omission. Mr. Johnson did not mention the need to remove the barriers that the private-enterprise system faces every day in the creation of new jobs. About the only reference to job creation in the President's speech was the mention of the $11 billion tax reduction over the next two years. He spoke of it as providing "investment incentives." But in the same address to Congress the President repeated an error which has often been noted in past Administration policies — namely, a recommendation that laws be passed which cannot but have the effect of frustrating the development of the free-enterprise system.

Mr. Johnson recommended legislation, for example, to authorize the creation of committees on an industry-by-industry basis which would have the authority to put into effect higher rates for overtime. The theory is that this would serve as a penalty for use of overtime and create more jobs. But to tell the managers of free enterprise in America that they must eliminate overtime in order to create new jobs is equivalent to telling them that they must accept government dictation in work scheduled or pay higher rates for unavoidable overtime.

There are many industries in which a few hours of overtime work is all that is necessary. In those cases where one or two shifts — with perhaps a small amount of overtime — can perform the required work, it seems incredible that any business would, on its own, choose to use lareg amounts of overtime at rates of time-and-a-half per hour when a new shift of employees can be put on at the regular wage rates.

But the proposal illustrates the tendency here to deal with questions on the basis of economic partianship. For the increase of overtime rates is something which the unions have advocated, not necessarily to produce more jobs but to increase the income of the regular employees. In most instances, the effect probably would be to give higher incomes to the regular employees who work overtime rather than to create places for new workers.

There were many proposals in the President's address, nearly all couched in very general terms. The statement of the aims of the United States in foreign policy is in line with that of preceding administrations. There have always been proclamations of high purpose—to curtail and even abolish big armament, to enlarge world trade, and to strengthen the ability of free nations to raise their standard of living through an efficient foreign aid program. But the big difficulty is in the method and formula to be used to accomplish such high-sounding purposes. Thus, the President declared that the United States "must be constantly prepared for the worst and constantly acting for the best." He added that we "must be strong enough to win any war, and we must be wise enough to prevent one."

So there really was no new contribution to international policy. In fact, there was little new on the domestic side either. For while the President promised "a progressive Administration which is efficient and honest and frugal," the budget in the coming fiscal year will involve a deficit of $4.9 billion.

It is true that the earlier estimates were higher, but, unfortunately, a fiscal system is not measured by the size of the estimates or the theoretical economies achieved when estimates are finally cut down. The fact remains that America is to run on a deficit budget in the years to come, and not a single word in the President's message gave any indication of when a balanced budget will be achieved. So the people of the United States are asked to continue to accept the platitudes of hopefulness—that some day the Millennium will arrive.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I ran across a Kingston Argus newspaper of Wednesday, June 15, 1892. Henry G. Crouch was proprietor and editor, and their offices were in the Argus Building at 53 Wall Street. One item reads, "The annual excurison of the Sunday school of the St. James ME Church will take place on the Fourth of July. The place chosen for the day is Arkville."

From this sace column of 1892, the following puzzling item: "A new post office has been established in the town of Marbletown, in this county, called 'Atwood', and 'Granite', formerly known as Logtown, in the town of Rochester. Dwaar's Kill has been changed to 'Dwaar Kill'.

Another item reads: "Irving L. Nestell, of this city, employed as a trainman on the West Shore Railroad, assisted by Scott R. Smith, a fellow railroad man, rescued a young man and a young woman from drowning in the lake in Washington Park at Albany on Sunday afternoon."

Another item reads: "forty-four candidates presented themselves before Commissioner John J. Moran at Kingston Academy on Saturday for examination touching their qualifications to teach in the public schools. It was an unusually large class. The examination was for second grade certificates." I wonder what the salary was.

Also in this 1892 Kingston Argus they write, "ground was broken Monday for the new residence of ex-Sheriff Samuel Dill on the lot he recently purchased of the Cornell estate at the corner of Albany and Bruyn Avenues. Peter Measter has the contract for the carpenter work and Darling Bros. and Burger the contract for the masonry."

Alfred Ronder has a picture of Kingston Public School No. 11, which burned in 1901, and later changed to School No. 7 on Crown Street. I see the picture of the burned out School No. 11, which Mr. Ronder has, was reproduced in a book called "Kingston Fire Department, Souvenir of 1928." It was published during Edgar J. Dempsey's term as Mayor of Kingston. It was written up with illustrated articles by H. L. Van Deusen in interesting article called "Historic Kingston." Mr. Van Deusen used to write a column, like this, called "At Century's Turn," which my father used to cut out and save for me, years before I ever thought, someday I also would go through the same old records and newspapers. His daughter, later gave me Mr. Van Deusen's scrap book.

In the Kingston Argus of June 15, 1892, is an item telling about "the closing exercises of Public School No. 11, Principal D. G. Atkins, was in charge." They were held at the Kingston Opera House Friday afternoon, June 24. A very interesting program was arranged, so it said. The pupils were to march from the school to the opear house, headed by Williams' Military Band. Addresses were to be delivered by School Commissioner Moran and other prominent citizens.

Another item from this school No. 11, "On June 22, Miss Ina M. Brodhead, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Broadhead will be married to William T. Holt of New York, at the Fair Street Reformed Church. Miss Broadhead for a number of years was a school teacher at No. 11 school." Another item from this 1892 paper: "Miss Mabel E. Bunton, of Rondout, graduated last week from the Art Department of Vassar College." That was part of the social life of Kingston some 72 years ago.

MORE HOPE FOR PEACE

Both President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev have kicked off the new year with calls for intensified effort to achieve world peace. Such talk is expected of heads of state at this season. The tone of what is now being said does appear to offer slightly more hope than usual of making some progress away from the prophet Jeremiah's cry of "peace, peace; when there is no peace."

Khrushchev's proposal of a treaty agreement not to use force to settle territorial disputes does not offer much promise of the sort of peace breakthrough that President Johnson says he will strive for. Situations in various parts of the world differ so widely that no blanket pledge of this kind could sensibly be accepted; any pact would have to take such differences into account. As the State Department has said, the Khrushchev statement is disappointing.

There is merit in such a proposal, however, as a kind of springboard for more detailed and substantive discussion of means of easing tensions and building on the foundation of the nuclear test ban treaty. There is an element of hope in the very fact that Khrushchev did not merely utter the usual platitudes about the need for world peace, but made a proposal that can now be gone into.

The key to improvement in international relations is to be found in Mr. Johnson's declaration that "the time for simply talking about peace . . . has passed," and that further steps should be taken in 1964. To this end, it is encouraging that the President has pledged himself to vigorous effort and has renounced any idea of pussyfooting on this touchy issue because of the coming election. If he follows through on that pledge, and keeps prodding at Khrushchev to get down to specifics on this most important world problem, some measure of progress can be hoped for.

400TH BIRTHDAY ....

The year 1964 will be notable for at least one thing in addition to the presidential election. It will mark the 400th birthday of a certain rather widely known playwright and poet, one William Shakespeare.

The anniversary will occasion a great outpouring of dramatic tributes to Shakespeare. His plays will be performed all over the world to do him honor. In Britain, especially, there will be an abundance of Shakespearean festivals.

There is another way of paying homage to this greatest of all literary giants. That is to read his works—the plays and the sonnets and other poems. In a sense this falls well short of seeing the dramas on the stage, yet there is a special excitement about letting the brilliant world of Shakespeare spring from the page.

These days, too, the plays are available on records, so that the ringing words of Macbeth and Hamlet, of Henry V and Falstaff and the rest, may be heard in one's living room. Lovers of Shakespeare have a memorable year ahead.

COMPRESSED HISTORY

Someone has compressed the estimated 50,000 years of the history of Homo sapiens into 50 years and come up with the following chronology:

7 years ago writing was developed.

2 years ago Christianity appeared.

6 months ago Gutenberg invented the printing press.

1 month ago Edison demonstrated the light bulb.

Less than three weeks ago, the Wrights flew.

1 week ago the atomic bomb and the first jet appeared, followed closely by commercial television.

Last night, the first manned space capsule.

Ever have the feeling that life was just racing past you faster and faster?

You're right. It is.

NIKITA IS NOT A NICE TABBY CAT

It's hard to find fault with President Lyndon Johnson for wanting to "wage peace." Or with the U. S. State Department for wanting "detentes" with a subdued bunch of Soviet Communists. But, before we go overboard in pushing an "American peace offensive," we should warn ourselves that we are dealing with a man, Nikita Khrushchev, who is a strange combination of characteristics.

Unlike his predecessor Stalin, Khrushchev is not a vindictive man. But he is a cool and unfeeling cat whose wish to appear "liberal" is wholly opportunistic. Moreover, he is a person of certain deep-grained prejudices, which cause him to flare out disconcertingly at people who have truly humane instincts.

There is the question of Khrushchev's attitude toward the Jews in Soviet Russia, for example. No less a person than the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who knows discrimination when he sees it, is convinced that the Soviet government has tried to "liquidate the Jewish people in Russia." Stalin conducted a purge of Jewish writers which reached a climax just before he died. As for Khrushchev, he tries to steer clear of Stalin's blatancy and open malignance in the way he does things. But the Russian poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko, in a verbal exchange with Khrushchev which is printed in the December, 1963 issue of "Commentary," a publication sponsored by the American Jewish Committee, virtually accuses Khrushchev of failing to do anything to mitigate the mistreatment of Jews in the Soviet Union.

Yevtushenko began his conversation with Khrushchev by reading from his poem, "Babi Yar," which harks back to the time when the Nazis slaughtered Jews in a ravine near Kiev. Then he alluded to Stalin's own Judophobia. Addressing himself to "anti-Semitism" as "one problem" which "yet remains" from the Stalin era, Yevtushenko said it "has not yet been resolved."

"That is not a problem," retorted Khrushchev in what is perhaps the shortest speech ever attributed to the Soviet dictator. But Yevtushenko pressed the point. "It is a problem," he said; "It cannot be denied and it cannot be suppressed. It is necessary to come to grips with it . . . I myself was a witness to such things. Moreover, it came from people who occupy official posts, and thus it assumed an official character. We cannot go forward to Communism with such a heavy load as Judophobia . . . "

Moshe Decter, the Director of Jewish Minorities Research who annotated the Yevtushenko-Khrushchev exchange for "Commentary," is convinced of its authenticity, although some doubt must remain that the whole body of Khrushchev's response to Yevtushenko was committed to paper by recorders. Certainly Khrushchev is not given to monosyllabic speech when he feels that he is being needled.

A considerably more voluble Khrushchev appears in a book by Leon Leneman called "The Tragedy of the Jews in the USSR," which has been circulated in France. According to Mr. Leneman, Khrushchev, speaking in Poland on two separate occasions, blurted out some remarks that were taken by Polish Communist leaders as indicating that he did not wish to see Jews rewarded with jobs in the Polish government apparatus.

Leneman, quoting a "reliable" report, says that Khrushchev told the Polish Central Committee that "an Abramovitch always remains an Abramovitch, and you have too many Abramovitches in your leading cadres."

"Look," so Leneman quotes Khrushchev as saying in elaboration, "look what we did about it. How many Jews did we have in the USSR? Let's say two or even three million . . . And what was the percentage of Jews among our high functionaries? There was a time when the percentage was considerable. Well, we have put things in order. The percentage of Jewish high functionaries has become negligible, two or three per thousand."

According to Leneman, Khrushchev said much more and much worse on the subject of curtailing Jewish influence and opportunities. I have no desire to retail it. Perhaps Khrushchev is a man in evolution who would really like to rid himself of prejudices. But the need for skepticism in dealing with Comrade Nikita remains. Make him prove by significant concessions both at home and abroad that he really wants peace.

Deaf? Don't Ignore Lip-Reading Benefits

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My doctor says I have nerve deafness. I have had it for more than a year. I've been told that a hearing aid will not benefit this kind of deafness. Is that correct?

A—The hearing aid works well in persons with conduction deafness, but if the auditory nerve is damaged it will do no good. A new type of hearing aid that may help persons with nerve deafness is being tried. It is an electronic device designed to replace the lost sound receptors in the ear, but it is still strictly an experimental gadget and not commercially available.

Because these things take time, rather than fold your hands and wait, you should busy yourself learning lip reading. It can be remarkably effective.

Q—Is there such a thing as an operation to restore hearing so that I won't need a hearing aid?

A—Several operations have been used to restore hearing. Whether or not one of them would help you could be easily determined by an ear specialist.

Q—What is otitis media? Does it ever cause brain abscess?

A—Otitis Media is an infection of the middle ear or that portion of the ear between the eardrum and the Eustachian tube which opens into throat. It is a common complication of measles, whooping cough, pneumonia and other respiratory infections. About 40 per cent of all brain abscesses can be traced to otitis media.

Fortunately, otitis media is not as common as it was in the days before penicillin, and early treatment usually results in prompt cure without complications.

Q—In 1929 I contracted syphilis. I took treatments and was pronounced cured. Four years later I had a normal, healthy baby daughter. She now has a son who has something wrong with his blood. Can this in any way be due to my syphilis?

A—Congenital syphilis does not skip a generation. Therefore, your grandson's disease is not related to yours which was cured. You do not say what blood disease he has, but Rh incompatibility between your daughter and her husband is a possibility.

Q—My mother has cancer of the esophagus. I recently read about a drug called Laetrile. Would it help her?

A—No one can blame you for wanting to clutch at a straw, but Laetrile is not the answer to your problem. Whenever a new drug is tried on cancer patients, a certain number of patients show a marked improvement, even though the drug itself may be worthless. This is a tribute to the hopefulness of the human spirit. It is also a boon to the peddler of quack cancer cures.

Federal Food and Drug Administration researchers have found no evidence that Laetrile is of any real value in the treatment of cancer. The drug may not be legally manufactured or distributed in this country.

"I Hear the President Wants to Slim You Down a Bit"

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — You get a different picture of President Johnson when you talk in private with those who have worked for him at one time or another.

Here are the very personal stories present or former colleagues tell:

"I had worked with him for years trying to deal with him on an intellectual level. Then a friend told me I was going about it in the wrong way.

" 'You've got to deal with him in a glandular way,' he said. 'You've got to work with him in a total relationship—brains, glands, the lowest and the highest levels.'

"After that, I openly expressed anger when I felt anger, annoyance when I felt annoyed and enthusiasm when I felt enthusiastic.

"From that day on our relationship was very good."

"LYNDON STRETCHES ME. He thinks I'm smarter than I am. So I kill myself trying to live up to it.

"I have put in a week researching a problem, reasearching it as thoroughly as I could, reading, talking to a lot of people, thinking it through. Then I presented it to him. He asked the one question which I should have seen, that I didn't know the answer to."

"PRESIDENT KENNDY'S STAFF members already have a feeling he wants them around. If they stay around, they'll be excited by him. His mind is as first-rate as any they will ever encounter. If they can adjust their esthetics to his Texas mannerisms and speech, I think they'll have quite a ride."

"HE NEVER SLEEPS. On a diplomatic trip, if the day went well, he keeps his staff members up to 4:30 a. m. telling them how wonderful they were. If the day went wrong, he keeps them up to 4:30 a. m. trying to analyze what went wrong and why. Then he'll be up early in the morning and away by 8."

"A GIRL IN HIS OFFICE was getting married. When it was time for her to take her young man back to Texas to introduce him to the folks, Lyndon sent a telegram to her parents saying: 'We've been so proud of this girl. We like this boy. He's done great things. He's from a different part of the country, but we know you'll like him.' He wanted to pave the way at a time he knew the girl would be nervous. In some ways he's as sensitive as a woman."

"ON ONE OCCASION when he was vice president, Mr. Johnson and some friends had been out hunting. As a surprise, he was going to have a party for them and present them with mounted trophies of what they had killed.

"But just before the party, he learned that one of the group had his boss visiting him. So Mr. Johnson packed the trophy in the back of his car, rushed out and delivered it in person while the man's boss was there. Lyndon thought it might help the man if his boss saw the vice president come personally to deliver something."

"YOU DON'T DARE MENTION you're not feeling up to snuff. He'll have a battery of doctors at your door."

"WHEN HE CAME OVER to the State Department to talk to the staff, President Johnson mentioned with appreciation the top five men of the department. But then he went on, in front of the whole group, to single out three of us department junior men he had worked with."

.."JUST BEFORE LEAVING on his trip to northern Europe, Mr. Johnson learned that one his former office staff had lost her husband and would be lonely. He immediately signed her up as a secretary and took her along. She had to work, but she wasn't lonely."

"WHEN JOHNSON has quarreled with you, if he has blown up or has done something else to make you unhappy, he finds it difficult or impossible to come around and apologize. Instead, he does something nice for you, sends you a little gift, something he thinks you would like."

Johnson's Many Proposals Couched in General Terms

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has just delivered to Congress not so much a message on the "State of the Union" as an alluring description of a utopian state.

The President spoke of the "unprecedented progress of our free-enterprise economy over the last three years," and said that wages, profits and family income are "at their highest level in history." He nevertheless thought it necessary to declare "unconditional war on poverty in America."

Though speaking of the United States as "the richest nation on earth," Mr. Johnson, even more than his predecessor, emphasized poverty as a national problem. He did not define this explicitly, but in general terms. He said his purpose was "to help that one-fifth of all American families with incomes too small even to meet their basic needs."

The question remains, however, as to what are really the "basic needs" and what persons can accurately be described as poverty-stricken. The President seems to think that the cause of the poverty is "in a lack of education and training, in a lack of medical care and housing, in a lack of decent communities in which to live and bring up their children." But, surprisingly enough, the President made no mention of weakness in individual character and, in many cases, an inherited incapacity to equal the achievements of one's average fellow man.

No doubt there are communities in which poverty occurs, just as there are "distressed areas" where some unemployment prevails, and relief should be provided. But it is regrettable that not enough emphasis has been placed upon individual responsibility and also on the most effective way to create jobs. The President rightly said.

"For the war against poverty will not be won here in Washington. It must be won in the field—in every private home, in every public office, from the courthouse to the White House."

But there was one omission. Mr. Johnson did not mention the need to remove the barriers that the private-enterprise system faces every day in the creation of new jobs. About the only reference to job creation in the President's speech was the mention of the $11 billion tax reduction over the next two years. He spoke of it as providing "investment incentives." But in the same address to Congress the President repeated an error which has often been noted in past Administration policies — namely, a recommendation that laws be passed which cannot but have the effect of frustrating the development of the free-enterprise system.

Mr. Johnson recommended legislation, for example, to authorize the creation of committees on an industry-by-industry basis which would have the authority to put into effect higher rates for overtime. The theory is that this would serve as a penalty for use of overtime and create more jobs. But to tell the managers of free enterprise in America that they must eliminate overtime in order to create new jobs is equivalent to telling them that they must accept government dictation in work scheduled or pay higher rates for unavoidable overtime.

There are many industries in which a few hours of overtime work is all that is necessary. In those cases where one or two shifts — with perhaps a small amount of overtime — can perform the required work, it seems incredible that any business would, on its own, choose to use lareg amounts of overtime at rates of time-and-a-half per hour when a new shift of employees can be put on at the regular wage rates.

But the proposal illustrates the tendency here to deal with questions on the basis of economic partianship. For the increase of overtime rates is something which the unions have advocated, not necessarily to produce more jobs but to increase the income of the regular employees. In most instances, the effect probably would be to give higher incomes to the regular employees who work overtime rather than to create places for new workers.

There were many proposals in the President's address, nearly all couched in very general terms. The statement of the aims of the United States in foreign policy is in line with that of preceding administrations. There have always been proclamations of high purpose—to curtail and even abolish big armament, to enlarge world trade, and to strengthen the ability of free nations to raise their standard of living through an efficient foreign aid program. But the big difficulty is in the method and formula to be used to accomplish such high-sounding purposes. Thus, the President declared that the United States "must be constantly prepared for the worst and constantly acting for the best." He added that we "must be strong enough to win any war, and we must be wise enough to prevent one."

So there really was no new contribution to international policy. In fact, there was little new on the domestic side either. For while the President promised "a progressive Administration which is efficient and honest and frugal," the budget in the coming fiscal year will involve a deficit of $4.9 billion.

It is true that the earlier estimates were higher, but, unfortunately, a fiscal system is not measured by the size of the estimates or the theoretical economies achieved when estimates are finally cut down. The fact remains that America is to run on a deficit budget in the years to come, and not a single word in the President's message gave any indication of when a balanced budget will be achieved. So the people of the United States are asked to continue to accept the platitudes of hopefulness—that some day the Millenium will arrive.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I ran across a Kingston Argus newspaper of Wednesday, June 15, 1892. Henry G. Crouch was proprietor and editor, and their offices were in the Argus Building at 53 Wall Street. One item reads, "The annual excurison of the Sunday school of the St. James ME Church will take place on the Fourth of July. The place chosen for the day is Arkville."

From this sace column of 1892, the following puzzling item: "A new post office has been established in the town of Marbletown, in this county, called 'Atwood', and 'Granite', formerly known as Logtown, in the town of Rochester. Dwaar's Kill has been changed to 'Dwaar Kill'.

Another item reads: "Irving L. Nestell, of this city, employed as a trainman on the West Shore Railroad, assisted by Scott R. Smith, a fellow railroad man, rescued a young man and a young woman from drowning in the lake in Washington Park at Albany on Sunday afternoon."

Another item reads: "forty-four candidates presented themselves before Commissioner John J. Moran at Kingston Academy on Saturday for examination touching their qualifications to teach in the public schools. It was an unusually large class. The examination was for second grade certificates." I wonder what the salary was.

Also in this 1892 Kingston Argus they write, "ground was broken Monday for the new residence of ex-Sheriff Samuel Dill on the lot he recently purchased of the Cornell estate at the corner of Albany and Bruyn Avenues. Peter Measter has the contract for the carpenter work and Darling Bros. and Burger the contract for the masonry."

Alfred Ronder has a picture of Kingston Public School No. 11, which burned in 1901, and later changed to School No. 7 on Crown Street. I see the picture of the burned out School No. 11, which Mr. Ronder has, was reproduced in a book called "Kingston Fire Department, Souvenir of 1928." It was published during Edgar J. Dempsey's term as Mayor of Kingston. It was written up with illustrated articles by H. L. Van Deusen in interesting article called "Historic Kingston." Mr. Van Deusen used to write a column, like this, called "At Century's Turn," which my father used to cut out and save for me, years before I ever thought, someday I also would go through the same old records and newspapers. His daughter, later gave me Mr. Van Deusen's scrap book.

In the Kingston Argus of June 15, 1892, is an item telling about "the closing exercises of Public School No. 11, Principal D. G. Atkins, was in charge." They were held at the Kingston Opera House Friday afternoon, June 24. A very interesting program was arranged, so it said. The pupils were to march from the school to the opear house, headed by Williams' Military Band. Addresses were to be delivered by School Commissioner Moran and other prominent citizens.

Another item from this school No. 11, "On June 22, Miss Ina M. Brodhead, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Broadhead will be married to William T. Holt of New York, at the Fair Street Reformed Church. Miss Broadhead for a number of years was a school teacher at No. 11 school." Another item from this 1892 paper: "Miss Mabel E. Bunton, of Rondout, graduated last week from the Art Department of Vassar College." That was part of the social life of Kingston some 72 years ago.

30-Mile-Per-Hour Speed Zones Are Listed by State

Three 30-miles-per-hour speed zones were established in the area — two in Ulster County — in recent orders issued by the State Traffic Commission, it was announced today by William S. Hults, chairman.

Speed was restricted to 30-miles-per-hour on Main Street in Milton, a town highway, from a point .4 miles south of Mahoney Road southerly for a distance of .6 miles.

In the Town of Rosendale a 30-mile-per-hour speed zone was established on Sawdust Avenue, a town highway, from a point .1 miles west of the westerly intersection of Circle Avenue, easterly for a distance of .4 miles.

At Palenville, Greene County speed was restricted to 30-miles-per-hour on Malden Avenue, a town highway, from 32A westerly for a distance of 1.1 miles.

The restrictions will be posted on these highways.

Backers of Lodge Move Office to Washington, D. C.

BOSTON (AP)—A committee to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican nomination has moved its office to Washington after running afoul of a Massachusetts law.

The committee's headquarters in Boston closed Saturday after Secretary of State Kevin H. White ruled the law required that Lodge agree to use of his name in such a committee's title. No such assent has come from Lodge, the U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Deaths

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Julius Raab, 72, chancellor of Austria from 1953 to 1961 when he resigned because of poor health, died Wednesday. Raab, a conservative, steered Austria back to independence after its postwar occupation by the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Dr. Harold Neuhof, 79, a prominent New York surgeon, died Tuesday of injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willard D. Egolf, 59, a lawyer and president of the U.S. Beryllium Corp., a drilling and mining company, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

Carlino Has Book Out to Head Off Off-Track Betting

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino distributed to all legislators today an 88-page report designed to head off support for proposals to legalize off-track betting on horse racing.

The report detailed problems, such as rising number of bad debts, that have developed as a result of off-track betting in England.

Carlino has led the battle of Republican leaders in opposition to legalization of off-track betting in this state. He argues it would intensify problems of low-income families.

The chief support for legalization comes from the Democratic administration of New York City.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner has said that legalization would provide a vast new source of government revenue and drive out illegal bookmakers.

Carlino sent two members of his staff to England last year to study the off-track system there. Their findings were announced at news conferences in England and in New York State and also have been quoted extensively by Carlino in speeches.

The study was made by Henry D. Paley, director of information for the Assembly, and John A. Glendinning, an assistant on the Assembly Ways and Means Committee staff.

They said more research and investigation should precede a decision on the off-track plan.

Similar proposals from GOP leaders have indicated there will be no action this year on off-track legislation.

RescueMinerFrom Small Cubicle After 27 Hours

MACKAY, Idaho (AP)—Stanley Johnson, a miner trapped for 27 hours in a 12-by 6-foot cubicle 1,158 feet underground, was rescued Wednesday.

He was cold, tired and a little weak—the temperature in the underground cell was around 40 degrees — but otherwise okay.

Taken to a hospital in nearby Arco, the doctors looked him over, gave him food and sent him to bed.

Custer County Sheriff Glen Reed who drove Johnson, 38, a bachelor, to the hospital said, "He didn't have much to say. He was pretty cold but had enough room to keep moving around in there so he could keep from freeezing."

Justice of the Peace Art Wright of Mackay said "they got him out by drilling a series of holes through a petition from another shaft, then chipping out the area between the holes. They couldn't blast because of the cave-in danger.

"He was trapped around one o'clock yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon. He and Harold Lambert were drilling into the bottom of a stope—an old ore pocket—but didn't know it was that close.

"When they hit bottom, tons of fill came down. It trapped Harold for about 30 minutes, but he dug out. Stanley couldn't —there was too much."

The lead and copper mine near this central Idaho community is owned by Empire Copper Mines Co.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Conservation Department says 97 per cent of Hamilton County in the Adirondacks is woodland. The county has a population of about 4,300.

Sign Is Replaced

BOONVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Another "impeach Earl Warren" sign has been erected in the hamlet of Talcottville to replace one recently torn down by supporters of the chief justice.

The sign, set up by the Anti-Communist League of the Black River Valley, also says "Help Get Prayer Back In The Schools."

New York Times Writer New Head Of Correspondents

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Laymond Robinson of The New York Times is the new president of the Legislative Correspondents Association.

Robinson, elected Wednesday at the association's annual meeting, succeeds Robert T Gray of The Associated Press, who was named to the board of directors.

Other officers are William M. Ringle, Gannett News Service; first vice president; Stanley J. Hinden, Newsday, second vice president, and Charles Dumas, The Associated Press, third vice president.

Fines Self for Parking

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Justice of the Peace William Johnston, ticketed for leaving his car in a no-parking zone, fined himself $3.

Michael F. Keating of The New York Herald Tribune also was named to the board of directors.

Edward W. Bates of The Troy Record Newspapers and Raymond L. Borst of the Buffalo Evening News were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The group comprises newsmen assigned to the State Capitol.

In the Town of Rosendale a 30-mile-per-hour speed zone was established on Sawdust Avenue, a town highway, from a point .1 miles west of the westerly intersection of Circle Avenue, easterly for a distance of .4 miles.

At Palenville, Greene County speed was restricted to 30-miles-per-hour on Malden Avenue, a town highway, from 32A westerly for a distance of 1.1 miles.

The restrictions will be posted on these highways.

Backers of Lodge Move Office to Washington, D. C.

BOSTON (AP)—A committee to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican nomination has moved its office to Washington after running afoul of a Massachusetts law.

The committee's headquarters in Boston closed Saturday after Secretary of State Kevin H. White ruled the law required that Lodge agree to use of his name in such a committee's title. No such assent has come from Lodge, the U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Julius Raab, 72, chancellor of Austria from 1953 to 1961 when he resigned because of poor health, died Wednesday. Raab, a conservative, steered Austria back to independence after its postwar occupation by the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

Carlino Has Book Out to Head Off Off-Track Betting

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino distributed to all legislators today an 88-page report designed to head off support for proposals to legalize off-track betting on horse racing.

The report detailed problems, such as rising number of bad debts, that have developed as a result of off-track betting in England.

Carlino has led the battle of Republican leaders in opposition to legalization of off-track betting in this state. He argues it would intensify problems of low-income families.

The chief support for legalization comes from the Democratic administration of New York City.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner has said that legalization would provide a vast new source of government revenue and drive out illegal bookmakers.

Carlino sent two members of his staff to England last year to study the off-track system there. Their findings were announced at news conferences in England and in New York State and also have been quoted extensively by Carlino in speeches.

The study was made by Henry D. Paley, director of information for the Assembly, and John A. Glendinning, an assistant on the Assembly Ways and Means Committee staff.

They said more research and investigation should precede a decision on the off-track plan.

Similar proposals from GOP leaders have indicated there will be no action this year on off-track legislation.

Rescue Miner From Small Cubicle After 27 Hours

MACKAY, Idaho (AP)—Stanley Johnson, a miner trapped for 27 hours in a 12-by 6-foot cubicle 1,158 feet underground, was rescued Wednesday.

He was cold, tired and a little weak—the temperature in the underground cell was around 40 degrees -- but otherwise okay.

Taken to a hospital in nearby Arco, the doctors looked him over, gave him food and sent him to bed.

Custer County Sheriff Glen Reed who drove Johnson, 38, a bachelor, to the hospital said, "He didn't have much to say. He was pretty cold but had enough room to keep moving around in there so he could keep from freeezing."

Justice of the Peace Art Wright of Mackay said "they got him out by drilling a series of holes through a petition from another shaft, then chipping out the area between the holes. They couldn't blast because of the cave-in danger.

"He was trapped around one o'clock yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon. He and Harold Lambert were drilling into the bottom of a stope—an old ore pocket—but didn't know it was that close.

"When they hit bottom, tons of fill came down. It trapped Harold for about 30 minutes, but he dug out. Stanley couldn't —there was too much."

Management Getting Set For Higher Wage Demands

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Management is getting set for higher wage demands this year. The emphasis last year turned to job security. Before that fringe benefits added to total labor costs at a faster rate than did the increase in wages and salaries.

Job security is still a prime concern in many labor contracts up for negotiation this year and a worry to countless other workers. And the scope and cost of fringe benefits also is sure to grow.

Eye 1963 Profits

But union leaders have been saying the impresssive profit gains of 1963 should be the basis in 1964 for more liberal wage scales as well as for higher dividends.

At least two million workers will receive raises this year automatically under continuing contracts. Another two million are covered by contracts that boost scales when the cost of living goes up, as it does most years and well may in 1964.

But two million workers are involved in contracts expiring in 1964 and many more in pacts that can be reopened. It is here that management is on notice that business prosperity is sharpening the appetite of workers for a bigger share of the earnings.

The average increase in such wage scales will be known only after the negotiation battles have been fought.

Security Payments Up

Management can be sure of one thing, however. The trend of total payments for employe security will be upward. And the increase in the past five years has been impressive.

The breakdown shows employers paying $9.8 billion into private pension and welfare funds, against $8.1 billion in 1959. In the five years, Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance climbed to $6.5 billion from $4.4 billion. Taxes and contributions for unemployment insurance came to $4.7 billion in 1963, and $2.7 billion in 1959. Compensation for injuries was more stable—$1.6 billion in 1963 and $1.2 billion five years ago.

Fringe benefits include many other things. Paid vacations and longer ones have been spreading in industry. Sabbatical leaves for veteran employes got considerable attention in 1963. Profit-sharing plans are being tried in some companies to offset the inroads of automation.

Shorter work weeks and increased overtime pay scales are being demanded as another phase of job security.

Blames Automobiles

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A Birmingham School Board member has suggested that graduation from high school be a prerequisite for obtaining a drivers license.

Liston A. Corcoran made the proposal Wednesday during a panel discussion on high school dropouts. He stated — and the panel agrees—that the automobile was a primary cause of pupils leaving before finishing high school.

Two Missionaries Married by Bishop

NEW YORK (AP)—They met in Japan 46 years ago. Wednesday they were married by a 101-year-old bishop.

The newlyweds are the Rev. Dr. Charles S. Iglehart, 83, and Caroline Packham, 72, both former Methodist missionaries in Tokyo and Nagasaki.

Bishop Herbert Welch performed the ceremony. "I still remember when they were youngsters," he said.

Shokan

SHOKAN — Walter Riemann and family were weekend guests at the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Addickes of the village center. The Riemans reside at Oakdale, L. I.

The Rev. Richard R. Guice, formerly of Ashokan, had charge of the program for the holiday meeting and party arranged by the evening circle of the Roxbury Methodist Church. The event took place at the home of Mrs. Leland Fanning.

Claire Baker of Norfolk, Va., called on local friends last Sunday. Mrs. Baker who has resided in Kingston and Rosendale, was accompanied here by her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Light, the former Donna Baker, of RD 1, West Hurley. Mrs. Baker spent a summer at the Martin Retting home here when the Rettings were conducting a summer school for children at their place along the East Butternutkill.

James Rutherford whose death was noted in The Freeman last week was one of the comparatively few natives of Shokan who had resided here in days before the waterworks. The son of Richard and Bessie Rutherford was brought up on the family farm now a part of the reservoir preserve, and his home for many years had been near Tonche Mountain. Mr. Rutherford's brother, John, and a sister, Annie who married Albert Bell, died some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bruckner and Mrs. Bruckner's father, John Wojciechowski, Route 28, spent a weekend with relatives on Long Island.

January 6 marked another birthday for Grover C. Winchell. The son of Benjamin and Cornelia Winchell he was born 1885, and brought up near High Point in South Olive.

Long Time Ago: Great changes have taken place in the reservoir country since Oct. 16, 1704 when the trustees of Marbletown made grants of land to five petitioners as follows: Charles Brodhead, Richard Brodhead, Joris Middagh, Thomas Jansen and Cornelius Bogart "who desire each a hundred acres upon the Esopus Kill or Creek, on both sides of said Kill, about the Chestnut Bush and near a place called by the Indians, Ashokan, and to have same in five parcels and no more, to divide the same among them."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"CBS Reports" Wednesday night undertook, earnestly and very successfully, to explain the knotty problem of presidential succession and to alert — without taking a position itself — the electorate to a real emergency situation.

Former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, in recently taped interviews, disagreed without heat on the proper successor to the president in the event there is no vice president to take over.

But, along with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who grappled with the succession problem during three serious illnesses of his chief, all agreed that the matter should be resolved quickly by law and that the constitutional definition of "disability" should be clearly defined in the case of an ailing president.

Truman obviously favored succession of the speaker of the House of Representatives, partly because he is an elected representative and partly because he probably would have a long history as a public servant. Eisenhower felt that the secretary of state would be the more logical heir because there have been so many instances where the speaker was a member of a rival political party.

"That Was The Week That Was," in its debut as a weeekly program on NBC Friday night has unusual treat in store: Burr Tillstrom, the creator of Kukla and Ollie, appearing without his famous puppets.

Special programs on the surgeon-general's report on cigarette smoking will fire up all network channels on Saturday night. ABC and CBS will broadcast their summaries of the long-awaited report betweeen 7 and 7:30 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time) while NBC will devote an hour to the subject from 7:30 to 8:30.

Recommended tonight: "Truce to Terror," NBC, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time)—An allegory, told in terms of events that follow after one man accidentally brushed against a stranger on a dark street.

Convinces Court

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Ruth Clark is a member of the Colorado House of Representatives. For five years she has been on the House Judiciary Committee.

So, she said, she felt confident in City Court Wednesday. She convinced the court to dismiss a charge that she had made an illegal left turn in traffic.

Mrs. Clark pointed out that the ticket listed her as a man.

Students to Spend Weekends in Jail Due to Conduct

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Two seniors at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, who pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, will be spending weekends in jail for a while.

Judge Joseph F. Daly of Police Court imposed sentence Wednesday after dismissing another charge of distributing obscene pictures as a Halloween prank.

The students, Arthur R. Frederickson, 22, of Westfield, N.J., and Michael Bass, 20, of Woodbridge, N.J., were sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The terms are to be served on weekends, starting this weekend.

The two were accused of placing magazine pictures of women in a paper bag and taping it to the door of the house where they lived, with a sign saying "Happy Halloween, tricks and treats, take one." Children took the pictures home. Parents complained.

Mother Out Phoning, 4 Perish in Fire

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Four children—left alone while their mother went across the street to make a telephone call—died when a fire swept through their home Wednesday night, police said.

The victims were Keith Yancer, 3, and three sisters, Joan, 5, Marjorie, 1, and Melissa, 2.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Supermarkets this weekend future bacon and steaks.

Pork loins and chops are among other pork attractions.

Steaks are highlighted because of the dual influences of very heavy cattle marketings and a seasonal preference for such other cuts as roasts.

Other beeef prices are also attractive. Chuck roasts and rib roasts and rib roasts are among the most widely featured cuts.

Among vegetables, general features include cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, greens, onions, potatoes, peppers and sweeet potatoes.

Apples, orangen, grapefruit and bananas are the fruit stars.

Coffee prices have edged up at wholesale, continuing a trend, but the increases have yet to show up at all retail outlets.

McNamara Agrees To Review Closing Of Base at Rome

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New York congressman says Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has agreed to review a Defense Department decision to close the Rome Air Materiel Area at Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y.

At a meeting Wednesday arranged by chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y., asked McNamara to take another look at the decision.

He presented McNamara with two documents prepared by Rome officials which contend that closing the supply center would be false economy.

There was no indication at the meeting that McNamara would change his decision. But Pirnie said it was up to the Defense Department to show that its position on the center is sound.

Pirnie said there was insufficient time at Wednesday's meeting to protest against the decision to close the Schenectady, N.Y., Army Depot.

About 7,500 persons would be affected by a shutdown of the Rome base. An additional 1,800 civilian employes would be affected at Schenectady.

Blames Automobiles

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A Birmingham School Board member has suggested that graduation from high school be a prerequisite for obtaining a drivers license.

Liston A. Corcoran made the proposal Wednesday during a panel discussion on high school dropouts. He stated — and the panel agrees—that the automobile was a primary cause of pupils leaving before finishing high school.

The newlyweds are the Rev. Dr. Charles S. Iglehart, 83, and Caroline Packham, 72, both former Methodist missionaries in Tokyo and Nagasaki.

Bishop Herbert Welch performed the ceremony. "I still remember when they were youngsters," he said.

The Rev. Richard R. Guice, formerly of Ashokan, had charge of the program for the holiday meeting and party arranged by the evening circle of the Roxbury Methodist Church. The event took place at the home of Mrs. Leland Fanning.

Claire Baker of Norfolk, Va., called on local friends last Sunday. Mrs. Baker who has resided in Kingston and Rosendale, was accompanied here by her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Light, the former Donna Baker, of RD 1, West Hurley. Mrs. Baker spent a summer at the Martin Retting home here when the Rettings were conducting a summer school for children at their place along the East Butternutkill.

James Rutherford whose death was noted in The Freeman last week was one of the comparatively few natives of Shokan who had resided here in days before the waterworks. The son of Richard and Bessie Rutherford was brought up on the family farm now a part of the reservoir preserve, and his home for many years had been near Tonche Mountain. Mr. Rutherford's brother, John, and a sister, Annie who married Albert Bell, died some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bruckner and Mrs. Bruckner's father, John Wojciechowski, Route 28, spent a weekend with relatives on Long Island.

January 6 marked another birthday for Grover C. Winchell. The son of Benjamin and Cornelia Winchell he was born 1885, and brought up near High Point in South Olive.

Long Time Ago: Great changes have taken place in the reservoir country since Oct. 16, 1704 when the trustees of Marbletown made grants of land to five petitioners as follows: Charles Brodhead, Richard Brodhead, Joris Middagh, Thomas Jansen and Cornelius Bogart "who desire each a hundred acres upon the Esopus Kill or Creek, on both sides of said Kill, about the Chestnut Bush and near a place called by the Indians, Ashokan, and to have same in five parcels and no more, to divide the same among them."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"CBS Reports" Wednesday night undertook, earnestly and very successfully, to explain the knotty problem of presidential succession and to alert — without taking a position itself — the electorate to a real emergency situation.

Former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, in recently taped interviews, disagreed without heat on the proper successor to the president in the event there is no vice president to take over.

But, along with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who grappled with the succession problem during three serious illnesses of his chief, all agreed that the matter should be resolved quickly by law and that the constitutional definition of "disability" should be clearly defined in the case of an ailing president.

Truman obviously favored succession of the speaker of the House of Representatives, partly because he is an elected representative and partly because he probably would have a long history as a public servant. Eisenhower felt that the secretary of state would be the more logical heir because there have been so many instances where the speaker was a member of a rival political party.

"That Was The Week That Was," in its debut as a weeekly program on NBC Friday night has unusual treat in store: Burr Tillstrom, the creator of Kukla and Ollie, appearing without his famous puppets.

Special programs on the surgeon-general's report on cigarette smoking will fire up all network channels on Saturday night. ABC and CBS will broadcast their summaries of the long-awaited report betweeen 7 and 7:30 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time) while NBC will devote an hour to the subject from 7:30 to 8:30.

Recommended tonight: "Truce to Terror," NBC, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time)—An allegory, told in terms of events that follow after one man accidentally brushed against a stranger on a dark street.

Convinces Court

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Ruth Clark is a member of the Colorado House of Representatives. For five years she has been on the House Judiciary Committee.

So, she said, she felt confident in City Court Wednesday. She convinced the court to dismiss a charge that she had made an illegal left turn in traffic.

Mrs. Clark pointed out that the ticket listed her as a man.

Students to Spend Weekends in Jail Due to Conduct

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Two seniors at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, who pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct, will be spending weekends in jail for a while.

Judge Joseph F. Daly of Police Court imposed sentence Wednesday after dismissing another charge of distributing obscene pictures as a Halloween prank.

The students, Arthur R. Frederickson, 22, of Westfield, N.J., and Michael Bass, 20, of Woodbridge, N.J., were sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The terms are to be served on weekends, starting this weekend.

The two were accused of placing magazine pictures of women in a paper bag and taping it to the door of the house where they lived, with a sign saying "Happy Halloween, tricks and treats, take one." Children took the pictures home. Parents complained.

Mother Out Phoning, 4 Perish in Fire

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Four children—left alone while their mother went across the street to make a telephone call—died when a fire swept through their home Wednesday night, police said.

The victims were Keith Yancer, 3, and three sisters, Joan, 5, Marjorie, 1, and Melissa, 2.

Weekly Food Review

Supermarkets this weekend future bacon and steaks.

Pork loins and chops are among other pork attractions.

Steaks are highlighted because of the dual influences of very heavy cattle marketings and a seasonal preference for such other cuts as roasts.

Other beeef prices are also attractive. Chuck roasts and rib roasts are among the most widely featured cuts.

Among vegetables, general features include cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, greens, onions, potatoes, peppers and sweeet potatoes.

Apples, orangen, grapefruit and bananas are the fruit stars.

Coffee prices have edged up at wholesale, continuing a trend, but the increases have yet to show up at all retail outlets.

McNamara Agrees To Review Closing Of Base at Rome

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New York congressman says Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has agreed to review a Defense Department decision to close the Rome Air Materiel Area at Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y.

At a meeting Wednesday arranged by chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y., asked McNamara to take another look at the decision.

He presented McNamara with two documents prepared by Rome officials which contend that closing the supply center would be false economy.

There was no indication at the meeting that McNamara would change his decision. But Pirnie said it was up to the Defense Department to show that its position on the center is sound.

Pirnie said there was insufficient time at Wednesday's meeting to protest against the decision to close the Schenectady, N.Y., Army Depot.

About 7,500 persons would be affected by a shutdown of the Rome base. An additional 1,800 civilian employes would be affected at Schenectady.

AT CAPTAIN'S TABLE—William Drescher of Esopus, right, is seated at table next to Capt. Mathios Zarbis aboard Greek Liner Columbia in 1956. Capt. Zarbis was master of Greek Liner Lakonia which burst into flames Dec. 22 off coast of Africa, leaving 91 persons dead and 64 missing. Dresher had a regular acquaintance with Capt. Zarbis aboard Columbia in 1956 voyage from Europe to Quebec and spoke highly of him. Other Columbia passengers are at left.

Praises Master of Ill-Fated Lakonia

Town of Esopus Man Once Sailed With Capt. Zarbis

A Town of Esopus man once sailed on a ship captained by Capt. Mathios Zarbis, master of the ill-fated Greek cruise liner Lakonia which was swept by a fire at sea Dec. 22 leaving 91 person dead and 64 missing.

Fire broke out on the Lakonia as she was sailing from Britain to the Madeira and Canary Islands with 1,041 persons aboard. Ships and aircraft rushed to pick up survivors in an all-out rescue effort. A week later she was being towed toward Gibralter, the burned-out shell of the cruise liner sank into 13,200 feet of Atlantic Ocean water.

Capt. Zarbis, after being landed in the Canary Island by a rescue ship, was flown to Athens for an inquiry behind closed doors.

There were reports after the tragedy some of the crew of the 33-year-old liner panicked and ignored the traditional "women and children first" in a mad scramble to lifeboats. But there also were accounts of heroism — of crew members and even passengers, risking their lives to help others.

The British Ministry of Transport plans a private inquiry into the disaster, independent of the Greek inquiry. Under a Safety of Life at Sea convention in Geneva in 1948, each maritime nation was mandated to conduct inspection of its sea vessels to insure that they meet common standards.

Drescher told The Freeman that he sailed in June 1956 aboard the Greek Line T.S.S. Columbia which at that time had Capt. Zarbis as master.

"Knew His Job"

He described Zarbis—a veteran of 15 years with the Greek Line—as "a very fine gentleman" who "knew his job."

Drescher said that while on the 1956 cruise, he met Zarbis two or three times a day and many times sat at his side at the captain's table.

Zarbis told him, Dresher said, that he had an uncle who lived in Poughkeepsie during World War II. He said the captain also related a story about his childhood and how he went to sea. Zarbis, he said, told him that while on a sailing vessel, he and his parents stopped at an island for water. Zarbis said when they returned their ship had disappeared. He said that the next day they returned to where the ship had been anchored and found it right where they had left it.

Drescher said Zarbis told him that his name translated from Greek meant "left-handed." He said the steamship Columbia was a very light craft, about 10,000 tons, compared to the 20,314-ton liner Lakonia.

Drescher said the 1956 trip was from Bremershaven to Montreal, Que. via the North Atlantic. He obtained the captain's autograph on the Farewell Dinner menu card for first class passengers, dated June 23, 1956.

Hudson to Discuss Disposition of Schools

The board of education and common council of Hudson will meet next Monday to discuss the disposition of three school buildings which will be replaced by new elementary schools now under construction.

Buildings involved are the Allen Street, Fourth Street and Sixth Street schools. The meeting has been called so that the aldermen may express views on how best to dispose of the buildings and make sure they are to be disposed of in the best interest of the city. The board of education has made no decision concerning the three structures. New schools under construction are scheduled for use next September.

In recent weeks speculation has been given to the possibility of using the buildings for relocating several of the city's fire companies; new garage facilities for the department of public works; and, for expansion of the Columbia County Welfare Department.

Supervisors Asking For 6-Man Juries

LITTLE VALLEY, N.Y. (AP) — The Cattaraugus County Board of Supervisors has asked the State Legislature for measures making a six-man jury legal in county and supreme courts.

In a resolution unanimously adopted Wednesday night, the supervisors said the request was made to reduce jury and court costs. A six-member jury is permissable in peace justice and city courts.

The board also asked for permission to raise fees for filing notes of issue from $3.00 to $25.00.

In other business, the supervisors asked the Legislature to limit the state to the purchase of only 20 per cent of total acreage in any township in Cattaraugus County. The resolution also requested the state to pay its share of taxes for property it has purchased.

The board includes 28 Republicans and 21 Democrats.

LITTLE VALLEY, N.Y. (AP) — The Cattaraugus County Board of Supervisors has asked the State Legislature for measures making a six-man jury legal in county and supreme courts.

In a resolution unanimously adopted Wednesday night, the supervisors said the request was made to reduce jury and court costs. A six-member jury is permissable in peace justice and city courts.

The board also asked for permission to raise fees for filing notes of issue from $3.00 to $25.00.

In other business, the supervisors asked the Legislature to limit the state to the purchase of only 20 per cent of total acreage in any township in Cattaraugus County. The resolution also requested the state to pay its share of taxes for property it has purchased.

The board includes 28 Republicans and 21 Democrats.

Economic Behavior Revealed In Results of Survey Here

For the past 16 years the Survey Research Center, a part of the Institute for Social Research of the University of Michigan, has been conducting studies of the American public, gathering information from consumers, businessmen, voters, workers, parents and organization members.

In recent months that study has been conducted in Ulster County by Mrs. Walter Herring and Mrs. Edmund Bower. This study is carried on through the use of interviews with representative samples, persons being selected at random for interview. No names are made public and the results of the interviews are not made known by name or locations.

Facts Are Available

All research conducted by the Center is of general scientific interest and the results are publicly available after facts have been compiled and analyzed by the University.

Presently the Survey Research Center, as a part of its regular research program, is making a study of the American consumer and his plans for saving or spending. Each year such a study is made throughout the United States, and the results are used by teachers, business men and people in government to obtain a better understanding of how the American public is getting along.

Results of the 1962 study have been made available in a pamplet recently printed, "The Consumer Survey of the Economic Behavior Program."

Among the facts disclosed are income and income expectations; purchase of household durable goods; installment indebtedness; attitudes toward tax reduction; attitudes toward government programs; plans for retirement; long-range income expectations; attitudes toward the stock market; automobile purchases and many other attitudes of the public.

Cites Trends

Information secured through the research program shows that about four out of 10 families purchased furniture or household appliances during 1962 and about half of those families bought for cash, and about half borrowed some or all of the amount spent.

New car purchases are highly related to income. At each higher income level a higher proportion of families buy new cars. Many more families buy used cars than new cars, however, except among the group with very high income of $10,000 or more.

The average price of new cars in 1962 was a little more than $3,000. Six in 10 of new car buyers borrowed for the purchase of their car. The average amount borrowed was $1,800. Half of the used cars were bought on credit and the average amount borrowed was $700. Four-fifths of American families own one or more automobiles.

The survey shows that installment debt is most common among people in the middle income groups, $5,000 to $9,999, and more people in these groups have $500 or more of installment debt than any other income level. It was disclosed that young people are generally willing to incur debt. At each income level, over half of those under 35 years of age have installment debt.

Indicate Expectations

Long-range income expectations showed that almost three-fourths of the people, not including retired persons or housewives, expect to have the same job in a few years that they have at present. Younger persons and persons with below average income expect to change jobs more frequently than older or higher income people, but the differences between these groups are small. The majority of people believe that their earnings will rise during the next 10 years. This belief lessens with age.

Even at relatively early age there exists much concern about retirement, and most people have general notions about what they will do after retirement.

About one-third of those people over 35 years of age and not yet retired thought they would be doing some work for pay after retirement.

Although retirement and old age were mentioned as reasons for saving, second in frequency to saving for emergencies and security, only a quarter of the people said they actually were saving for retirement. This is true for all income groups. Only one in four said they expected to relocate on retirement and a great majority expect to own their home debt free by the time of retirement.

Accent on Vacations

Americans are becoming increasingly interested in vacation travel. In 1962 over one-fourth of all families took a vacation trip costing at least $100 and of these trips, one out of 10 was to a place 1,000 miles or more away from home. The average amount spent on vacation trips was $410.

Young married couples without children are most likely to take trips but their expenses are not particularly high. Couples over 45 are somewhat less likely to take trips, but they spend more money. Only 18 per cent of retired people took vacation trips in 1962.

The survey shows that higher education not only results in generally higher income, but interruptions through layoffs and unemployment are less common at higher educational levels.

It was also disclosed that wives of husbands who earn less than $10,000 frequently work and that 60 per cent of the wives with income add less than $2,000 a year to the family income.

One in Five Own Stock

Almost one in every five families now own stock but about one-third of all families who own stock have small amounts, under $1,000. Larger stockholders are most frequent among those with incomes of $15,000 or more.

Locally the interviewers will shortly be visiting homes and inquiring into other phases of the American home life. Each of the persons employed by the University of Michigan to conduct this survey is armed with the proper credentials.

Kept on Fishing

Shortly after they dropped lines Wednesday on Duck Lake their pickup truck broke through the ice and sank into 11 feet of water. The men continued fishing.

Both hooked their limit of good-sized trout.

It's best not to wash grapes before they are used, but do store them (in one layer) in the refrigerator.

It was disclosed that young people are generally willing to incur debt. At each income level, over half of those under 35 years of age have installment debt.

Indicate Expectations

Long-range income expectations showed that almost three-fourths of the people, not including retired persons or housewives, expect to have the same job in a few years that they have at present. Younger persons and persons with below average income expect to change jobs more frequently than older or higher income people, but the differences between these groups are small. The majority of people believe that their earnings will rise during the next 10 years. This belief lessens with age.

Even at relatively early age there exists much concern about retirement, and most people have general notions about what they will do after retirement.

About one-third of those people over 35 years of age and not yet retired thought they would be doing some work for pay after retirement.

Although retirement and old age were mentioned as reasons for saving, second in frequency to saving for emergencies and security, only a quarter of the people said they actually were saving for retirement. This is true for all income groups. Only one in four said they expected to relocate on retirement and a great majority expect to own their home debt free by the time of retirement.

Accent on Vacations

Americans are becoming increasingly interested in vacation travel. In 1962 over one-fourth of all families took a vacation trip costing at least $100 and of these trips, one out of 10 was to a place 1,000 miles or more away from home. The average amount spent on vacation trips was $410.

Young married couples without children are most likely to take trips but their expenses are not particularly high. Couples over 45 are somewhat less likely to take trips, but they spend more money. Only 18 per cent of retired people took vacation trips in 1962.

The survey shows that higher education not only results in generally higher income, but interruptions through layoffs and unemployment are less common at higher educational levels.

It was also disclosed that wives of husbands who earn less than $10,000 frequently work and that 60 per cent of the wives with income add less than $2,000 a year to the family income.

One in Five Own Stock

Almost one in every five families now own stock but about one-third of all families who own stock have small amounts, under $1,000. Larger stockholders are most frequent among those with incomes of $15,000 or more.

Locally the interviewers will shortly be visiting homes and inquiring into other phases of the American home life. Each of the persons employed by the University of Michigan to conduct this survey is armed with the proper credentials.

Kept on Fishing

Shortly after they dropped lines Wednesday on Duck Lake their pickup truck broke through the ice and sank into 11 feet of water. The men continued fishing.

Both hooked their limit of good-sized trout.

Student Stays Awake 264 Hours in Test

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — How does it feel after sleeping for the first time in 11 days?

"I feel like Ive been asleep for 70 days," said 17-year-old Randy Gardner, stretching and rubbing his eyes. Actually he had slept 14 hours and 43 minutes, which isn't bad for the world's insomniac champion.

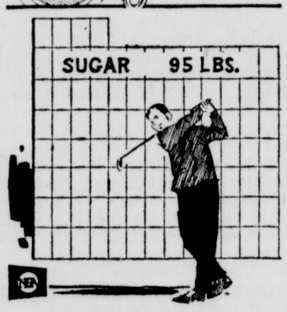

Randy won the title by staying awake for 264 hours at a San Diego naval hospital as part of a high school science project. The former record of 260 hours was set by a Honolulu disc jockey in 1959.

Said Dr. Fred Castro who examined him: "He's doing real well."

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — How does it feel after sleeping for the first time in 11 days?

"I feel like Ive been asleep for 70 days," said 17-year-old Randy Gardner, stretching and rubbing his eyes. Actually he had slept 14 hours and 43 minutes, which isn't bad for the world's insomniac champion.

The robbery occurred only one half block from city police headquarters and almost directly across the street from county police offices.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) - Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino said today he did not expect the Legislature to act this year on proposals to legalize off-track betting on horses in New York State.

The Republican leader, an arch opponent of off-track betting, told reporters he thought public hearings should be held to bring out the facts on the proposal.

He indicated his belief that, when the facts were fully developed, the plan would fall into public disfavor.

Carlino discussed the question after distributing to members of the Legislature and to newsmen an 88 - page report detailing problems that have developed as a result of off-track betting in England.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Can the H-bomb be funny?

A lot of people may not think so, and hence may pass up Stanley Hubrick's new film, "Dr. Strangelove, or: How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb." It may be their loss. Despite its arch title, the film is one of the wildest satires in recent times.

Eerie Beginning

That doesn't mean that "Dr. Strangelove etc." is an unqualified success. Some of its humor is misdirected and the actors sometimes get out of hand. But when its aim is on-target, whammo!

The film starts out eerily with the camera advancing over a carpet of clouds through which juts a mountain peak. Under this eternal shroud in the arctic, the narrator ominously intones, the Russians are working on the ultimate weapon, the doomsday bomb. The musical background is a syrupy rendition of "Try A Little Tenderness."

Then the mad saga begins. A psychotic Air Force general (Sterling Hayden) cracks up and sends a fleet of bombers with their deadly cargo toward the Soviet Union. The general is the only person who knows the code that can retrieve the bombers, and he isn't telling it.

Aroused From Tryst

The commanding Air Force general (George C. Scott) is roused from a motel tryst to attend a meeting with the President and other high officials in the war room. The interplay becomes more ludicrous and the tension mounts until—well, I won't tip the ending. But I will say that the background music is another syrupy number, "We'll Meet Again."

The tone of the satire is demonstrated by the character names. Hayden is Gen. Jack D. Ripper, Scott (who purposely overacts but gets a little out of hand) is Gen. Buck Turgidson and Keenan Wynn plays Gen. Bat Guano.

Devastating Results

The Kubrick touch is more of the sledgehammer than the stiletto variety, and the results are devastating. Nothing is spared; the monolithic military, the bewildered civilian officials, the double-dealing Russians, all are equal victims in the nightmarish comedy.

Peter Sellers displays his gift of mimicry in three leading roles: 1. Group Capt. Mandrake, a British officer who tries to dissuade Gen. Ripper; 2. President Muffley, the Adlai Stevenson-like chief executive; 3. Dr. Strangelove, a German scientist working for the Americans. The latter is a classic.

Rhinebeck Man Asks $100,000 From State

Walter H. Smith, of Rhinebeck, a former special game protector, who was employed to patrol the Dutchess County estates of former Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Lowell Thomas, is seeking $100,000 from the state.

Smith claims he was maliciously prosecuted for posing as a Conservation Department employe in 1958. Hearing on the claim began Tuesday in the Court of Claims, Albany, before Justice Russell G. Hunt.

The claimant was later acquitted by a jury of the allegations. He contends he was "trapped" by an acquaintance of two game wardens.

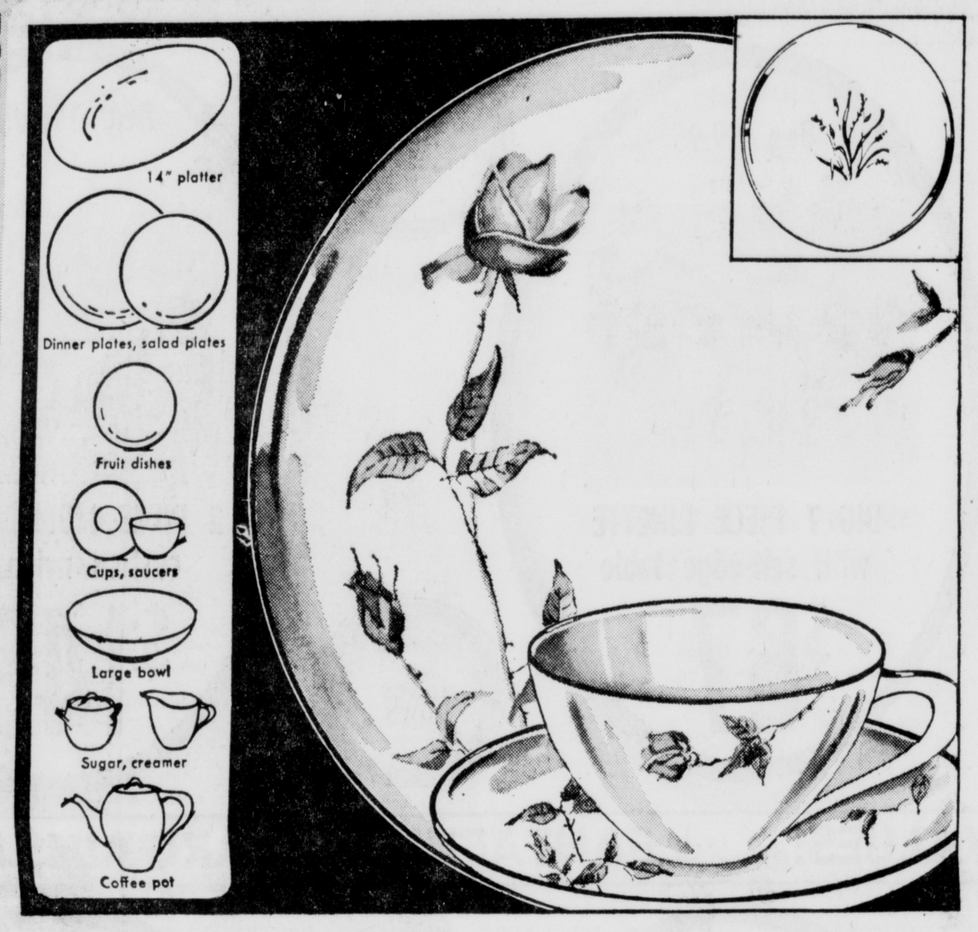

If you are browning chicken "as is" in hot fat in a skillet, be sure to dry the chicken pieces thoroughly before they go into the pan. If you don't, the moisture will interfere with the browning process.

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino really doesn't expect those tax increases he has been talking about.

The Republican leader made his fellow legislators wince this week when he said no one should rule out the prospect of higher taxes in the legislative session that opened Wednesday.

Against Brushoff

Carlino explained later to a reporter that he had commented in line with his view that major legislative decisions should not be made before the lawmakers opened their session.

Many individuals and organizations think state aid to education should be increased and taxes raised if necessary, Carlino pointed out.

"We owe these people the courtesy of a hearing," Carlino said. "We shouldn't brush them aside before we even meet."

The speaker held that it was up to the Legislature to review all fiscal proposals and then decide what the state's fiscal policy should be.

He conceded he saw little likelihood of tax increases, particularly in view of Gov. Rockefeller's oft - repeated promise there would be none.

"I expect that's the way it will turn out," Carlino said, "but at least we ought to take a look at all proposals."

Legislative opposition to Rockefeller's proposal for repeal of the full crew laws developed as expected.

The Democratic minority leaders said they were against repeal. And several Republicans expressed unhappiness that the governor had raised the controversial proposal in an election year.

More than one Republican assemblyman hoped that the bill would be killed again in the Senate, as it has been in past years, and that they would not be forced to stand up and be counted on the issue.

Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney has been chiefly responsible for the death of past repeal measures and his fellow Republicans worried about the labor vote would be happy to allow him the same function this year.

The Board of Regents wandered into a conflict with Gov. Rockefeller in its 1964 legislative proposals.

Rockefeller long has argued that no tax money is involved in his plan for borrowing money to expand the State University.

Tuition from students, not tax revenues, will be used to redeem the bonds and hence the plan does not breach his pay-as-you-go policy, Rockefeller argues.

No Assurance on Money

When it is pointed out that the students paying the tuition receive scholar - incentive payments financed by state taxes, Rockefeller says there is no assurance the student is using that money for tuition. No one can say the scholar-incentive money is returned to the state as tuition, Rockefeller has argued.

In advocating this week that the City University of New York adopt a tuition policy similar to the State University's, the board said:

"The state's scholar-incentive program and the Regents scholarship program would automatically reimburse students for a substantial amount of any tuition charge imposed."

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)— For the first time in history, a Lutheran ordination has taken place in Geneva, stronghold of the 16th Century Calvinist reformation. At the 256-year-old Lutheran church on Place du Bourg-de-Four, American Lutheran leader Dr. Franklin Clark Fry ordained Paul E. Hoffman, a staff member of the Lutheran World Federation with offices here.

When it is pointed out that the students paying the tuition receive scholar - incentive payments financed by state taxes, Rockefeller says there is no assurance the student is using that money for tuition. No one can say the scholar-incentive money is returned to the state as tuition, Rockefeller has argued.

In advocating this week that the City University of New York adopt a tuition policy similar to the State University's, the board said:

"The state's scholar-incentive program and the Regents scholarship program would automatically reimburse students for a substantial amount of any tuition charge imposed."

on the highways and rain would continue and turn to snow flurries later tonight.

Rain Continues

Town of Woodstock sanding operations started at 7 a. m., a spokesman at town barn said this morning. Shortly before 11 a. m. freezing rain was reported continuing and impeding the work of the town highway crews.

In the Town of Hurley, highway department crews struggled along with three sanding trucks. A spokesman at the town barn said the crews started at 6:30 a. m. but were handicapped by the many hills in Hurley and West Hurley. He said highways became frozen and slippery minutes after sanding.

South of Kingston traffic snarls were reported on Route 32 at the Ballantine hill. Cars and trucks were backed up for miles while motorists waited for sanding crews to arrive.

Slows Traffic

Broadway and some main arteries in Kingston were wet and passable at slow speed. Some minor tie-ups were reported at Flatbush Avenue and Foxhall near the intersection with Hasbrouck.

Kingston police reported one person injured in one of three minor mishaps between 7 and 10 a. m.

Dominic Mercurio, 18, of Ulster Park, riding in a car driven by Paul J. Pirc, 19, RD 1, Ulster Park, suffered slight face cuts when it skidded about 9 a. m. into the car of Walter Dougherty, of 86 Henry Street, parked near that address. Mercurio was treated at the Benedictine Hospital. Officers Weston Hoffay and George Dougherty investigated.

Thruway traffic through the Hudson Valley was reported crawling early this morning. The report shortly after noon today was as follows: New York City to Newburgh, rain and road wet; Newburgh to Rochester, freezing rain, road icy in spots, and Rochester to Pennsylvania state line, wet.

Rash of Mishaps

State Police were called to investigate a rash of traffic accidents during the early morning. No one was seriously injured in any of the mishaps.

At 8:15 a. m. a Continental Baking Company truck operated by William J. McNass, 32, of 19 Center Road, Mt. Marion, slid into a ditch on Route 209 about three miles south of Stone Ridge and overturned. McNass told troopers he took to the ditch when another car ahead stopped on a grade as he traveled north. The driver was unconscious and removed from the vehicle by Rondout Valley Rescue Squad. He was taken to Benedictine Hospital with neck and right arm injuries. Injuries were reported as not serious.

Also at 8:15 a. m. a State Department of Public Works station wagon operated by Andrew Kearney, 43, of 52 Chapel Street, Kingston and a car operated by James Welcome, 48, of West Saugerties were involved in an accident.

In Sideswipe Crash

Kearney was traveling south on Old Kings Highway about 2½ miles north of Lake Katrine and the Welcome car was proceeding north on a curve when the cars sideswiped. Operators of both cars complained of bruised left hips. Trooper Jack Ostmark investigated.

Ottoson sustained possible fractured ribs and said he would see his own physician. Trooper Craig Bremer investigated.

Battle on Rights Opens Quietly in House Rules Body

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle for the civil rights bill President Johnson says must be passed this session opened quietly in the House Rules Committee.

"Mr. Celler," Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., said to Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, "there is a rumor around you want to get a rule to send H.R. 7152 to the floor."

That remark started an estimated two weeeks of hearings at which 10 or more hostile witnesses are expected to take their best shots at the bill before the committee clears it for a House vote.

Celler's committee took most of last year to fashion the 10-part billl, which deals with racial discrimination in voting, education, employment, places serving the public and federally aided programs.

Celler cited the support of Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy for the bill and called it a solidly bipartisan measure which Republicans on the Judiciary Committtee helped draft.

He said opponents could only delay but not block passage of the bill in the House. A strong majority of the Rules Committee is on record as supporting the bill but Smith is expected to run the hearings for about two weeks, giving Southern opponents a chance to get on record against it.

that this can be done. Ranking American observers say military setbacks are the result of confusion following the Nov. 1 coup which ousted President Ngo Dinh Diem. The situation will straighten out in a few months, they hope.

What if it doesn't?

No one has ready answers.

Neutralization of South Viet Nam—advocated by French President Charles de Gaulle, by Cambodia and by the Communists—could be regarded as an indirect surrender to the Communists.

The main advantage, many veteran U.S. officers here believe, would be to give Americans command initiative. There are 15,000 Americans here now. In their limited role as advisers and in support elements, many American officers and men feel handicapped.

Spanish Traffic Signs

MIAMI (AP)—Spanish signs are commonplace in Miami stores because thousands of Cuban refugees have flocked into town since Fidel Castro took power. Now, the county government is installing traffic signs in Spanish because "it's something that is needed" since many of Miami's 155,000 refugees own cars.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The six-day stock market advance stalled early this afternoon around the level of its latest all-time peak. Trading was fairly active.

Prices were mixed, with most changes small.

If Wall Street showed any surprise, it was that prices did not dip in a normal spell of general profit taking. Instead, the list remained on an even keel.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 289.2—the historic closing high it established Wednesday. Industrials were off .1, rails rose .4 and utilities were unchanged.

Selective gains among motors, oils, rails, office equipments, drugs and tobaccos were the upside features.

There were losers in the same groups. Steels continued to decline on balance as these stocks, highly favored in brokerage house comment, backed away on profit taking.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .91 at 773.555 while the Dow Jones average of 65 industrials, rails and utilities was unchanged at 271.45.

A report that Ingersoll-Rand has reached agreeement to acquire Pendleton Tool resulted in an accumulation of buy orders which delayed the opening of Pendleton. It rose 7¼ to 25½ on an initial block of 9,500 shares, later trimming a point from the rise. Ingersoll-Rand dipped nearly a point.

Radio Corp., still riding on reports of big demand for color television sets, added another point in early trading, touching a new high, but erased the gain later.

roadway in front of the IBM plant be changed to Neighborhood Road to conform with the plan and signs erected by the state on the arterial route.

Another suggestion was that Lohmaier Lane be changed to Neighborhood Road and a fourth suggested change was that the portion of Neighborhood Road south of its present cutoff be changed to Lohmaier Court. These changes were suggested in order to preserve the continuity of Neighborhood Road since the changes which came about through the construction of the Bridge-Route 28 arterial cutoff.

The suggested changes were discussed by the board and were approved.

Revised plans were received from the IBM Traffic Control Department concerning a proposal relative to a new traffic control system around the plant.

These proposals were reviewed by J. Kenneth Frazier and Associates, town engineers, and IBM will be contacted and a meeting arranged where the town officials can sit down with IBM engineers and discuss a few alternate possibilities. Among the possibilities for discussion will be the change from suggested types of control mechanism to alternate types which members of the board feel may serve better.

Echoes of late waterworks days: Atop the great new Ashokan main dam, the laying of concrete blocks and kindred finishing-up operations was being carried on by eight gangs of workmen. Some 1,900 men and 300 animals were busy on dams and dikes. Negro 'mule skinners, (brought up from Virginia) performed Herculean feats in moving Olive soil from one place to another. Nine steam shovels made a new landscape and hundreds of thousands of embankment fill were compacted by 13 steam rollers each weighing some 13 tons. All this and much more was going on in the vicinity of Shokan 50 years ago.

Viet Nam Head Outlines Program In Victory Drive

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho today outlined a reform program aimed at summoning all national forces to win the U.S.-backed war against the Communist Viet Cong.

In a State of the Nation address, Tho called for discipline and unity among his people. He promised them little. He said democratic liberty must wait.

His speech, delivered to the newly created Council of Notables, was the first major declaration of policy by the revolutionary regime which overthrew President Ngo Ninh Diem in November.

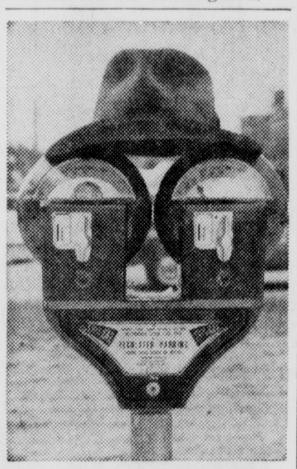

"Resources of the country are highly limited and have been depleted and wasted in the past nine years," Tho said. "Pressing claims of the people who yearn for democratic liberty cannot yet be satisfied."

One major reform cited by Tho has been urged by American authorities in Viet Nam. That is what Tho termed "a thorough reorganization of the armed forces to establish a command system appropriate to wartime to use to the maximum all armed forces in pacification operations."

Tho summed up by saying: "We have to balance a scanty budget without overtaxing the perturbed market while boosting production in every sector and intensify the anti-Viet Cong war effort while seeing to it that more schools, hospitals and houses are built and more jobs are available to the working class."

Ignore Phone Salesmen: They May Be Phonies

Q) "A salesman calls me in a dither and gets all excited over some stock that is going to the moon right away. Afterwards, he calls and urges me to sell certain stocks before I lose my shirt. I sold three stocks on such urgency and all have since gone up. I bought three stocks and all have gone down. How do I know what advice to follow and what to ignore?" — R. B.

A) You are describing a typical boiler-room technique.

I would ignore any telephone salesmen, unless he were well known to me as trustworthy. I would particularly ignore anyone who calls and uses urgency and excitement as incentives to action.

I advise you very strongly to place your affairs in the hands of a high grade firm, which would never tolerate the tactics you mention. Buy good stocks for good investment. Don't do much trading — it rarely pays off for the amateur.

Q) "I am retired at age 69. It is necessary for me to sell one stock this year and one in 1965. Would you please advise me as to which of the following I should sell? I own General Motors; General Telephone; Boston Edison; Columbia Gas; Kroger; General Public Utilities; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Ford." — W. C.

A) You pose a difficult problem, because you hold such an excellent list of stocks.

Since you own two motor issues — which are capable of wide variation in earnings and price — I would first dispose of Ford.

This is a fine company but it is not as strong as General Motors, either in profit margins or in the ability to maintain its share of the market.

Presumably, you require income in your retirement. On that presumption, I would sell in 1965 my lowest income producer, probably General Telephone — a strong growth issue — which now sells to yield only 2.8 per cent.

"I have thought that the best way to serve that end would be by not getting into the scramble myself, but by talking about issues and attempting to give leadership in developing a program against the present administration and for a Republican alternative.

"I've been around this track," he said. "I know what the presidency requires and what the campaign requires.

"Meanwhile I'm staying, not on the sidelines, but in the thick of the battle—a blocking back, you might say, or, to use a hockey term, the one who gives the assist. You know you get just as much credit for the assist as you do for the goal."

Goldwater made his major speech of the current tour Wednesday night before more than 1,500 at St. Anselm's College in Manchester.

In his prepared text—which he largely discarded—he charged the Johnson administration "in order to placate the Soviets, obviously is pushing for a neutralized Europe."

Goldwater also said most Americans would like to see Cuba invaded to topple Fidel Castro, but he said economic and political pressure can do the trick. Goldwater added that if the late President John F. Kennedy had kept the 1962 blockade in force "for another few days" Castro would have been finished.

Also at 8:15 a. m. a State Department of Public Works station wagon operated by Andrew Kearney, 43, of 52 Chapel Street, Kingston and a car operated by James Welcome, 48, of West Saugerties were involved in an accident.

In Sideswipe Crash

Kearney was traveling south on Old Kings Highway about 2½ miles north of Lake Katrine and the Welcome car was proceeding north on a curve when the cars sideswiped. Operators of both cars complained of bruised left hips. Trooper Jack Ostmark investigated.

Ottoson sustained possible fractured ribs and said he would see his own physician. Trooper Craig Bremer investigated.

Battle on Rights Opens Quietly in House Rules Body

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle for the civil rights bill President Johnson says must be passed this session opened quietly in the House Rules Committee.

"Mr. Celler," Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., said to Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, "there is a rumor around you want to get a rule to send H.R. 7152 to the floor."

That remark started an estimated two weeeks of hearings at which 10 or more hostile witnesses are expected to take their best shots at the bill before the committee clears it for a House vote.

Celler's committee took most of last year to fashion the 10-part billl, which deals with racial discrimination in voting, education, employment, places serving the public and federally aided programs.

Celler cited the support of Johnson and the late President John F. Kennedy for the bill and called it a solidly bipartisan measure which Republicans on the Judiciary Committtee helped draft.

He said opponents could only delay but not block passage of the bill in the House. A strong majority of the Rules Committee is on record as supporting the bill but Smith is expected to run the hearings for about two weeks, giving Southern opponents a chance to get on record against it.

U. S. Has Choice

that this can be done. Ranking American observers say military setbacks are the result of confusion following the Nov. 1 coup which ousted President Ngo Dinh Diem. The situation will straighten out in a few months, they hope.

What if it doesn't?

No one has ready answers.

Neutralization of South Viet Nam—advocated by French President Charles de Gaulle, by Cambodia and by the Communists—could be regarded as an indirect surrender to the Communists.

The main advantage, many veteran U.S. officers here believe, would be to give Americans command initiative. There are 15,000 Americans here now. In their limited role as advisers and in support elements, many American officers and men feel handicapped.

Spanish Traffic Signs

MIAMI (AP)—Spanish signs are commonplace in Miami stores because thousands of Cuban refugees have flocked into town since Fidel Castro took power. Now, the county government is installing traffic signs in Spanish because "it's something that is needed" since many of Miami's 155,000 refugees own cars.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The six-day stock market advance stalled early this afternoon around the level of its latest all-time peak. Trading was fairly active.

Prices were mixed, with most changes small.

If Wall Street showed any surprise, it was that prices did not dip in a normal spell of general profit taking. Instead, the list remained on an even keel.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 289.2—the historic closing high it established Wednesday. Industrials were off .1, rails rose .4 and utilities were unchanged.

Selective gains among motors, oils, rails, office equipments, drugs and tobaccos were the upside features.

There were losers in the same groups. Steels continued to decline on balance as these stocks, highly favored in brokerage house comment, backed away on profit taking.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .91 at 773.555 while the Dow Jones average of 65 industrials, rails and utilities was unchanged at 271.45.

A report that Ingersoll-Rand has reached agreeement to acquire Pendleton Tool resulted in an accumulation of buy orders which delayed the opening of Pendleton. It rose 7¼ to 25½ on an initial block of 9,500 shares, later trimming a point from the rise. Ingersoll-Rand dipped nearly a point.

Radio Corp., still riding on reports of big demand for color television sets, added another point in early trading, touching a new high, but erased the gain later.

roadway in front of the IBM plant be changed to Neighborhood Road to conform with the plan and signs erected by the state on the arterial route.

Another suggestion was that Lohmaier Lane be changed to Neighborhood Road and a fourth suggested change was that the portion of Neighborhood Road south of its present cutoff be changed to Lohmaier Court. These changes were suggested in order to preserve the continuity of Neighborhood Road since the changes which came about through the construction of the Bridge-Route 28 arterial cutoff.

The suggested changes were discussed by the board and were approved.

Revised plans were received from the IBM Traffic Control Department concerning a proposal relative to a new traffic control system around the plant.

These proposals were reviewed by J. Kenneth Frazier and Associates, town engineers, and IBM will be contacted and a meeting arranged where the town officials can sit down with IBM engineers and discuss a few alternate possibilities. Among the possibilities for discussion will be the change from suggested types of control mechanism to alternate types which members of the board feel may serve better.

Discuss Medical Plan

A representative of Blue Cross was present and discussed with the board the state-wide plan which was adopted by the county last year in relation to hospitalization, medical care etc. The town has been considering the various plans being offered and will take under consideration the plan which was presented last evening.

Echoes of late waterworks days: Atop the great new Ashokan main dam, the laying of concrete blocks and kindred finishing-up operations was being carried on by eight gangs of workmen. Some 1,900 men and 300 animals were busy on dams and dikes. Negro 'mule skinners, (brought up from Virginia) performed Herculean feats in moving Olive soil from one place to another. Nine steam shovels made a new landscape and hundreds of thousands of embankment fill were compacted by 13 steam rollers each weighing some 13 tons. All this and much more was going on in the vicinity of Shokan 50 years ago.

Viet Nam Head Outlines Program In Victory Drive

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho today outlined a reform program aimed at summoning all national forces to win the U.S.-backed war against the Communist Viet Cong.

In a State of the Nation address, Tho called for discipline and unity among his people. He promised them little. He said democratic liberty must wait.

His speech, delivered to the newly created Council of Notables, was the first major declaration of policy by the revolutionary regime which overthrew President Ngo Ninh Diem in November.

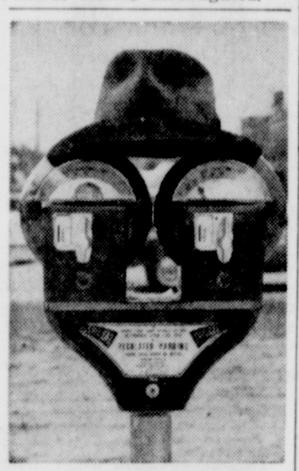

"Resources of the country are highly limited and have been depleted and wasted in the past nine years," Tho said. "Pressing claims of the people who yearn for democratic liberty cannot yet be satisfied."

One major reform cited by Tho has been urged by American authorities in Viet Nam. That is what Tho termed "a thorough reorganization of the armed forces to establish a command system appropriate to wartime to use to the maximum all armed forces in pacification operations."

Tho summed up by saying: "We have to balance a scanty budget without overtaxing the perturbed market while boosting production in every sector and intensify the anti-Viet Cong war effort while seeing to it that more schools, hospitals and houses are built and more jobs are available to the working class."

Ignore Phone Salesmen: They May Be Phonies

Q) "A salesman calls me in a dither and gets all excited over some stock that is going to the moon right away. Afterwards, he calls and urges me to sell certain stocks before I lose my shirt. I sold three stocks on such urgency and all have since gone up. I bought three stocks and all have gone down. How do I know what advice to follow and what to ignore?" — R. B.

A) You are describing a typical boiler-room technique.

I would ignore any telephone salesmen, unless he were well known to me as trustworthy. I would particularly ignore anyone who calls and uses urgency and excitement as incentives to action.

I advise you very strongly to place your affairs in the hands of a high grade firm, which would never tolerate the tactics you mention. Buy good stocks for good investment. Don't do much trading — it rarely pays off for the amateur.

Q) "I am retired at age 69. It is necessary for me to sell one stock this year and one in 1965. Would you please advise me as to which of the following I should sell? I own General Motors; General Telephone; Boston Edison; Columbia Gas; Kroger; General Public Utilities; Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe; Ford." — W. C.

A) You pose a difficult problem, because you hold such an excellent list of stocks.

Since you own two motor issues — which are capable of wide variation in earnings and price — I would first dispose of Ford.

This is a fine company but it is not as strong as General Motors, either in profit margins or in the ability to maintain its share of the market.

Presumably, you require income in your retirement. On that presumption, I would sell in 1965 my lowest income producer, probably General Telephone — a strong growth issue — which now sells to yield only 2.8 per cent.

"I have thought that the best way to serve that end would be by not getting into the scramble myself, but by talking about issues and attempting to give leadership in developing a program against the present administration and for a Republican alternative.

"I've been around this track," he said. "I know what the presidency requires and what the campaign requires.

"Meanwhile I'm staying, not on the sidelines, but in the thick of the battle—a blocking back, you might say, or, to use a hockey term, the one who gives the assist. You know you get just as much credit for the assist as you do for the goal."

offers the home for conservatives, and I want to offer whatever leadership I can."

Goldwater made his major speech of the current tour Wednesday night before more than 1,500 at St. Anselm's College in Manchester.

In his prepared text—which he largely discarded—he charged the Johnson administration "in order to placate the Soviets, obviously is pushing for a neutralized Europe."

Goldwater also said most Americans would like to see Cuba invaded to topple Fidel Castro, but he said economic and political pressure can do the trick. Goldwater added that if the late President John F. Kennedy had kept the 1962 blockade in force "for another few days" Castro would have been finished.

Premier Chou Goes to Tunis For Dividend

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

TUNIS (AP) — Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai arrived in Tunis today to collect the first dividend of his African tour — Tunisia's recognition of the Peking regime.

He will confere with President Habib Bourguiba later today.

Chou interrupted his tour of Africa nine days ago to visit Albania, Red China's only ally in Communist Europe. He will spend two days in Tunisia, then go to Ghana, Mali, Guinea and East Africa.

Red China and Tunisia announced jointly on Dec. 27 that Tunisia would establish diplomatic relations with Peking when Chou came to Tunis.

Tunisia's recognition will boost to 12 the number of Red Chinese diplomatic missions in Africa. At present 15 African governments recognize the Nationalist Chinse government.

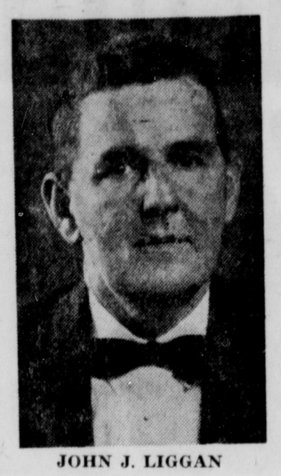

Western diplomats do not expect any radical change in Tunisia's attitude, which generally has beeen pro-Western and particularly pro-American. U.S. aid to Tunisia averages about $60 million a year.

Tunisia's plan to recognize Red China is explained as "political realism" on the part of this North African nation, which is officially pledged to a policy of nonalignment.

President Habib Bourguiba wants to "normalize" the relations between the two nations, official sources say.

Tunisia twice voted in favor of Red China's admission to the United Nations and has sent several exploratory cultural and trade missions to Peking.

Why We Say--

"UP THE SPOUT"

NOT REDEEMED: This old phrase for something that is gone and cannot be brought back, started before the Civil War. Pawn shops had long chutes or spouts where they stored articles until redeemed. If the customer did not come back, the articles were lost to him or remained "up the spout."

Premier Chou Goes to Tunis For Dividend

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

TUNIS (AP) — Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai arrived in Tunis today to collect the first dividend of his African tour — Tunisia's recognition of the Peking regime.

He will confere with President Habib Bourguiba later today.

Chou interrupted his tour of Africa nine days ago to visit Albania, Red China's only ally in Communist Europe. He will spend two days in Tunisia, then go to Ghana, Mali, Guinea and East Africa.

Red China and Tunisia announced jointly on Dec. 27 that Tunisia would establish diplomatic relations with Peking when Chou came to Tunis.

Tunisia's recognition will boost to 12 the number of Red Chinese diplomatic missions in Africa. At present 15 African governments recognize the Nationalist Chinse government.

Western diplomats do not expect any radical change in Tunisia's attitude, which generally has beeen pro-Western and particularly pro-American. U.S. aid to Tunisia averages about $60 million a year.

Tunisia's plan to recognize Red China is explained as "political realism" on the part of this North African nation, which is officially pledged to a policy of nonalignment.

President Habib Bourguiba wants to "normalize" the relations between the two nations, official sources say.

Tunisia twice voted in favor of Red China's admission to the United Nations and has sent several exploratory cultural and trade missions to Peking.

NOT REDEEMED: This old phrase for something that is gone and cannot be brought back, started before the Civil War. Pawn shops had long chutes or spouts where they stored articles until redeemed. If the customer did not come back, the articles were lost to him or remained "up the spout."

Widow Won't Sue

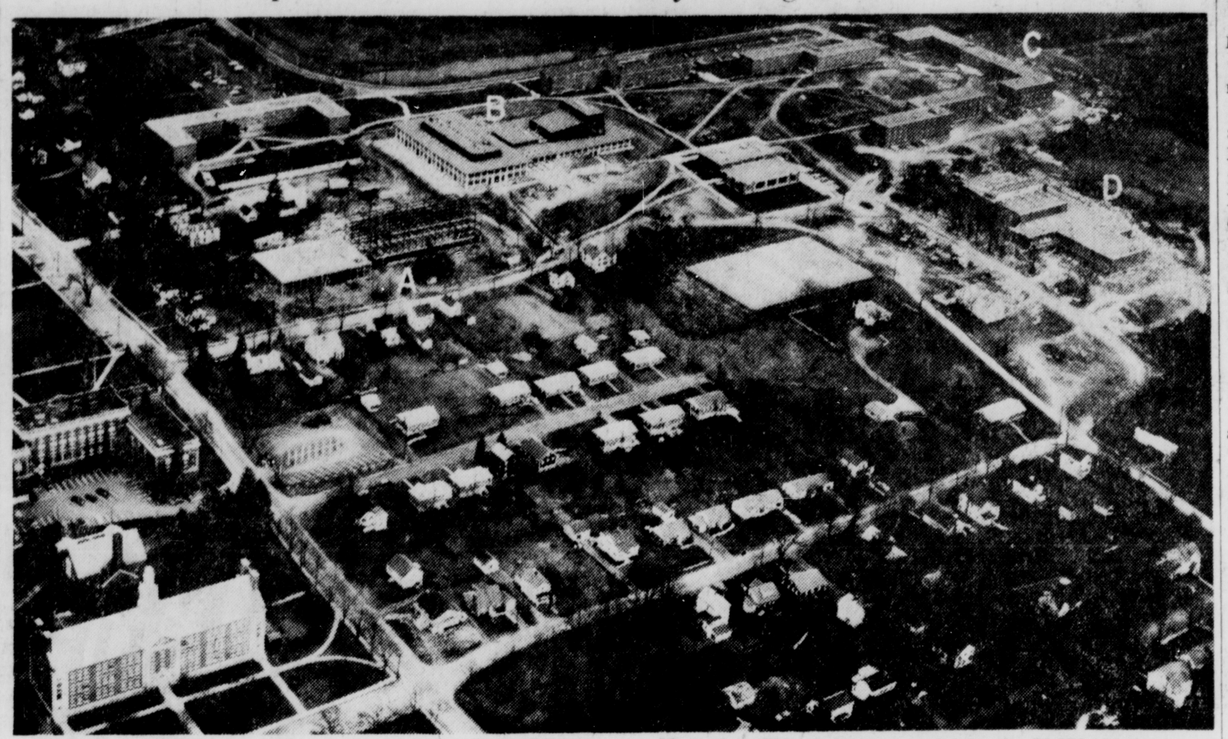

DALLAS (AP)—The widow of Lee Harvey Oswald has accepted as a fact that her husband killed President John F. Kennedy, her businesss adviser said today.

As a result, said the adviser, James H. Martin, she has no desire to sue the City of Dallas, any government or Jack Ruby, the man charged with killing Oswald two days after Kennedy was assassinated.

Mrs. Oswald, 22, has received slightly over $28,000 in contributions from over the nation.

The Secret Service continues to protect her, but "Marina is free to come and go as she pleases," Martin told newsmen.

Expansion at State University College, New Paltz

More than $9-million in construction is currently underway or just being completed at the State University College at New Paltz.

The $2,422,000 Mathematics and Science building (A) is scheduled to be in use during the 1964-1965 academic year. Gevyn Construction Corp., White Plains, is the general contractor for the structure which was designed by Fordyce & Hamby Associates of New York.

The Fine Arts building (B) and the Health and Physical Education building (D) will be completed during this academic year.

More than 300 students moved into the $1,350,000 dormitory (C) at the beginning of the Winter Quarter, January 6.

The dormitory is being completed under the direction of the Dormitory Authority, while the construction of the academic building is being coordinated by the State University Construction Fund, a public benefit corporation established by the 1962 Legislature to expedite the construction of facilities needed to meet the requirements of the State University's Master Plan.

The comprehensive plan for the expansion of the New Paltz campus has been developed by the architectural firm of Ballard Todd Associates of New York.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

POLITE NO: President Johnson has turned down politely a French hint that he meet President Charles de Gaulle of France at the Caribbean island of Martinique, it was reported Wednesday night.

Paris was told that Johnson's duties bar him from leaving the United States in the months ahead, informed sources said.

POVERTY: President Johnson's planned war on poverty would be waged over five years and cost more than $5 billion, administration sources said Wednesday night.

In briefing newsmen on his proposal, Johnson said the program would run in excess of $1 billion. But the sources said later the President's estimate was for the first year.

RAIL DECISION: Four operating unions have lost another round in their long bout with railroads over the elimination of jobs.

A federal court upheld Wednesday a special arbitration panel's ruling that would lead eventually to the wiping out of 90 per cent of the firemen's jobs on diesel freight and yard service.

BASE CLOSED: The Air Force has announced that it will shut down another of its overseas bases — this one in Spain.

It was disclosed Wednesday it is closing one of its three bomber bases in Spain by July 1 and that about 3,500 military personnel and 4,500 of their dependents will be brought home.

The B47 medium jet bombers will be moved from the Zaragosa base, which will be put on a standby basis, to the two other Spanish bases, Mron and Torrejon.

SOVIET GROWTH: The Central Intelligence Agency has concluded that the Soviet Union's economic growth is running far behind the United States' and that Russian gold reserves have dropped below $2 billion.

The CIA reported these conclusions to newsmen Wednesday after a study of the Russian economic situation.

Russia's economic growth in the last two years was rated at less than 2.5 per cent annually. The U.S. growth rate has been running at 5 per cent recently.

Deer Bound to Get Him

LINDLEY, N.Y. (AP) — Motorist Donald E. Casher, 30, of Wellsboro, Pa., spotted a deer in the road and slammed on his brakes. The automobile promptly was struck by a second deer which darted into its side.

The deer was killed. Casher took it home for venison, State Police said.

Offers Something for Everyone

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has had amazing luck. It was as if the rest of the world agreed to take a holiday from the news so he could get the biggest possible, unchallenged front-page play. And he did.

And he's been free of the anguish that comes from dealing with Congress except for a brief hurly-burly with absent members when he twisted their arms to get them back to vote on foreign aid just before Christmas.

So he had the field pretty much to himself to make announcements and pronouncements. This was bound to end, like all good things, as it is ending now with Congress.

Wednesday Congress got his State of the Union message in which he offered something for practically everyone. One derisive Republican called it a "cut-rate utopia."

There's nothing unusually ominous about that since it's just about what some Republican says every year when a Democratic president outlines his program.

But Johnson offered so much in so many fields that even a much harder working Congress than this one, which wants to get home fast for the 1964 elections, would pass only a fraction of his programs.

He knew before he proposed them that, unless he fought for them, he would be accused of making only an empty political gesture. So he can be expected to fight. But it takes two to fight.

So from now on he will have to share much of the news with Congress. But that's only a start.

The rest of the world, after being almost hush-hush for weeks, will have to return to normal with its murders, arsons, riots, tensions, conflicts, confusions and usual insanities. That's more competition for Johnson, starting any day now.

Shortly after President Kennedy's funeral it became clear Johnson, with less than a year before election and therefore with a need to make the greatest personal impact soonest, would start aiming for page one.

He could have done that anyway, without really trying and with very little interruption from anyone else, since as new President everything he did would have been news. But he went away beyond that.

He worked overtime, sometimes 18 hours a day and more, not only at his job but at creating news in 50 different directions, besides his personally conducted tours of the White House and his ranch and his deer hunting.

There weren't many events that took the play away from him since that last week in November.

Some of the outstanding exceptions were the kidnaping of Frank Sinatra Jr., the trip of Pope Paul VI to the Holy Land, and Sen. Barry Goldwater's entirely expected announcement he would like to be president.

But, even with the world back to normal, the possibilities for creating eye-catching news are by no means exhausted for the publicity-conscious Johnson. A trip abroad is a good example.

Even the Republican presidential candidates can hardly be more than occasional major competition for him on the front pages, at least until after the big party conventions next summer.

Widow Won't Sue

DALLAS (AP)—The widow of Lee Harvey Oswald has accepted as a fact that her husband killed President John F. Kennedy, her businesss adviser said today.

As a result, said the adviser, James H. Martin, she has no desire to sue the City of Dallas, any government or Jack Ruby, the man charged with killing Oswald two days after Kennedy was assassinated.

Mrs. Oswald, 22, has received slightly over $28,000 in contributions from over the nation.

The Secret Service continues to protect her, but "Marina is free to come and go as she pleases," Martin told newsmen.

Expansion at State University College, New Paltz

More than $9-million in construction is currently underway or just being completed at the State University College at New Paltz.

The $2,422,000 Mathematics and Science building (A) is scheduled to be in use during the 1964-1965 academic year. Gevyn Construction Corp., White Plains, is the general contractor for the structure which was designed by Fordyce & Hamby Associates of New York.

The Fine Arts building (B) and the Health and Physical Education building (D) will be completed during this academic year.

More than 300 students moved into the $1,350,000 dormitory (C) at the beginning of the Winter Quarter, January 6.

The dormitory is being completed under the direction of the Dormitory Authority, while the construction of the academic building is being coordinated by the State University Construction Fund, a public benefit corporation established by the 1962 Legislature to expedite the construction of facilities needed to meet the requirements of the State University's Master Plan.

The comprehensive plan for the expansion of the New Paltz campus has been developed by the architectural firm of Ballard Todd Associates of New York.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

POLITE NO: President Johnson has turned down politely a French hint that he meet President Charles de Gaulle of France at the Caribbean island of Martinique, it was reported Wednesday night.

Paris was told that Johnson's duties bar him from leaving the United States in the months ahead, informed sources said.

POVERTY: President Johnson's planned war on poverty would be waged over five years and cost more than $5 billion, administration sources said Wednesday night.

In briefing newsmen on his proposal, Johnson said the program would run in excess of $1 billion. But the sources said later the President's estimate was for the first year.

RAIL DECISION: Four operating unions have lost another round in their long bout with railroads over the elimination of jobs.

A federal court upheld Wednesday a special arbitration panel's ruling that would lead eventually to the wiping out of 90 per cent of the firemen's jobs on diesel freight and yard service.

BASE CLOSED: The Air Force has announced that it will shut down another of its overseas bases — this one in Spain.

It was disclosed Wednesday it is closing one of its three bomber bases in Spain by July 1 and that about 3,500 military personnel and 4,500 of their dependents will be brought home.

The B47 medium jet bombers will be moved from the Zaragosa base, which will be put on a standby basis, to the two other Spanish bases, Mron and Torrejon.

SOVIET GROWTH: The Central Intelligence Agency has concluded that the Soviet Union's economic growth is running far behind the United States' and that Russian gold reserves have dropped below $2 billion.

The CIA reported these conclusions to newsmen Wednesday after a study of the Russian economic situation.

Russia's economic growth in the last two years was rated at less than 2.5 per cent annually. The U.S. growth rate has been running at 5 per cent recently.

Deer Bound to Get Him

LINDLEY, N.Y. (AP) — Motorist Donald E. Casher, 30, of Wellsboro, Pa., spotted a deer in the road and slammed on his brakes. The automobile promptly was struck by a second deer which darted into its side.

The deer was killed. Casher took it home for venison, State Police said.

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has had amazing luck. It was as if the rest of the world agreed to take a holiday from the news so he could get the biggest possible, unchallenged front-page play. And he did.

And he's been free of the anguish that comes from dealing with Congress except for a brief hurly-burly with absent members when he twisted their arms to get them back to vote on foreign aid just before Christmas.

So he had the field pretty much to himself to make announcements and pronouncements. This was bound to end, like all good things, as it is ending now with Congress.

Wednesday Congress got his State of the Union message in which he offered something for practically everyone. One derisive Republican called it a "cut-rate utopia."

There's nothing unusually ominous about that since it's just about what some Republican says every year when a Democratic president outlines his program.

But Johnson offered so much in so many fields that even a much harder working Congress than this one, which wants to get home fast for the 1964 elections, would pass only a fraction of his programs.

He knew before he proposed them that, unless he fought for them, he would be accused of making only an empty political gesture. So he can be expected to fight. But it takes two to fight.

So from now on he will have to share much of the news with Congress. But that's only a start.

The rest of the world, after being almost hush-hush for weeks, will have to return to normal with its murders, arsons, riots, tensions, conflicts, confusions and usual insanities. That's more competition for Johnson, starting any day now.

Shortly after President Kennedy's funeral it became clear Johnson, with less than a year before election and therefore with a need to make the greatest personal impact soonest, would start aiming for page one.

He could have done that anyway, without really trying and with very little interruption from anyone else, since as new President everything he did would have been news. But he went away beyond that.

He worked overtime, sometimes 18 hours a day and more, not only at his job but at creating news in 50 different directions, besides his personally conducted tours of the White House and his ranch and his deer hunting.

There weren't many events that took the play away from him since that last week in November.

Some of the outstanding exceptions were the kidnaping of Frank Sinatra Jr., the trip of Pope Paul VI to the Holy Land, and Sen. Barry Goldwater's entirely expected announcement he would like to be president.

But, even with the world back to normal, the possibilities for creating eye-catching news are by no means exhausted for the publicity-conscious Johnson. A trip abroad is a good example.

Even the Republican presidential candidates can hardly be more than occasional major competition for him on the front pages, at least until after the big party conventions next summer.

$624 Million Is Romney Request, Eyes Washington

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gov. George Romney, citing what he called a "booming" economy in Michigan, asked the state legislature today to approve spending a record $624 million next fiscal year.

Romney, 56, who has announced he would accept a draft for the Republican presidential nomination, proposed the 1964-65 budget in a "state of the state" message to the legislature. His proposal is $74 million more than the present budget of $550 milliion.

The program is designed to meet two basic objectives, Romney said: "To protect and enlarge human rights, and to serve human needs."

Single Word Only Hurdle for Backers Of JFK Memorial

WASHINGTON (AP)—A single word is now the only hurdle for sponsors of a bill to build a national cultural center in memory of John F. Kennedy.

That word appears in the bill passed by the House Wednesday night over Republican opposition. The word is "sole."

The House bill authorizes $31 million for the project and designates the center as the sole national memorial to Kennedy in the Washington area. The Senate, when it passed the bill, omitted the word "sole" because it did not want to bind the hands of future Congresses.

The Senate now must decide whether to accept the House version of the bill or to meet in conference committee with House members to iron out a compromise.

Don't Send Cash For Federal Taxes

Don't send cash through the mail to pay your Federal taxes. If cash is lost or misdelivered, there is no way to trace it. This was the warning today from Edward J. Fitzgeral Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue.

The Internal Revenue Service recommends that you use a check or money order made payable to Internal Revenue Service and addressed to District Director of Internal Revenue, 161 Washington Avenue, Albany, New York 12210. Taxpayers are cautioned to fill in the name of the Internal Revenue Service as payee on postal money orders to prevent the possible fraudulent cashing of money orders if lost, misplaced or stolen. If a check or money order is misplaced, the taxpayer may always stop payment. The check or money order should accompany the return. If, for some reason, a check or money order is sent alone, be sure to attach a note explaining the exact purpose of the payment.

Fitzgerald said that taxpayers who prefer to pay in cash should bring the payment personally to the cashier's office in the Internal Revenue office where they will receive an official receipt.

Murder Charge Reduce To Second Degree

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A Westchester County grand jury has indicted Jerald McDonough, 16, on second - degree murder charges in the stabbing of a 13-year-old boy. He originally had been charged with first-degree murder.

In reducing the charge Wednesday, the jury spared McDonough the possibility of a death sentence if he is convicted.

Two other youths allegedly involved in the crime have been charged as juvenile delinquents because of their ages.

The action was heard in the New York State Court of Claims yesterday before Justice Russell G. Hunt.

Johnson's Reference To Cutback Deleted

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet censors today deleted all references to President Johnson's cutback in U.S. production of atomic explosives and his challenge to Russia to follow suit.

Soviet reports of the President's message to Congress Wednesday instead emphasized his remarks about maintaining American defense capabilities on a high level.

The Soviet Communist party organ, Pravda, also cut out references to the President's statement that the United States would introduce new disarmament proposals at Geneva and his renewal of President Kennedy's invitation to cooperate in moon exploration.

Don't send cash through the mail to pay your Federal taxes. If cash is lost or misdelivered, there is no way to trace it. This was the warning today from Edward J. Fitzgeral Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue.

The Internal Revenue Service recommends that you use a check or money order made payable to Internal Revenue Service and addressed to District Director of Internal Revenue, 161 Washington Avenue, Albany, New York 12210. Taxpayers are cautioned to fill in the name of the Internal Revenue Service as payee on postal money orders to prevent the possible fraudulent cashing of money orders if lost, misplaced or stolen. If a check or money order is misplaced, the taxpayer may always stop payment. The check or money order should accompany the return. If, for some reason, a check or money order is sent alone, be sure to attach a note explaining the exact purpose of the payment.

Fitzgerald said that taxpayers who prefer to pay in cash should bring the payment personally to the cashier's office in the Internal Revenue office where they will receive an official receipt.

Nehru Improves

BHUBANESWAR, India (AP) —Prime Minister Nehru is making satisfactory progress, a medical bulletin said today.

The Indian leader, 74, who was ordered to bed early Tuesday, spent a restful night, the bulletin added. His doctors say he is suffering from high blood pressure and fatigue.

Murder Charge Reduce To Second Degree

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A Westchester County grand jury has indicted Jerald McDonough, 16, on second - degree murder charges in the stabbing of a 13-year-old boy. He originally had been charged with first-degree murder.

In reducing the charge Wednesday, the jury spared McDonough the possibility of a death sentence if he is convicted.

Two other youths allegedly involved in the crime have been charged as juvenile delinquents because of their ages.

$100,500 Suit Results From Skiing Accident

Nine-year-old Marjorie Allice Detkin of Rockville Center, through her father, Paul G. Detkin, has sued the State of New York for $100,500, alleging that the state was negligent in the operation of the Belleayre Mountain Ski Center in Ulster County.

The girl broke her leg in a fall at the ski center when she fell on the slope on January 30, 1960.

The action was heard in the New York State Court of Claims yesterday before Justice Russell G. Hunt.

Johnson's Reference To Cutback Deleted

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet censors today deleted all references to President Johnson's cutback in U.S. production of atomic explosives and his challenge to Russia to follow suit.

Soviet reports of the President's message to Congress Wednesday instead emphasized his remarks about maintaining American defense capabilities on a high level.

The Soviet Communist party organ, Pravda, also cut out references to the President's statement that the United States would introduce new disarmament proposals at Geneva and his renewal of President Kennedy's invitation to cooperate in moon exploration.

one which would contribute substantially to a further reduction of tensions and war fears in the world.

Present U.S. thinking, pending final decisions by the President, is that the observation post plan should provide for U.S. and Soviet military observers on both Soviet and U.S. territory with the participation of officers from other countries, as might be desirable depending on the other territories involved.

as the sum paid off on the original loan of $1,300,000.00 allowed for building Colonial Gardens on Flatbush Avenue. Colonial Gardens consist of 60 four and one-half rooms, 28 five and one-half rooms and 10 three and one half rooms. Applications for these apartments may be obtained at the Authority office. It is no longer necessary to be a veteran for admittance, and apartments are rented on the basis of need and not on a first come first served basis.

Chairman Yerry advised that the plans for the new Wiltwyck Gardens Project were progressing on schedule and he hoped to have state approval on the plans within a few days.

Yerry said that "if we continue with our planning at the present rate, construction should be started early in the spring of this year."

The new Senior Citizen Housing, located on Albany Avenue adjacent to St. John's Church, will consist of 60 units. Thirty two - and - one - half room apartments and 30 three-and-one-half room apartments.

Although formal applications for these units are not ready, persons wishing to place their names on the list to receive these applications can do so by contacting the Housing Authority office on Flatbush Avenue.

Others at the meeting were Mayor John J. Schwenk, Alderman-at-Large Joseph Carroll, past Alderman-at-Large Harold Kaye and Edward Conger and William Keyser former members of the authority.

Estimate Saving

discussed the strategic and political implications of the announced 25 per cent reduction in the output of enriched uranium and the closing of four plutonium plants. They said stocks of U.S. nuclear weapons had increased 50 per cent in the past three years, making the uranium cutback possible.

Seaborg said four of the AEC's 14 plutonium producing reactors will be shut down — three at the Hanford, Wash., plant and one at the Savannah River plant near Aiken, S.C.

Three of the nine plutonium reactors at Hanford and one of the five at Savannah River will be closed down.

At the gaseous diffusion plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Portsmouth, Ohio, production of enriched uranium will be trimmed back by about 25 per cent.

"Budgetary savings of about $50 million in fiscal year 1965 will result," Seaborg said. "A total of about 2,900 contractor positions will be affected."

Approximately 2,500 of the total jobs affected will be at the Hanford and Savannah plants, with the remainder apparently in the uranium processing plants.

Naccarato Family In Need of Funds

An appeal for contributions for the family of Louis J. Naccarato Jr., whose home at 59 Lindsley Avenue was badly damaged by fire on Jan. 2, has resulted in a quantity of clothing and furniture being contributed. However much of the clothing donated cannot be used since it does not fit the three children.

At the present time, Alderman Anthony J. Alecca of the fifth ward, who is heading the Naccarato Appeal Fund, stated that small money contributions would provide the most assistance for the purchase of suitable clothing for the children. Left with only the clothing which they wore when they escaped from the house, is a 13-year-old daughter and two boys, ages 10 and 4.

Alderman Alecca today stated that there has been received a large amount of clothing and household furniture but much of the clothing is unsuited to the ages of the children and present needs are for small contributions of money so that essential items of clothing may be purchased. Alecca said that any contribution may be sent to the Naccarato Appeal Fund, 65 Gill Street. It will then be sent to the Naccarato family, who are temporarily residing with Mrs. Naccarato's mother.

Persons From 35 States Would Help Girl Save Eye

The left eye of the blonde youngster was removed last November because of cancer. Her physician, Dr. Max Goldstein of nearby Visalia, said there is a 50-50 chance the malignancy, retinoblastoma, may cost her remaining right eye.

Word of the child's plight was first spread across the nation two days before Christmas by The Associated Press. Since then more than $3,000 has been raised to pay for Margaret's medical expenses.

Among the offers of help were six persons who said they would be willing to give one of their eyes to Margaret. One such offer came from a convict at the Texas State Penitentiary in Huntsville, Bobby James Sickenberger, 30, who is serving up to 20 years for forgery and robbery by assault.

Dr. Goldstein said such a transplant in Margaret's case would be impossible.

"If the cancer spreads," Dr. Goldstein said, "Margaret's entire eye will have to be removed. In an eye transplant, only the cornea can be transferred." Doctors do not remove whole eyes from living persons for transplants.

But the doctor holds out some hope. He said with each passing week the chances grow slimmer the cancer will spread to the remaining eye.

If it does spread, Margaret will be flown to New York for special treatment.

Killed by Chemical Seeping Into Bath

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP) — Michael Hyde died on his first birthday Wednesday of burns caused by a household chemical product that apparently seeped into his bath water.

Police said Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hyde of Leroy, was burned Tuesday while being bathed in a kitchen sink by a babysitter.

The babysitter had poured the chemical into the drain in one part of a double sink, police said, and later flushed it. She gave the baby a bath in that section about four hours later, they said.

C-H Says Electric, Gas Usage at Peak

A new all-time hourly electric peak load of 295,795 kilowatts was registered on the Central Hudson System on Tuesday, Dec. 17. The new electric peak load, which was set at 6 p. m., exceeded last year's mark of 278,200 kilowatts recorded on Dec. 18, 1962.

Pre-Christmas activities, cold weather, shorter days and increased use of electricity for lighting were the principal factors in establishing the new mark.

New December High

Consumption of natural gas by Mid-Hudson Valley families, businesses and industries in December reached an all-time record, 719 million cubic feet, topping the previous high of January 1963 by 20 million cubic feet. The greatest single day's consumption was 28,592,000 cubic feet registered on December 30 when the temperature over the 24-hour period averaged only seven degrees. It was, however, almost 2 million cubic feet under the record daily high set exactly one year earlier. The gas consumption marks may be exceeded again during the next month or two since highs in natural gas usage are often experienced in the latter part of the heating season.

Last month's weather was colder than it was for December 1962 or for a "normal" December and it brought more snow, but less precipitation, than a "normal" December.

The severity of weather on house heating requirements is usually measured in terms of degree days, that is the difference between the average temperature during a 24 hour period and 65.

The average hourly temperature readings taken at the Dutchess County Airport at New Hackensack and at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh and compiled by Central Hudson show that 1307 degree days were recorded in December as compared to a "normal" of 1080 and with 1251 last year. For the first four months of the heating season 2390 degree days were recorded as compared with a "normal" of 2230 and with 2674 last year. On the average that means that from September 1 through December 31, heating requirements were seven per cent higher than a "normal" year and about 11 per cent less than the first four months of last year.

Very Dry Year

During December the greatest number of degree days, 58, were recorded on the 30th and the least number of degree days were registered on Dec. 8 with an average temperature for the day of 43 degrees.

While snowfall in the Mid-Hudson Valley averaged 12.75 inches, as compared with a "normal" for December of 8.6 inches, rain and water content of the snow during the month only averaged 1.97 incres as compared with a "normal" of 3.29 inches.

Central Hudson also confirmed what just about everyone suspected—it was a very dry year. The utility reported that precipitation in the region averaged 34.32 inches for the entire year as compared to a normal of 40.83 inches.

Record Load on Dec. 17

C-H Says Electric, Gas Usage at Peak

A new all-time hourly electric peak load of 295,795 kilowatts was registered on the Central Hudson System on Tuesday, Dec. 17. The new electric peak load, which was set at 6 p. m., exceeded last year's mark of 278,200 kilowatts recorded on Dec. 18, 1962.

Miss Mary Lou Steinhilber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Steinhilber of 267 Hasbrouck Avenue, this city, exchanged marriage vows with Wilson James Stoutenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stoutenburg, 38 Stephan Street, also of this city, on December 29 in St. Mary's Church.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. James Cunningham. Theodore Riccobono was organist and Martin Kelly, the soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza posed over bridal taffeta fashioned with a scalloped circlet neckline, fitted bodice, long tapered lace sleeves and a bouffant skirt with double lace tiered hemline. Her veil of wide English illusion was shirred to a double crown of tiny seed pearls and cut crystals. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with ivy centered with a corsage of white roses.

The bride's cousin, Joann Dawe of Sleightsburg served as maid of honor. Bridemaids were Carol Stoutenburg of Kingston, sister of the bridegroom, and Lorraine Finch of Kingston, sister of the bride. The maid of honor wore emerald green satin, white fur pillbox and she carried a white fur muff with green carnations and holly. The bridesmaids wore red satin with the white fur accessories.

Charles Finch of 58 Henry Street, this city, was best man for the bridegroom. Ushering were Gene Soutenburg of Kingston, brother of the bridegroom, and Lawrence Steinhilber of Kingston, brother of the bride.

WHEN HOSTS WIN AT CARDS

Q: You have written that a hostess does not accept a prize for high score in her own house. When guests in our house lose money to us at cards, is it improper for us to accept their money?

A: A prize donated by the hostess is quite different from money won or lost at cards, and hosts properly keep their winings or pay their losses.

Inviting Recently Bereaved Cousin to Wedding

Q: I am going to be married next month. Two weeks ago my cousin's husband died very suddenly. I am about to mail my wedding invitations. Would it be in bad taste to send her one so soon after her husband's death?

A: Write her a note saying that you are enclosing an invitation to let her know you are thinking of her and to assure her that if she feels up to coming to the reception, or even only to the church, she will be more than welcome.

Removing Plates from Table

Q: We have no one to wait on table and whenever we have guests, I serve. When removing the used plates before dessert, I pile the plates one on top of the other and remove them all at the same time to eliminate trips to the kitchen. My sister has criticized me for this and said it is not proper to stack the dishes. May I please have your opinion?

A: Your sister is right; the the plates should not be stacked. They should be removed two at a time, one in each hand.

Visitors and Television

Q: If friends drop in just as we are about to watch a favorite program on television, does courtesy exact that we turn it off, or may we leave it on and expect them to watch it with us?

A: Go toward the television saying, "I don't suppose you want to see Bill Smith's show" and turn it off, unless your visitors stop you with an enthusiastic, "Oh, do leave it on! We love his program."

Details concerning the announcement of an engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

After more than three weeks of observation, including doing a job of clock watching, we have come to the conclusion that the rules makers should leave the game of basketball alone.

Each year, these gentlemen come up with something different and it's getting so that spectators attending basketball games are going to have to purchase a book of rules to know what's going on.

THE LATEST TRAVESTY

There are several changes in the rules for the 1963-64 season, but our concern is the one which says that the clock must be stopped every time the whistle blows — whether it be for a violation, a foul, a jump ball or just a simple out-of-bounds play.

According to the officials manual, this is supposed to increase the actual playing time by approximately two-and-a-half minutes. That is pure hogwash. Some games have been as many as 20 minutes longer, especially jayvee contests where the players are not quite the caliber of the varsity performers.

BIGGER BURDEN ON OFFICIALS

The new time-out rule puts a bigger burden on officials, who already carry a huge one. They are now required to handle the ball on all out of bounds situations. Formerly, they handled it only in the forecourt. The old rule called for stopping the clock only on jump balls, fouls, unnecessary delay and timeouts.

Procedure to inform the timer is for officials to hold their hand, palm up, to stop the clock, then signal the violation. However, even if that isn't done, the timer just has to remember that the clock is automatically stopped each time the whistle blows.

To our way of thinking, this new rule hinders a team with speed. It automatically takes away the fast break because the officials has to hand the ball to the player tossing it inbounds.

One argument in favor of the new rule is that it enables the official to keep the game under control at all times. However, games which used to be finished in a little more than an hour, are now taking more than an hour and a half.

We think this rule will be abolished after this year. There's just too much sentiment against it.

OTHER RULES CHANGES

The rules committee has done away with subterfuges to gain officials' time-outs, eliminating all for "fixing equipment" — such as shoes, laces, etc — and a team will be charged with a time-out for such things, except in the case of lost contact lenses or dislodged eyeglasses.

The defense is getting the breaks in the new interpretation which allows a defensive man to jump in front of an offensive player who has the ball, as long as he maintains a guarding position. If the latter runs into the body of the defender, the foul is on the offensive player. At one time the benefit of the doubt went to the player with the ball.

The offense is also charged with the contact bonus on pivot plays. So long as the defensive player maintains a "paper-thin" space between himself and a back-to-the-basket shooter, the latter fouls if he backs or turns into the defender.

Actually, the rules have been the same since 1954 but the interpretation, at least in these cases, now aids the defense.

AN EARLIER START

Teams in the UCAL and DCSL may have to follow the DUSO pattern and start jayvee games at 6:30. If not, varsity games might run as late as 11 o'clock.

Another solution might be to play jayvee contests in the afternoon. This might not meet the approval of those who control the budget strings because it would require an extra bus for each scheduled game.

The best solution would be to abolish the silly rule on stopping the clock and make this a game of basketball instead of one which is becoming more and more like the NBA type — big scores and slow games.

Kearns Hits 28; Phelan Scores 22 for Indians

Wallkill Central's UCAL basketball powerhouse came on strong in the second half to batter Onteora Central, 72,52, Wednesday night at Wallkill.

It was the fourth league victory in five starts for the southern Ulster brigade which led 32-25 at the half.

For Coach Wes Kissel's Indians it was their fourth straight setback in the county loop.

Wallkill's brilliant center, Harold Kearns, again did yeoman work for the winners. He potted 28 points on 11 fields and six free throws and was the general take-charge guy.

Three other Wallkillians moved into double figures, as George Drottman canned 14. Dennis Muller 11 and Bob Wensley 13.

Phelan Scores 22

John Phelan sparkled for Onteora with 22 points, 18 from the field. John Mower added 14 and Linden Frasier hit 11.

Onteora stayed within range in the first half, trailing 32-25 but was outplayed, 40-27, after the intermission.

Tony's Pizza Checks Sportsmen in A Loop, 68-64

Uhl Scores 29 For the Winners

Tony's Pizza bounced back from a 29-25 halftime deficit to edge Sportsman's Park, 68 to 64, in the YMCA "A" basketball league Wednesday night.

In a "B" contest, City Hall Tavern galloped to a 24-8 first quarter lead and went on to crush Spada's Sport Shop, 64 to 45.

Jumpin' Joe Uhl occupied his customary role as high scorer with 29 markers for Tony's. He bagged all but three of the points from scrimmage.

The Pizza boys went ahead with a 23-10 third period bulge and held off the Sportsmen in the stretch run. Vince Smedes assisted the winning cause with 19 points.

Fiore Cans 20

City Hall's margin over Spada's was a bit of a surprise but most of the damage was done in the first half when the winners piled up a 32-15 margin.

Texas U. Mentor Darrell Royal Is Coach of the Year

NEW YORK (AP)—"You've got to get those bounces to win the close games," Darrell Royal said. "I just got the bounces."

The brilliant young coach of the University of Texas, college football's Coach of the Year, is the first to admit that he's no superman in his profession.

"There were a dozen teams last season that might have licked us on a given day, just as we might lick them," he said. "Some games are decided by five snaps of the ball. The line between victory and defeat is a thin one."

Extreme modesty and a sound sense of values are the trademark of the clean-cut, 39-year-old former Oklahoma quarterback who was picked by his contemporaries Wednesday as having done the best coaching job in 1963.

Coach of the Year

Royal was picked as the major college Coach of the Year and the man who once almost hired him, paunchy Bill Edwards of Wittenberg, set a precedent by winning the small college award for the second year in a row.

They were honored by a dinner Wednesday night at which they received the annual Kodak plaques. Also honored was the retired General of the Armies Douglas MacArthur, who was presented the first Tuss McLaughry Award given to an individual who has distinguished himself in service to others.

Royal led the Texas Longhorns through an unbeaten 10-game campaign, to a victory over Navy in the Cotton Bowl and the undisputed national championship. Edwards' Wittenberg team won eight games and tied one.

"I guess I've just got a lot of friends," Edwards, who while head coach at Vanderbilt once almost hired Royal as backfield aide, said modestly.

Bailey Cagers To Open Friday

Don Sweeney, coach of the J. Watson Bailey School basketball team, has listed this season's roster. The new school will open this Friday against visiting Newburgh South.

The schedule:

Strike at Santa Anita Causing Million $ Loss

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—There are no winners these days at strikebound Santa Anita. The state is losing $200,000 a day in racing revenue, the track is losing $2.5 million, the employes are losing a day's pay and the horses are restless.

The main issue: A union proposal that the track provide health and welfare coverage for retired employes. Wages are not an issue.

On Tuesday Santa Anita President Robert P. Strub said the track is thinking of going out of business and converting the 400-acre site to shopping and apartment house use.

Nordic Ski Club Elects Officers On January 15

The newly-formed Rosendale Nordic Ski Club, Inc., will elect 15 directors and line officers at a meeting scheduled Jan. 15 at 8 p. m. in the Rosendale firehouse. Originally scheduled last night, the meeting date was changed because of the organizational meeting of the Rosendale town board.

Members in good standing will ballot for 15 directors. Five line officers will be elected from the directors.

The club's by-laws and constitution were adopted on Dec. 17, 1963. Affiliation was voted with the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association, the ruling body of the sport. The affiliation insures officially sanctioned jumping tournaments for the club.

The nominating committee which was appointed on Dec. 17 is expected to recommend 13 names at the Jan. 15 meeting. Two others will be nominated from the floor.

Nominees Listed

Directors and officers will be elected by secret ballot but the public, whether members or not, is invited to participate in the discussion. A report is scheduled on the progress being made to re-establish ski jumping and cross country skiing, the Nordic combination once again in Rosendale.

Membership in the Rip Van Winkle Ski Council, an organization of 10 Hudson Valley and Catskill mountain ski clubs, has already been granted the Rosendale group. The Nordic Club's application for membership with the USEASA will be considered at the Jan. 11 meeting of the national group and acceptance is almost automatic.

Wawarsing Sport Club Meeting Set. Jan. 14

Officers and directors of the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association for 1964 will be elected and installed at the annual meeting of the organization at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the association clubhouse at Honk Lake, Napanoch.

Preceding the business meeting, a committee of volunteers will prepare and serve a full course roast beef dinner to all members and guests at 6:30 p. m. sharp.

Organized in 1938 and incorporated in 1951, Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association, with a 215 membership in 1963, has continuously since its organization grown and thrived over this period of 25 years to take its place as one of the strongest in the community of Wawarsing Township, especially in the field of sports, hunting and fishing. It has long been one of the most cooperative members of the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County.

Completed in 1954

Its present clubhouse property consisting of 85 acres of conservation dedicated land and clubhouse with clambake shed was purchased and completed in 1954. The facilities of the club are in use every week of the year either by the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association, the Izaak-Walton League, Ellenville Chapter or other less fortunate clubs which need the use of the facilities as well as members and relatives for wedding parties, anniversaries and other similar functions. These factors enhance the excellent public relations enjoyed by the sportsmen in this part of the county.

Nowhere's Last Year but Illini Comeback Champ

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

From nowhere to the Rose Bowl championship in two seasons—that was the story of the Illinois football team that made the Comeback of the Year in 1963.

Just two years ago the Illini had just about hit the bottom in Big Ten football. They lost nine straight games and their prospects of improvement looked dim. In 1962 they won two and lost seven but finished eighth in the Big Ten standings.

In September of 1963, Illinois promised to have a better team but even Coach Pete Elliott didn't expect to do much better than break even. He figured the comparatively inexperienced Illini were a year or two away from being title contenders in their tough conference. But the boys surprised him by winning seven games, losing one and tying one to win the Big Ten title and the trip to the Rose Bowl, where they beat Washington 17-7 New Year's Day.

That feat was picked as the Comeback of the Year by sports writers and broadcasters voting in the annual Associated Press year-end poll. It was a close contest with four individual athletes and two other teams that made notable 1963 comebacks standing high in the voting.

The Illini drew 29 votes for first place, 29 for second and 20 for third out of 145 ballots and a total of 174 points on a 3-2-1 scoring basis. Second with 124 points was Sandy Koufax, the strong Los Angeles Dodgers southpaw, who recovered from an injury-plagued season and pitched the Dodgers to the world baseball championship. Third with 115 was Julius Boros, who won his second U.S. Open Golf Championship 11 years after winning his first.

Other top contenders for comeback honors included the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League with 94 points, Dick Stuart of the Boston Red Sox with 74, the baseball Dodgers 65 and Jim Martin of the football Baltimore Colts 54.

Billy Joe Honored

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—The Sportswriters Association will honor Billy Joe, the American Football League's rookie of the year, at its 60th annual dinner on Jan. 27, it was disclosed today. Joe, a former football and track star at Villanova, gained 648 yards in 151 carries this season for Denver to establish a rookie record in the AFL.

STOOD THE TEST—Paul Harney, who stood off the challenge of first one then another rival to win the $50,000 Los Angeles Open golf tournament, gives the prize money a smile. He won the tournament by one stroke.

SCHOLASTIC CORNER

By ED PALLADINO

After more than three weeks of observation, including doing a job of clock watching, we have come to the conclusion that the rules makers should leave the game of basketball alone.

Each year, these gentlemen come up with something different and it's getting so that spectators attending basketball games are going to have to purchase a book of rules to know what's going on.

THE LATEST TRAVESTY

There are several changes in the rules for the 1963-64 season, but our concern is the one which says that the clock must be stopped every time the whistle blows — whether it be for a violation, a foul, a jump ball or just a simple out-of-bounds play.

According to the officials manual, this is supposed to increase the actual playing time by approximately two-and-a-half minutes. That is pure hogwash. Some games have been as many as 20 minutes longer, especially jayvee contests where the players are not quite the caliber of the varsity performers.

BIGGER BURDEN ON OFFICIALS

The new time-out rule puts a bigger burden on officials, who already carry a huge one. They are now required to handle the ball on all out of bounds situations. Formerly, they handled it only in the forecourt. The old rule called for stopping the clock only on jump balls, fouls, unnecessary delay and timeouts.

Procedure to inform the timer is for officials to hold their hand, palm up, to stop the clock, then signal the violation. However, even if that isn't done, the timer just has to remember that the clock is automatically stopped each time the whistle blows.

To our way of thinking, this new rule hinders a team with speed. It automatically takes away the fast break because the officials has to hand the ball to the player tossing it inbounds.

One argument in favor of the new rule is that it enables the official to keep the game under control at all times. However, games which used to be finished in a little more than an hour, are now taking more than an hour and a half.

We think this rule will be abolished after this year. There's just too much sentiment against it.

OTHER RULES CHANGES

The rules committee has done away with subterfuges to gain officials' time-outs, eliminating all for "fixing equipment" — such as shoes, laces, etc — and a team will be charged with a time-out for such things, except in the case of lost contact lenses or dislodged eyeglasses.

The defense is getting the breaks in the new interpretation which allows a defensive man to jump in front of an offensive player who has the ball, as long as he maintains a guarding position. If the latter runs into the body of the defender, the foul is on the offensive player. At one time the benefit of the doubt went to the player with the ball.

The offense is also charged with the contact bonus on pivot plays. So long as the defensive player maintains a "paper-thin" space between himself and a back-to-the-basket shooter, the latter fouls if he backs or turns into the defender.

Actually, the rules have been the same since 1954 but the interpretation, at least in these cases, now aids the defense.

AN EARLIER START

Teams in the UCAL and DCSL may have to follow the DUSO pattern and start jayvee games at 6:30. If not, varsity games might run as late as 11 o'clock.

Another solution might be to play jayvee contests in the afternoon. This might not meet the approval of those who control the budget strings because it would require an extra bus for each scheduled game.

The best solution would be to abolish the silly rule on stopping the clock and make this a game of basketball instead of one which is becoming more and more like the NBA type — big scores and slow games.

Kearns Hits 28; Phelan Scores 22 for Indians

Wallkill Central's UCAL basketball powerhouse came on strong in the second half to batter Onteora Central, 72,52, Wednesday night at Wallkill.

It was the fourth league victory in five starts for the southern Ulster brigade which led 32-25 at the half.

Wallkill's brilliant center, Harold Kearns, again did yeoman work for the winners. He potted 28 points on 11 fields and six free throws and was the general take-charge guy.

Three other Wallkillians moved into double figures, as George Drottman canned 14. Dennis Muller 11 and Bob Wensley 13.

Phelan Scores 22

John Phelan sparkled for Onteora with 22 points, 18 from the field. John Mower added 14 and Linden Frasier hit 11.

Onteora stayed within range in the first half, trailing 32-25 but was outplayed, 40-27, after the intermission.

Coach Richard Becker's unbeaten Jayvees ran their winning streak to seven with an impressive 62-52 victory in the preliminary.

Uhl Scores 29 For the Winners

Tony's Pizza bounced back from a 29-25 halftime deficit to edge Sportsman's Park, 68 to 64, in the YMCA "A" basketball league Wednesday night.

In a "B" contest, City Hall Tavern galloped to a 24-8 first quarter lead and went on to crush Spada's Sport Shop, 64 to 45.

Jumpin' Joe Uhl occupied his customary role as high scorer with 29 markers for Tony's. He bagged all but three of the points from scrimmage.

The Pizza boys went ahead with a 23-10 third period bulge and held off the Sportsmen in the stretch run. Vince Smedes assisted the winning cause with 19 points.

Fiore Cans 20

Tom Fiore potted 20 points for Sportsman's Park, Steward Harris added 19 and Bob Smith furnished 11.

City Hall's margin over Spada's was a bit of a surprise but most of the damage was done in the first half when the winners piled up a 32-15 margin.

Wawarsing Sport Club Meeting Set. Jan. 14

Officers and directors of the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association for 1964 will be elected and installed at the annual meeting of the organization at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the association clubhouse at Honk Lake, Napanoch.

Preceding the business meeting, a committee of volunteers will prepare and serve a full course roast beef dinner to all members and guests at 6:30 p. m. sharp.

Organized in 1938 and incorporated in 1951, Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association, with a 215 membership in 1963, has continuously since its organization grown and thrived over this period of 25 years to take its place as one of the strongest in the community of Wawarsing Township, especially in the field of sports, hunting and fishing. It has long been one of the most cooperative members of the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County.

Completed in 1954

Its present clubhouse property consisting of 85 acres of conservation dedicated land and clubhouse with clambake shed was purchased and completed in 1954. The facilities of the club are in use every week of the year either by the Wawarsing Sportsmen's Association, the Izaak-Walton League, Ellenville Chapter or other less fortunate clubs which need the use of the facilities as well as members and relatives for wedding parties, anniversaries and other similar functions. These factors enhance the excellent public relations enjoyed by the sportsmen in this part of the county.

Texas U. Mentor Darrell Royal Is Coach of the Year

NEW YORK (AP)—"You've got to get those bounces to win the close games," Darrell Royal said. "I just got the bounces."

The brilliant young coach of the University of Texas, college football's Coach of the Year, is the first to admit that he's no superman in his profession.

"There were a dozen teams last season that might have licked us on a given day, just as we might lick them," he said. "Some games are decided by five snaps of the ball. The line between victory and defeat is a thin one."

Extreme modesty and a sound sense of values are the trademark of the clean-cut, 39-year-old former Oklahoma quarterback who was picked by his contemporaries Wednesday as having done the best coaching job in 1963.

Coach of the Year

Royal was picked as the major college Coach of the Year and the man who once almost hired him, paunchy Bill Edwards of Wittenberg, set a precedent by winning the small college award for the second year in a row.

They were honored by a dinner Wednesday night at which they received the annual Kodak plaques. Also honored was the retired General of the Armies Douglas MacArthur, who was presented the first Tuss McLaughry Award given to an individual who has distinguished himself in service to others.

Royal led the Texas Longhorns through an unbeaten 10-game campaign, to a victory over Navy in the Cotton Bowl and the undisputed national championship. Edwards' Wittenberg team won eight games and tied one.

"I guess I've just got a lot of friends," Edwards, who while head coach at Vanderbilt once almost hired Royal as backfield aide, said modestly.

Strike at Santa Anita Causing Million $ Loss

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—There are no winners these days at strikebound Santa Anita. The state is losing $200,000 a day in racing revenue, the track is losing $2.5 million, the employes are losing a day's pay and the horses are restless.

The trouble began when contract negotiations collapsed Monday. The Building Service Union sent pickets to the track's main gate in protest.

The main issue: A union proposal that the track provide health and welfare coverage for retired employes. Wages are not an issue.

On Tuesday Santa Anita President Robert P. Strub said the track is thinking of going out of business and converting the 400-acre site to shopping and apartment house use.

Nowhere's Last Year but Illini Comeback Champ

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

From nowhere to the Rose Bowl championship in two seasons—that was the story of the Illinois football team that made the Comeback of the Year in 1963.

Just two years ago the Illini had just about hit the bottom in Big Ten football. They lost nine straight games and their prospects of improvement looked dim. In 1962 they won two and lost seven but finished eighth in the Big Ten standings.

In September of 1963, Illinois promised to have a better team but even Coach Pete Elliott didn't expect to do much better than break even. He figured the comparatively inexperienced Illini were a year or two away from being title contenders in their tough conference. But the boys surprised him by winning seven games, losing one and tying one to win the Big Ten title and the trip to the Rose Bowl, where they beat Washington 17-7 New Year's Day.

That feat was picked as the Comeback of the Year by sports writers and broadcasters voting in the annual Associated Press year-end poll. It was a close contest with four individual athletes and two other teams that made notable 1963 comebacks standing high in the voting.

The Illini drew 29 votes for first place, 29 for second and 20 for third out of 145 ballots and a total of 174 points on a 3-2-1 scoring basis. Second with 124 points was Sandy Koufax, the strong Los Angeles Dodgers southpaw, who recovered from an injury-plagued season and pitched the Dodgers to the world baseball championship. Third with 115 was Julius Boros, who won his second U.S. Open Golf Championship 11 years after winning his first.

Other top contenders for comeback honors included the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League with 94 points, Dick Stuart of the Boston Red Sox with 74, the baseball Dodgers 65 and Jim Martin of the football Baltimore Colts 54.

Billy Joe Honored

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—The Sportswriters Association will honor Billy Joe, the American Football League's rookie of the year, at its 60th annual dinner on Jan. 27, it was disclosed today. Joe, a former football and track star at Villanova, gained 648 yards in 151 carries this season for Denver to establish a rookie record in the AFL.

Five Straight For St. Mary's; Top CYO Jr. Loop

St. Mary's of Kingston notched their fifth straight win in the Ulster County CYO junior Division yesterday by dumping St. Joseph's 59-47 in a contest played at George Washington School.

Vince Fisher led the winners with 22 points while his team mate, Greg Munson, split the nets for 15. Bill Egan was high scorer for the losers with 15 points.

St. Mary's maintained the lead all the way. They had a narrow 26-23 margin at halftime, but pulled away for 33 points in the second half, while holding St. Joe's to 24.

Bowlers Like Prize Schedule

Bowlers in the Kingston Bowling Association have enthusiastically endorsed the present prize policy of the KBA's annual championship tournament.

Secretary Dick Waltman recently conducted a survey in which all league secretaries were asked to poll their membership on how they felt about the tournament prize list policy.

The bowlers were asked to decide among (1) the present policy; (2) reduced number of places with greater prizes, and (3) more places with reduced prizes.

One hundred nine bowlers responded, with the following results: 93 favored the present policy; 12 voted for paying fewer places with increased prizes and only 4 favored paying more positions with reduced prizes.

The American Bowling Congress, the parent body of the sport, recommends a minimum of one prize for every 10 entries. The current KBA schedule does much better than that, Waltman said.

The committee voted to meet January 28 to prepare the prize list and complete all details pertaining to the tournament. The 27th annual renewal starts Feb. 8 with opening ceremonies and the rolling of the team event at Ferraro's Bowlerama on the East Chester Street by-pass.

New Selvy Hits High At Furman

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Furman's Selvy of the Sixties isn't Frank, but he's earnest.

David Selvy, who has stumbled more than once while trying to follow the footsteps of his brother Frank, hit the high point total of his career Wednesday night with a 25-point effort that carried Furman to a 74-63 Southern Conference basketball victory over Richmond.

Ten years ago, Furman's Frank Selvy was a month away from his 100-point output against Newberry, one giant step in the most fantastic single season ever recorded in major college annals. When the entries all were posted, Selvy had scored 1,209 points for a 41.7 average.

Three years ago, David Selvy came to Furman. The temptation was to label him "another Frank." He wasn't.

Slow Sophomore

He scored only 71 points in 16 games as a sophomore—Frank scored more in three quarters—then was held out of action last season by Coach Lyles Alley. And going into the game against Richmond, David had only a 13-point average this season.

But the 6-foot-2 junior had that Selvy touch against the Spiders. Richmond led 51-42 when David took over. He sank seven of eight shots from the field, put the Paladins ahead to stay 58-57 with four minutes remaining and wound up with 16 points in a torrid eight-minute stretch.

Loyola in Breeze

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago got 25 points from Les Hunter and 24 from Ron Miller in a 96-80 victory over Marquette, and 10th-ranked Duke tightened its hold on first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference race by edging Clemson 81-75.

Rich Katstra equalled his season's output of 25 points as he led Virginia to a 66-53 triumph over North Carolina State, Rick Barry scored 35 points in Miami of Florida's 97-92 decision over Jacksonville and Georgia Tech downed South Carolina 87-73.

In other games, Navy crushed Long Island U. 93-57, Louisville defeated Kentucky Wesleyan 72-63, Colgate overwhelmed Florida Southern 117-85, LaSalle walloped Lafayette 100-86 Miami of Ohio belted Kent State 85-68 and Ohio belted Kent State 85-68 and Temple edged St. John's, N.Y. 62-57.

Rios Scores 27 Pts. in Varsity Contest in CYO

Varsity One pulled out to a 10-4 lead in the first quarter and held a 22-7 lead at halftime. They outscored the losers 21-14 in the second half to put the game on ice. Rios scored his 27 points on 12 field goals and three free tosses.

Pinup Boys' Problem

Will King Koufax Fade Like The Other Banquet Beauties

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The first National League pitcher to strike out more than 300 batters in a season and a 25-game winner who was the star of the World Series is in terrific demand.

So, Koufax of the Los Angles Dodgers is going to a lot of places. His itinerary includes an appearance before Las Vegas footlights and in Edmondton, Alta., and at the Sportsman's Show in Boston.

A leading question is whether Koufax will fade like a lot of other baseball banquet beauties. With the number of dinners increasing since World War II, this has become a problem of baseball's pinup boys.

Cold roast beef and wrinkled peas night in and night out, being up late and travel hasn't done any of them any good. Most of them will tell you that the $20,000 or so picked up from 30 to 40 stops didn't nearly compensate for the damage done.

The Musial Case

StanleyMusial had the poorest (for him) of his early campaigns with St. Louis after making the rounds on the heels of the Cardinals' last world championship in 1946. Stan the Man got going later than usual the next spring and had to undergo an appendectory at season's end.

While he always preferred a guest, the greatest of the Red Birds took mighty good care not to get involved in anything as nerve-wracking as that again.

Remember Turley?

Bob Turley of the New York Yankees became the prize picker-upper of plaques when he won the Cy Young Award in 1958. All the bicarbonate of soda in the country couldn't have helped Bullet Bob after a whirlwind tour. He hasn't been the same since. At 33 he will be the pitching coach of the Boston Red Sox and nobody wants coaches at banquets. They're anonymous.

Dick Groat was the National League's Most Valuable Player, batting .325 in 1960 and bounced around the country by popular demand. Groat rarely had a night at home with his family and during the merry-go-round pointed out that it might affect his play.

It did, and while Groat came back to a great extent in 1962, the Pittsburgh club slipped and the front office suspected that the shortstop had lost a step or two. He was traded to St. Louis.

SANDY KOUFAX
"Pickerup of plaques"

The Maris Speeches

Roger Maris' speeches were confined to one line, "I thank you very much for this beautiful plaque," but after the Yankee's Rajah hit 61 home runs in 1961, the output dropped to 33 in '62 and he was of little help last trip.

Ralph Terry also was a victim of the banquet circuit. In 1962 Terry won 23 for the Yankees and then went on to hurl two winning games in the 1962 World Series. Last season he slumped to a 17-won, 15-lost record and his contribution in the disastrous Series with Los Angeles was limited to three innings in relief.

Maury Wills told filet mignon munchers all around the wheel that he didn't see any reason why he shouldn't steal 104 bases again. The best Wills could do was 40 and while the little Dodger shortstop batted better than .300 the year wasn't nearly as spectacular as the preceding one.

A leg injury which forced him to take time out early last season was a masked blessing for the weary Wills. It gave him the rest required to put him back on his fleet feet.

The Exceptions

There are exceptions proving the rule that ballplayers making extensive safari on the banquet circuit suffer. Lou Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and the Dodgers' Larry Sherry did well after being the most sought-after dinner guests during the off-seasons of 1957-58 and '59-60, respectively.

But the Dodgers can only hope that being away from home cooking so long won't take too much out of Sandy Koufax.

Finley Is Confident A's Go To Louisville

CHICAGO (AP) — There are those who think Charles O. Finley doesn't have a chance even to reach first base, let alone steal home with a whole baseball team.

But the 45-year-old Chicago insurance executive still insists he is moving his Kansas City Athletics to Louisville, where he has signed a conditional two-year contract with the state of Kentucky.

He needs eight votes to approve the shift when the 10 American League club owners, or their representatives, meet with league President Joe Cronin in New York next Thursday.

Arthur C. Allyn, president of the Chicago White Sox, thinks Finley will be dispossessed of his franchise.

"By signing a contract with the state of Kentucky, he has committed a breach of trust with Kansas City, and Joe Cronin would be within his rights in picking up the Kansas City franchise to be operated by the league until a new owner takes over," Allyn told the Chicago Sun-Times.

Finley Undisturbed

But Finley, whose latest move is to telegraph punches with Cronin, is so confident that his move will be approved "after the owners have had an opportunity to analyze the true facts" he says he is going to go ahead with plans for Louisville.

"We'll wear bluegrass green and Fort Knox gold uniforms," he says. "And we'll be called either the Louisville Athletics or the Louisville Sluggers."

"Now that we've got Rocky Colavito and Jim Gentile, as well as Ed Charles, I rather like the name Sluggers."

Meanwhile, Cronin directed Finley by telegram Wednesday to refrain from making any further arrangements for transferring the club. Finley sent a hotly-worder reply back to the league president in Boston.

Several hours after these exchanges, the Kentucky legislature, in joint resolution by the General Assembly, requested Cronin, the league's directors and members "to give their serious and studied consideration to the advantages inherent in the relocation of the Athletics to Louisville to the end that accomplishment is assured."

An Awful Lot, But Too Late

But the last quarter comeback, achieved mostly against reserves, was to no avail. Fern Creek won 105-98.

Last Minute Bet Worth $54,789.

The man waited until the last minute to walk up to the cashier's window. He showed the clerk a Florida driver's license, signed an income tax form, asked that his identity be kept a secret and walked away with a check for his winnings.

Costello Runs 30 in Opener

Teams representing Fondino and Grimaldi Masonry and Carpino's Insurance racked up six points each in the opening round of the Buster Ferraro Pocket Billiard Classic last night at the Golden Cue.

Bill Costello pocketed a high run of 30 to trounce Bob East, 100-79, and Peppy Cardinale topped Harold Quick, 100-89, for the Carpino sweep.

In other matches, Buster Ferraro (20) defeated Jim Burns, 100-35; Dave Holly (22) won over Tony Gentile, 100-82; Jim Berardi defeated John Amendola, 100-79; and George Ticefelt topped Jim Davide (17) by a score of 100 to 95.

Trailing the two top teams in points were: J & C Drywall, 4.45; Wiedy's Furniture, 4.29; Shapiro Paints, 4.29; Berardi Construction, 3.35; Modjeska Sign Studios, 3.21; Garraghan Oil, 2.12.

Bowlers Like Prize Schedule

Bowlers in the Kingston Bowling Association have enthusiastically endorsed the present prize policy of the KBA's annual championship tournament.

Secretary Dick Waltman recently conducted a survey in which all league secretaries were asked to poll their membership on how they felt about the tournament prize list policy.

The bowlers were asked to decide among (1) the present policy; (2) reduced number of places with greater prizes, and (3) more places with reduced prizes.

One hundred nine bowlers responded, with the following results: 93 favored the present policy; 12 voted for paying fewer places with increased prizes and only 4 favored paying more positions with reduced prizes.

The American Bowling Congress, the parent body of the sport, recommends a minimum of one prize for every 10 entries. The current KBA schedule does much better than that, Waltman said.

The committee voted to meet January 28 to prepare the prize list and complete all details pertaining to the tournament. The 27th annual renewal starts Feb. 8 with opening ceremonies and the rolling of the team event at Ferraro's Bowlerama on the East Chester Street by-pass.

New Selvy Hits High At Furman

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Furman's Selvy of the Sixties isn't Frank, but he's earnest.

David Selvy, who has stumbled more than once while trying to follow the footsteps of his brother Frank, hit the high point total of his career Wednesday night with a 25-point effort that carried Furman to a 74-63 Southern Conference basketball victory over Richmond.

Ten years ago, Furman's Frank Selvy was a month away from his 100-point output against Newberry, one giant step in the most fantastic single season ever recorded in major college annals. When the entries all were posted, Selvy had scored 1,209 points for a 41.7 average.

Three years ago, David Selvy came to Furman. The temptation was to label him "another Frank." He wasn't.

Slow Sophomore

He scored only 71 points in 16 games as a sophomore—Frank scored more in three quarters—then was held out of action last season by Coach Lyles Alley. And going into the game against Richmond, David had only a 13-point average this season.

But the 6-foot-2 junior had that Selvy touch against the Spiders. Richmond led 51-42 when David took over. He sank seven of eight shots from the field, put the Paladins ahead to stay 58-57 with four minutes remaining and wound up with 16 points in a torrid eight-minute stretch.

Loyola in Breeze

Third-ranked Loyola of Chicago got 25 points from Les Hunter and 24 from Ron Miller in a 96-80 victory over Marquette, and 10th-ranked Duke tightened its hold on first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference race by edging Clemson 81-75.

Rich Katstra equalled his season's output of 25 points as he led Virginia to a 66-53 triumph over North Carolina State, Rick Barry scored 35 points in Miami of Florida's 97-92 decision over Jacksonville and Georgia Tech downed South Carolina 87-73.

In other games, Navy crushed Long Island U. 93-57, Louisville defeated Kentucky Wesleyan 72-63, Colgate overwhelmed Florida Southern 117-85, LaSalle walloped Lafayette 100-86 Miami of Ohio belted Kent State 85-68 and Ohio belted Kent State 85-68 and Temple edged St. John's, N.Y. 62-57.

Rios Scores 27 Pts. in Varsity Contest in CYO

Varsity One pulled out to a 10-4 lead in the first quarter and held a 22-7 lead at halftime. They outscored the losers 21-14 in the second half to put the game on ice. Rios scored his 27 points on 12 field goals and three free tosses.

Pinup Boys' Problem

Will King Koufax Fade Like The Other Banquet Beauties

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The first National League pitcher to strike out more than 300 batters in a season and a 25-game winner who was the star of the World Series is in terrific demand.

So, Koufax of the Los Angles Dodgers is going to a lot of places. His itinerary includes an appearance before Las Vegas footlights and in Edmondton, Alta., and at the Sportsman's Show in Boston.

A leading question is whether Koufax will fade like a lot of other baseball banquet beauties. With the number of dinners increasing since World War II, this has become a problem of baseball's pinup boys.

Cold roast beef and wrinkled peas night in and night out, being up late and travel hasn't done any of them any good. Most of them will tell you that the $20,000 or so picked up from 30 to 40 stops didn't nearly compensate for the damage done.

The Musial Case

StanleyMusial had the poorest (for him) of his early campaigns with St. Louis after making the rounds on the heels of the Cardinals' last world championship in 1946. Stan the Man got going later than usual the next spring and had to undergo an appendectory at season's end.

While he always preferred a guest, the greatest of the Red Birds took mighty good care not to get involved in anything as nerve-wracking as that again.

Remember Turley?

Bob Turley of the New York Yankees became the prize picker-upper of plaques when he won the Cy Young Award in 1958. All the bicarbonate of soda in the country couldn't have helped Bullet Bob after a whirlwind tour. He hasn't been the same since. At 33 he will be the pitching coach of the Boston Red Sox and nobody wants coaches at banquets. They're anonymous.

Dick Groat was the National League's Most Valuable Player, batting .325 in 1960 and bounced around the country by popular demand. Groat rarely had a night at home with his family and during the merry-go-round pointed out that it might affect his play.

It did, and while Groat came back to a great extent in 1962, the Pittsburgh club slipped and the front office suspected that the shortstop had lost a step or two. He was traded to St. Louis.

SANDY KOUFAX
"Pickerup of plaques"

The Maris Speeches

Roger Maris' speeches were confined to one line, "I thank you very much for this beautiful plaque," but after the Yankee's Rajah hit 61 home runs in 1961, the output dropped to 33 in '62 and he was of little help last trip.

Ralph Terry also was a victim of the banquet circuit. In 1962 Terry won 23 for the Yankees and then went on to hurl two winning games in the 1962 World Series. Last season he slumped to a 17-won, 15-lost record and his contribution in the disastrous Series with Los Angeles was limited to three innings in relief.

Maury Wills told filet mignon munchers all around the wheel that he didn't see any reason why he shouldn't steal 104 bases again. The best Wills could do was 40 and while the little Dodger shortstop batted better than .300 the year wasn't nearly as spectacular as the preceding one.

A leg injury which forced him to take time out early last season was a masked blessing for the weary Wills. It gave him the rest required to put him back on his fleet feet.

The Exceptions

There are exceptions proving the rule that ballplayers making extensive safari on the banquet circuit suffer. Lou Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and the Dodgers' Larry Sherry did well after being the most sought-after dinner guests during the off-seasons of 1957-58 and '59-60, respectively.

But the Dodgers can only hope that being away from home cooking so long won't take too much out of Sandy Koufax.

Finley Is Confident A's Go To Louisville

CHICAGO (AP) — There are those who think Charles O. Finley doesn't have a chance even to reach first base, let alone steal home with a whole baseball team.

But the 45-year-old Chicago insurance executive still insists he is moving his Kansas City Athletics to Louisville, where he has signed a conditional two-year contract with the state of Kentucky.

He needs eight votes to approve the shift when the 10 American League club owners, or their representatives, meet with league President Joe Cronin in New York next Thursday.

The session is called to mediate Finley's stadium lease dispute with Kansas City.

"By signing a contract with the state of Kentucky, he has committed a breach of trust with Kansas City, and Joe Cronin would be within his rights in picking up the Kansas City franchise to be operated by the league until a new owner takes over," Allyn told the Chicago Sun-Times.

Finley Undisturbed

But Finley, whose latest move is to telegraph punches with Cronin, is so confident that his move will be approved "after the owners have had an opportunity to analyze the true facts" he says he is going to go ahead with plans for Louisville.

"We'll wear bluegrass green and Fort Knox gold uniforms," he says. "And we'll be called either the Louisville Athletics or the Louisville Sluggers."

"Now that we've got Rocky Colavito and Jim Gentile, as well as Ed Charles, I rather like the name Sluggers."

Meanwhile, Cronin directed Finley by telegram Wednesday to refrain from making any further arrangements for transferring the club. Finley sent a hotly-worder reply back to the league president in Boston.

Several hours after these exchanges, the Kentucky legislature, in joint resolution by the General Assembly, requested Cronin, the league's directors and members "to give their serious and studied consideration to the advantages inherent in the relocation of the Athletics to Louisville to the end that accomplishment is assured."

An Awful Lot, But Too Late

But the last quarter comeback, achieved mostly against reserves, was to no avail. Fern Creek won 105-98.

Last Minute Bet Worth $54,789.

The man waited until the last minute to walk up to the cashier's window. He showed the clerk a Florida driver's license, signed an income tax form, asked that his identity be kept a secret and walked away with a check for his winnings.

All Roads (and Expressways) Lead to the Fair

1. Long Island Expressway.
2. Van Wyck Expressway.
3. Long Island Railroad station.
4. Grand Central Parkway.
5. Lake amusement area of fair.
6. Industrial exhibits.
7. International countries exhibits.
8. Federal and state exhibition areas.
9. One of the four huge parking areas.
10. 12-story high U.S. Steel Unisphere.
11. 15,000 seat open-air arena.
12. Shea stadium, new home of the New York Mets baseball team.

Eastern Areas Are Hit by Rain, Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain, rain mixed with snow and snow hit broad areas in the eastern two-thirds of the nation today and colder air from the west spread east and southward from the Rockies.

A storm centered in the lower Mississippi Valley spread moist air from the Gulf inland, causing heavy rain in the southeastern quarter of the nation. Amounts ranged from more than one to three inches in parts of the rain belt.

Light snow and rain mixed with snow splashed across wide sections of the Midwest. The cold air, which dropped temperatures below zero in parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, and the Dakotas, headed eastward across the upper Great Lakes and the northern half of the Mississippi Valley.

Snow of four to six inches was indicated in parts of Michigan, with light snow and rain in most of the eastern third of the nation.

Eisenhower, Truman Differ On Official Succeeding VP

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman disagree over whether an elected or an appointed official should be next in line for the presidency after a vice president succeeds to the office.

The two men, along with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., discussed the compexities of presidential succession in a series of filmed interviews, televised Wednesday night by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Eisenhower said that when a vice president succeeds to the office of president on the latter's death, the next in line for the top job should be the secretary of state, an appointed official.

This was the system until 1947 when the law was changed with the backing of then President Truman.

Under the change, still in effect, next in line of succession after the vice president is the speaker of the House, followed by the president pro-tem of the Senate, both elected officials.

Truman said he did not believe that any president should have the right to appoint his successor, as he would have if the secretary of state was second in line. He said he thought the successor should be a man who holds an elective office.

Truman said an even bettter method would be to have the Electoral College fill the job of vice president after the latter succeeds to the presidency.

Nixon agreed. He said the vice president who becomes president should be authorized to convene the Electoral College within 30 days to fill the vacancy.

Both Nixon and Eisenhower disagreed with a proposal by Keating that two vice presidents be elected at four-year intervals. Nixon said that would downgrade the office.

Brush Fire Forces Evacuation at Malibu

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — A brush fire whipped by strong winds broke out on the west side of Malibu Canyon this morning and forced the evacuation of residents in the Malibu Knolls area.

Men and equipment rushed to fight the blaze that quickly swept 10 acres and was out of control.

The district is not far from the beach where movie colony personalities have many lavish homes.

Fire Capt. Carl Salih said the fire started in a dwelling and spread to brush.

Firemen said northeast winds of 15 miles per hour were blowing down the canyon.

Faces Assault Charge

Donald Kidney, 22, of 112 Spring Street, was arrested early today on a third degree assault charge on complaint of his wife, Marion. City court hearing was adjourned today until Friday to permit him time to obtain counsel. The arrest followed a call for police at 4:35 a. m. The defendant was released in his own recognizance.

Tapes Dogs Barking To Play for Neighbors

A few months ago, Yolton complained to Hayward police that dogs owned by next-door-neighbor Dominic Magri were disturbing him with their howling and barking. Nothing happened.

So Yolton tape-recorded the doggy noises.

The Magri dogs don't bark when the tape recorder plays. They just listen to the recording of their own barking.

Now Magri has complained to police. Not to get Yolton arrested, he explains, but "just to set the record straight."

Oswald's Widow To Write Book On Life, Marriage

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Marina Oswald plans to write a book about her life in Russia and her marriage with Leee Harvey Oswald, the Dallas Morning News said today.

The widow, 22, whose business manager said Wednesday had accepted as a fact that her husband assassinated President John F. Kennedy, would get professional help in writing the book, the newspaper said.

It said a Grand Prairie lawyer, John M. Thorne, was to discuss the projected book with an executive from a major publishing company.

The Russian-speaking Marina has "picked up considerable English, enough to talk with you conversationally, but not enough to do a book," Thorne was quoted as saying.

Wednesday, Mrs. Oswald's business advisor, James H. Martin, said Oswald's erratic behavior made it easier for his widow to accept the evidence which police say proves he shot Kennedy.

Martin said Oswald had changed since returning to the United States from Russia, where he and Marina married.

"He became more moody, more unhappy," Martin said.

Mrs. Oswald and her two young daughters remain under Secret Service guard somewhere in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, but are reportedly free to move about.

Earlier, Mrs. Oswald told friends she hoped to stay here and get a job. In Russia, she worked as a pharmacist when she met Oswald.

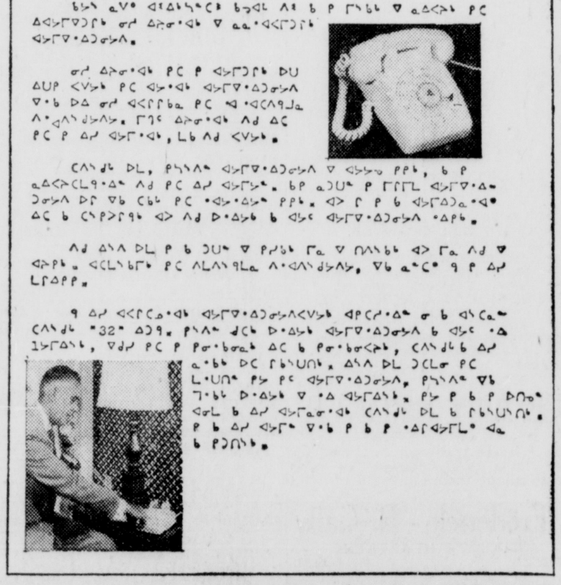

An immigration spokesman said Wednesday she would have to live in the United States five years before being eligible for citizenship.

Parkers Pay $43,349

City Treasurer M. G. Richardson today reported a 1963 city parking meter total of $43,349.47. This was $9,108.78 under the 1962 total of $52,458.25. About mid-year in 1962 the rates were lowered from the former minimum of five cents to permit use of pennies in the meters. A December, 1963 total of $3,902.02, however, was $84.41 above the $3,817.61 reported in December, 1962. The December, 1963 total was $525.02 above that in November of that year largely due to Christmas shopping. The November total was $3,377.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

IT'S ALL CREE TO THEM—When Cree Indians along the shores of James Bay in northern Ontario got their first telephones, the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada had a little problem—explaining to them just how the things worked. Thanks to the Rt. Rev. H. E. Hives, Bishop of Kenora, a company letter was translated into the Cree language. Part of it is reproduced above. The letter begins: "This is to explain what a telephone is and how it works. A telephone is shown in the picture. A long time ago a man named Alexander Graham Bell discovered. . . ."

Eastern Areas Are Hit by Rain, Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain, rain mixed with snow and snow hit broad areas in the eastern two-thirds of the nation today and colder air from the west spread east and southward from the Rockies.

A storm centered in the lower Mississippi Valley spread moist air from the Gulf inland, causing heavy rain in the southeastern quarter of the nation. Amounts ranged from more than one to three inches in parts of the rain belt.

Light snow and rain mixed with snow splashed across wide sections of the Midwest. The cold air, which dropped temperatures below zero in parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, and the Dakotas, headed eastward across the upper Great Lakes and the northern half of the Mississippi Valley.

Snow of four to six inches was indicated in parts of Michigan, with light snow and rain in most of the eastern third of the nation.

Eisenhower, Truman Differ On Official Succeeding VP

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman disagree over whether an elected or an appointed official should be next in line for the presidency after a vice president succeeds to the office.

The two men, along with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., discussed the compexities of presidential succession in a series of filmed interviews, televised Wednesday night by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Eisenhower said that when a vice president succeeds to the office of president on the latter's death, the next in line for the top job should be the secretary of state, an appointed official.

This was the system until 1947 when the law was changed with the backing of then President Truman.

Under the change, still in effect, next in line of succession after the vice president is the speaker of the House, followed by the president pro-tem of the Senate, both elected officials.

Truman said he did not believe that any president should have the right to appoint his successor, as he would have if the secretary of state was second in line. He said he thought the successor should be a man who holds an elective office.

Truman said an even bettter method would be to have the Electoral College fill the job of vice president after the latter succeeds to the presidency.

Nixon agreed. He said the vice president who becomes president should be authorized to convene the Electoral College within 30 days to fill the vacancy.

Both Nixon and Eisenhower disagreed with a proposal by Keating that two vice presidents be elected at four-year intervals. Nixon said that would downgrade the office.

Brush Fire Forces Evacuation at Malibu

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — A brush fire whipped by strong winds broke out on the west side of Malibu Canyon this morning and forced the evacuation of residents in the Malibu Knolls area.

Men and equipment rushed to fight the blaze that quickly swept 10 acres and was out of control.

The district is not far from the beach where movie colony personalities have many lavish homes.

Fire Capt. Carl Salih said the fire started in a dwelling and spread to brush.

Firemen said northeast winds of 15 miles per hour were blowing down the canyon.

Faces Assault Charge

Donald Kidney, 22, of 112 Spring Street, was arrested early today on a third degree assault charge on complaint of his wife, Marion. City court hearing was adjourned today until Friday to permit him time to obtain counsel. The arrest followed a call for police at 4:35 a. m. The defendant was released in his own recognizance.

Tapes Dogs Barking To Play for Neighbors

A few months ago, Yolton complained to Hayward police that dogs owned by next-door-neighbor Dominic Magri were disturbing him with their howling and barking. Nothing happened.

So Yolton tape-recorded the doggy noises.

And, at 3 a.m. night after night, he played them back at full volume from a window facing the Magri home.

The Magri dogs don't bark when the tape recorder plays. They just listen to the recording of their own barking.

Now Magri has complained to police. Not to get Yolton arrested, he explains, but "just to set the record straight."

Oswald's Widow To Write Book On Life, Marriage

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Marina Oswald plans to write a book about her life in Russia and her marriage with Leee Harvey Oswald, the Dallas Morning News said today.

The widow, 22, whose business manager said Wednesday had accepted as a fact that her husband assassinated President John F. Kennedy, would get professional help in writing the book, the newspaper said.

It said a Grand Prairie lawyer, John M. Thorne, was to discuss the projected book with an executive from a major publishing company.

The Russian-speaking Marina has "picked up considerable English, enough to talk with you conversationally, but not enough to do a book," Thorne was quoted as saying.

Wednesday, Mrs. Oswald's business advisor, James H. Martin, said Oswald's erratic behavior made it easier for his widow to accept the evidence which police say proves he shot Kennedy.

Martin said Oswald had changed since returning to the United States from Russia, where he and Marina married.

"He became more moody, more unhappy," Martin said.

Mrs. Oswald and her two young daughters remain under Secret Service guard somewhere in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, but are reportedly free to move about.

Earlier, Mrs. Oswald told friends she hoped to stay here and get a job. In Russia, she worked as a pharmacist when she met Oswald.

An immigration spokesman said Wednesday she would have to live in the United States five years before being eligible for citizenship.

Parkers Pay $43,349

City Treasurer M. G. Richardson today reported a 1963 city parking meter total of $43,349.47. This was $9,108.78 under the 1962 total of $52,458.25. About mid-year in 1962 the rates were lowered from the former minimum of five cents to permit use of pennies in the meters. A December, 1963 total of $3,902.02, however, was $84.41 above the $3,817.61 reported in December, 1962. The December, 1963 total was $525.02 above that in November of that year largely due to Christmas shopping. The November total was $3,377.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF CANADA

IT'S ALL CREE TO THEM—When Cree Indians along the shores of James Bay in northern Ontario got their first telephones, the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada had a little problem—explaining to them just how the things worked. Thanks to the Rt. Rev. H. E. Hives, Bishop of Kenora, a company letter was translated into the Cree language. Part of it is reproduced above. The letter begins: "This is to explain what a telephone is and how it works. A telephone is shown in the picture. A long time ago a man named Alexander Graham Bell discovered. . . ."
